Envoys Call On Molotov; More Meetings Seen

Current Four-Power Negotiations Proceed Slowly But Smoothly

MOSCOW, Aug. 6 (AP) — United States, British and French envoys will hold more meetings with Russian officials before any final agreements materialize as a result of the current four-power talks, it was learned tonight.

A highly-informed source said there may be another conference with the Russians tomorrow, but this is unlikely. A meeting Sunday seems more probable, the source said.

Today's conference with Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov was described as "very thorough." It lasted three hours. Prime Minister Stalin was not present.

At this meeting United States Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith, French Ambassador Yves Chataigneau, and Frank Roberts, special British envoy, visited the Kremlin for another try at solving East-West differences.

It appeared tonight that several more meetings may be in order before the current conversations come to an end. It was almost a certainty they would continue into next week.

No Need For Pessimism

Although the going may seem slow, it was learned on excellent authority that there is no need for pessimism. In fact, the opposite is true. It was learned that the Western Power negotiations with Molotov are proceeding smoothly.

The western envoys' conference with the Soviet Foreign Minister today lasted an hour longer than their meeting last Monday with Stalin. They emerged from it smiling but non-committal.

"We met with Molotov. No comment," Smith told newspapermen.

Obviously in a hurry to confer with his colleagues, he shifted his bulging brief case from hand to hand.

Roberts, right behind Smith, replied to correspondents:

"You heard what he said didn't you—no comment."

Chataigneau was all smiles and said nothing.

All three went directly to the American Embassy where they compared notes and ideas.

(London dispatches said diplomatic circles there believed the Western Powers had submitted specific questions which they believed should be discussed at a new four-power conference on Berlin, Germany and perhaps Europe.

Early Announcement Seen

(The dispatches said an announcement may be made this weekend of the time, place and scope of a new meeting of the Foreign Ministers Council. State Department spokesmen in Washington said no agreement on such a meeting has yet been reached.

(A meeting of Secretary of State George Marshall, Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman might be preceded by a get-together of their deputies to lay the groundwork.

(The last two meetings of the Foreign Ministers Council—in Moscow, March 10 to April 25, 1947, and in London, November 25 to December 15, 1947—ended in a deadlock on peace treaties for Germany and Austria.)

Producers May Drop Charges Against Lewis

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6 (AP)—The failure-to-bargain charge filed by the Southern Coal Producers Association angainst John L. Lewis' miners may be dropped.

That is, if the association succeeds in an effort to get a signed agreement from Lewis on the association's future bargaining status.

Lewis refused to deal with the association's president, Joseph A. Moody, in the recent coal negotiations. So Moody filed the charges with the NLRB which got a court injunction compelling Lewis to bargain with Moody.

The NLRB charges still are pending. However, NLRB's hearing on them has been postponed from next Tuesday to October 12 at the union's request.

Rep. McDowell Charges Uranium Sent To Russia As Late As 1945

"MOM" GETS DIPLOMA-- Mrs. Virginia Geary, who graduated from Duquesne University, Pittsburgh, yesterday after 13 years of study sandwiched between marriage, housework and four children, shows her diploma to her son, Kevin, 4. She has another son, 8, and 11-month-old twins. (Story at bottom of page).

Senators Suspend Probe; Say Truman Withholding Facts

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6. (AP)—The United States shipped Russia a "significant" amount of uranium metal — the base stuff of atomic bombs—as late as 1945, Rep. McDowell (R-Pa) told the House today.

He said it followed up shipments of 2,700 pounds of uranium compounds in 1943, when Russia was asking for the rare material by the ton.

McDowell is a member of the House Committee on Un-American Activities which has been conducting a series of sensational hearings into tales of Communist spying in wartime Washington.

The committee took a breather today, but did so with a flourish. Acting Chairman Mundt (R-SD) said a picked group from the committee had been dispatched to a secret rendezvous with a mystery witness. The point of contact was not disclosed.

Senators Shut Down Hearing

Senate investigators, who have been conducting a parallel inquiry into the alleged Red Spy ring, shut down their hearings, too, after a brief morning session. Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich) complained that an order from President Truman has caused the withholding of loyalty files they need to check on charges of Communist infiltration into the government.

McDowell first told the Un-American Activities Committee about uranium shipments yesterday, saying that a total of 1,300 pounds of compounds of the radioactive element had been shipped to the Soviets in 1943.

He more than doubled those figures today in his speech to the House.

In addition to the 1,300 pounds, he said, 200 pounds of uranium oxide and 220 pounds of uranium nitrate, furnished by the S. W. Shattuck Chemical Company of Denver, were shipped by air from Great Falls, Mont., to Moscow. Also, McDowell reported, 500 pounds of uranium nitrate and 500 pounds of black uranium oxide were furnished by the Canadian Radium and Uranium Corporation, transported to Great Falls, and sent from there to Moscow.

Sent "To Appease" Soviets

McDowell said those shipments, made in 1943, were sent to Col. A. N. Kotikov, of the Soviet Government Purchasing Commission.

The actual uranium metal went in 1945, he said, declaring it was sent to the Soviets "to appease them." He told reporters he "understands" the amount was some 25 pounds.

McDowell told reporters later that Russia had asked for the uranium compounds to use for medical purposes and experiments in physics. While Russia was suffering heavy war casualties at the time, McDowell said he thought the Soviets really wanted the material for atomic research and to get a line on what this country was doing.

The Pennsylvania Congressman said that after Russia succeeded in getting the 1943 shipments, it "came back and wanted 15 tons."

"But by that time somebody woke up," he said, "and so far as I know this order was not permitted to be filled."

Remington Fired From Commerce Job, Mundt Says

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6 (AP) — Rep. Mundt (R-SD) said tonight that William W. Remington, of the Commerce Department, who has been accused of supplying information to a Russian spy network, "has been removed from his job."

Mundt said on a radio program that this is one useful result that has come from congressional investigation of Soviet espionage activities.

Last Monday night Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer said that Remington had been placed on "indefinite leave" back in June and had been relieved of his duties.

A spokesman for the department said tonight that was still the situation — that Remington had not been fired.

B-29s Cut World "Down To Size"

TUCSON, Ariz., Aug. 6. (AP)—Space-slashing B-29s roared in and out of Davis-Monthan Air Force base today, cutting the world down to unimpressive size from a military standpoint.

Two Superfortresses completed the first round-the-world flight by the big bombers as dawn was breaking.

Stepping from the first plane to hit the runway, Lt. Col. Richard W. Kline, Haskell, Tex., remarked:

"Round-the-world flights can now be classed as routine stuff for B-29s."

Three hours earlier, eight Superfortresses of the 20th Squadron had thundered into the darkness on a one-stop, 6,000-mile flight to Lakenheath, England. A second squadron will leave early tomorrow and a third Sunday.

All of these flights are classified as part of the Strategic Air Command's rotation training program to familiarize crews with overwater flights and regional weather conditions in other parts of the world.

At Marshall Field near Fort Riley, Kas., a B-29 made an emergency landing because it was short of fuel. It was only 40 miles away from its goal, the Smoky Hill Air Force base at Salina, Kas.

But it was nearly 24 hours and 5,120 miles away from its takeoff point—across the world in Furstenfeldbruck, Germany.

Planned To Fire Studebaker, Head Of FSA Declares

Ewing Says Former Aide Irresponsible

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6 (AP) — Federal Security Administrator Oscar R. Ewing, on the griddle for his dealings with a cook and a commissioner, today:

1. Said former Commissioner of Education John W. Studebaker used such poor judgement he had planned to fire him. But, said Ewing, he "beat me to the gun" by resigning.

2. Flatly denied Studebaker's charges accusing Ewing of poor administration and of suppressing Office of Education attacks against Communism.

3 Acknowledged that he had used a government hospital cook to prepare meals at the FSA. But, he explained, the Budget Bureau had assured him the procedure was proper and added it will continue.

Labels Charges "Poppycock"

His blast against Studebaker followed a letter from Studebaker released to newspapers last January, accusing Ewing of interfering with the Office of Education program for promoting democracy in schools.

Ewing told a news conference that this was all "pure poppycock and irrelevant and irresponsible innuendo." He said it doesn't require a sensitive nose to detect "an aroma of politics and pique."

Studebaker said one of his staff member's speeches criticizing Communism had been censored. Ewing said today that Studebaker had failed to mention that another part of the speech had been deleted which called congressmen "miserable objects" and worse.

"Where would we be if a thing like that got out?" he asked.

Absent 121 Days In Year

As to Studebaker, Ewing said he had planned to discharge him because he was absent from his post so often on personal business. He said Studebaker was in San Diego and Los Angeles for 121 days during the year April 1947 to April 1948.

Ewing said the Federal Communications Commission granted a license August 1, 1947 to Studebaker, his son and another person for a radio station in San Diego.

He said Studebaker was very resentful when questioned about his absence from his office.

In San Diego, where he is now visiting his son, Studebaker said he was unaware when he resigned as United States commissioner of education July 15 that Ewing was planning to fire him.

Greek Rebel Leaders Reported In Albania

ATHENS, Aug. 6 (AP)—The "provisional government" of Markos Vafiades was reported to have fled into Albania today as Greek troops laid a 30-mile semi-circle of fire around the last bit of territor held by Communist rebels.

Press dispatches said the guerrillas mounted seven fierce counter-attacks on the east side of the perimeter to hold open their last remaining supply route to Albania along the Aliakmon River through Sliminitsa. The counterattacks against government positions on captured Amouda ridge east of the route were repulsed, a government communique said. Press reports said the guerrilla "government" then crossed the border at Sliminitsa.

At Least 22 Hurt When Bus Upsets

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 6. (AP)—At least 22 persons were hospitalized in Charleston after a Parkersburg-bound Atlantic Greyhound bus left the highway and overturned today three and a half miles from Sissonville.

State police said the driver of the bus, Alvin Craig, Charleston Route 3, was in Kanawa Valley Hospital with a broken leg and other injuries.

One of the ambulance drivers who went to the scene expressed belief that none of the passengers had been critically injured.

Brad Boggess, who lives near the scene, which is about 20 miles north of here, said "it seemed that something must have happened to the bus."

Troopers Quell Election Strife In Benton, Tenn.

Gunplay Leaves Two Dead, Five Wounded; Crump Machine Loses

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 6 (AP)—The potent E. H. Crump political dynasty of Memphis and a lesser Democratic organization long allied with it in Tennessee went down in stunning defeat today as the final ballots were counted from yesterday's violence-punctuated elections.

While unofficial tabulations told a story of the Crump organization's thrashing in the state-wide Democratic primary, the National Guard moved into Benton in Southeast Tennessee to quell continuing election strife which has left two dead and five wounded following a Polk County general election.

And the bi-partisan Good Government League in Polk claimed a thumping victory, with the exception of three justice of the peace races, in its effort to unseat the Democratic organization of former Sheriff Burch Biggs, which has controlled Polk for 18 years. The Biggs organization frequently has co-operated with Crump in state primaries.

The landslide which engulfed the Crump forces was such as Crump himself had buried his opposition without setback in 20 years.

Crump's choice for the state's two top nominations—for United States senator and for governor — were soundly whipped.

Crump's choice for governor, Incumbent Jim McCord, seeking a third two-year term, carried only the Tenth (Shelby County-Memphis) District and the First District in Republican East Tennessee. His senatorial candidate, John A. Mitchell, carried only his home district, the Fourth in Middle Tennessee, and the Tenth. The state has 10 districts.

Victors in the senatorial and gubernatorial contests were Rep. Estes Kefauver, veteran of 10 years in the lower house of Congress, and Gordon Browning.

Kefauver was nominated to the senate seat now held by Tom Stewart, who sought re-election. Browning was nominated for the Governor's seat he won for one term in 1937.

Democratic nomination in Tennessee usually means election.

Troopers Enter Benton

BENTON, Tenn., Aug. 6 (AP)—National Guardsmen with bayonets rolled into this gun-bristling Southeastern Tennessee county seat today to quell continuing election strife which has left two reported dead and five wounded.

The troopers came at the direction of Gov. Jim McCord as tension ran high in a county general election dispute which flared up yesterday.

They were preceded a few minutes by a second ambush shooting within 24 hours. The first ended in the death of one man and the wounding of another. In subsequent gunplay another man was slain and four persons wounded.

Today's ambush attack was di-

Hospital Ordered To Free Baby Held For $198 Bill

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Aug. 6 (AP)—A state Supreme Court justice today ordered release of an eight-week-old baby from a hospital which, the infant's mother claimed, refused to let the child go because of an unpaid hospital bill.

Justice William F. Santry issued a writ of habeas corpus directing Wilson Memorial Hospital in nearby Johnson City in Southern New York to release the son of Mrs. William Engle.

Mrs. Engle claimed hospital authorities refused to let her take the baby home yesterday unless she signed a note or made arrangements to pay a $198 hospital bill for care of the child. Mrs. Engle said she was unable to pay the bill because the family had "very heavy medical expenses."

LAUNCHES BOYCOTT-- A meat boycott campaign was launched at Kansas City, Mo., yesterday by Mrs. Edward S. Munneke (above), 25-year-old former WAVE. She is calling 50 friends and asking each of them to telephone five others, in support of a seven-day meat-buying strike to start Monday. After that period, she urges three meatless days a week until present high prices drop. She holds several cold cuts which she used in explaining the high cost of meat to reporters.

Air Rules Broken, Reds Say; Hint At "Force-Downs"

62 Violations In Five Days Charged

BERLIN, Aug. 6 (AP) — The official Soviet news agency charged tonight that British and American airplanes violated flight regulations 62 times in five days and hinted that planes committing violations can be forced to land.

This was the first time since the start of the big Anglo-American aerial supply operation into Soviet-blockaded Berlin that the Russians have mentioned the possibility of forcing planes down.

Previously, the Russian-controlled press had talked of declaring closed one or two of the three air corridors to Berlin from Western Germany.

The official Russian agency ANB said there are specific regulations for forcing down planes which fly over unauthorized areas.

The agency said the 62 violations occurred between July 31 and August 4, and consisted of low-level flights over Soviet airports and towns.

Currency Negotiations Collapse

On the currency front, western occupation authorities announced that attempts to reach satisfactory arrangements for the release of blocked East-mark accounts "have now been brought to nothing because of the insistence of the bank of issue (in the Russian sector) upon clearly unacceptable conditions."

Consequently, the three Western Powers authorized loans in West-marks for western sector firms whose East-marks have been blocked so they could pay wages.

The British said yesterday the Russians had relaxed the money blockade to the extent of releasing enough funds for the city government to meet its week end payments. However, it was reported tonight that the city had only been able to get a trickle of its estimated needs.

The official Soviet news agency reported tonight that the Russians handed a note to the British yesterday protesting against "organized currency speculation" in the British sector.

French Families Evacuated

According to the agency, the Russians demanded the immediate closing of German-operated currency exchange offices which recently were opened in the western sectors. The agency described Berlin as "lying within the Soviet zone and economically part of it."

Evening newspapers said one West-mark brought two marks, 40 pfennings of Soviet-issued currency, while it took two marks, 70 pfennings of Russian money, to buy one West-mark.

Supply difficulties resulting from the Soviet blockade of Berlin prompted French authorities to announce today they were evacuating "as many French families as possible" from the city.

Government Sees Food Prices Going Higher

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6 (AP)—Retail food prices are likely to go still higher during the next few months, the Agriculture Department said today.

Meats and other livestock products will lead the advance.

A department report on the national food situation said two factors appear likely to push prices higher:

(1) Record consumer buying power, and (2) a decline in the output of meats and other livestock products.

Heads For Bridal Date Attached To Ball And Chain

Flaugher is to marry Miss Lucille Hemminger, 19, in a ceremony at Edmore, Mich., Sunday. Just before he boarded his plane for Grand Rapids, fellow students seized him, and quickly padlocked a chain about his ankle.

He yelled for the key. The key, it seemed, had been mailed to Lucille.

Dewey Gets First 'No' From Capitol

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6. (AP)—Republican Presidential Nominee Thomas E. Dewey got his first "no" from Capitol Hill today when a Senate subcommittee turned down his request to liberalize the displaced persons bill at this special session.

Sen. Revercomb (R-WVa) said Dewey asked revision of the law, which has been criticized by a number of Republicans and Democrats on the ground that it discriminates against many Jews and Catholics.

Revercomb, chairman of the Judiciary Subcommittee, said "I emphatically deny" that the bill is discriminatory. Revercomb added that the issue cannot be "dealt with in haste or under pressure" and should be explored at hearing at the regular congressional session next year.

The D.P. law, passed at the last session, says 205,000 European war refugees shall be admitted to the United States in the next two years.

Critics of the law, including President Truman, have centered their fire on a section which says the refugees must have entered displaced persons camps or occupied zones before December 27, 1945. The critics say thousands of Jews and many Catholics could not enter the camps until after the end of 1945.

An amendment was offered to change the date to April 21, 1947.

But the Senate subcommittee turned down the request today by a 2-2 tie vote after two days of closed hearings. (A tie vote rejects a proposition).

Kentuckians Vote Today

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 6 (AP) — Kentucky voters will choose Republican and Democratic candidates tomorrow for one United States Senate seat and for nine places in the House of Representatives.

Set To Approve Anti-Inflation, Housing Bills

President Is Defied As Senate Passes Housing Compromise

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6—(AP)—Congress defied President Truman tonight by preparing to pass its own anti-inflation and housing bills tomorrow and then go home.

With GOP leaders in firm control, the legislature paid no attention to Mr. Truman's demand that it stop concocting "feeble compromises" and adopt his cost-of-living and housing programs.

The Senate passed a home-building bill minus the slum clearance and low-rent housing subsidies the administration asked. Leaders expected House approval tomorrow.

The Senate decided to vote at 3 p. m., EST, tomorrow on the GOP anti-inflation bill, already passed by the House. It is designed to restore wartime curbs on installment buying, and to restrict bank credit.

Democrats, in a last-ditch and probably futile effort, will try to substitute the Truman program of rationing and wage-control powers.

If all goes according to GOP plan, the extra session the President called will be over late tomorrow afternoon, and the legislators will be on their way home, probably to be followed by new denunciations from the White House.

Fear Deflation, Taft Says

A preview of one reply the Republicans will make in the coming campaign wars was given by Sen. Taft, of Ohio, Republican leader.

He told the Senate many persons have expressed the opinion that if Congress goes too far in applying the economic brakes, a dangerous deflation may result.

"I think that there is a very fair hope that this economy may be stabilized," Taft said. "We are fairly near a stable economy."

Senate passage of the housing bill came after a fight which split Republican ranks.

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) worked up a compromise bill that contained many of the provisions of the T-E-W bill, but ignored government subsidized projects.

In a surprise move yesterday, the Senate Banking Committee decided to disregard McCarthy's compromise measure and offer, instead, the T-E-W bill. Argument was bitter and heated over this decision, with Sen. Tobey (R-NH), chairman of the Banking Committee, championing the T-E-W bill.

Committee Overridden

But the Senate today overrode its Banking Committee and voted 48 to 36 to substitute McCarthy's measure for the T-E-W bill. Approval of the substitute came on a voice vote later.

Sen. Taft, one of the authors of the T-E-W bill, advocated passage of the compromise, saying the other and more comprehensive measure could wait for the regular session in January.

Youth Charged With Killing Bishop's Ward

BOLTON, Mass., Aug. 6 (AP) — A 19-year-old boy was held without bail on a charge of murder today after police arrested him as the gunman who shot and hacked to death a 17-year-old boy and then narrowly missed killing a Protestant Episcopal bishop who once befriended him.

Frederick S. Pike showed no emotion as he pleaded innocent in Clinton District Court to the brutal slaying of Paul Zayka, a ward for 10 years of Massschusetts Suffragan Bishop Raymond A. Heron.

Inspector Anthony S. Lacaire said Pike was surprised by Zayka in the Bishop's farm home. After a wild struggle which splattered blood about the rooms Zayka died from three bullet wounds and two ax blows, La Caire said.

Mother Of 4 Wins Degree After 13 Years Of Study

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 6 (AP)—Thirteen years of night school study, sandwiched between baby-tending, housework and cooking, today paid off for dark-haired Mrs. Virginia Geary. She finally got her college diploma.

The 32-year-old mother of four children graduated from Duquesne University with a bachelor of science degree.

"Mark said he'd rather stay home and play tiddlede-winks," his mother explained.

Mrs. Geary, who worked as a stenographer, started to the Duquesne night school in 1935. She had completed two years of work when she met and married a young law student, Martin Geary.

She continued the night school course until young Mark was born. That event cost her a year-and-half of school. Kevin turned out to be a more convenient baby and she lost no school-time with him.

Then came the twins last September Mrs. Geary didn't get back to school until February.

Her husband, now a successful lawyer, did the baby-sitting at night so his wife could attend classes.

Mrs. Geary graduated from the School of Commerce and would like some day to work in foreign trade. But not just now.

"I'm going to concentrate on raising my family," she declared. "I'll rest a year—then I'm going back to school for my master's degree."

Ex-Sunday School Teacher Argues "Men Only Devils"

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Aug. 6 (AP) — ex-Sunday school teacher who took to the air tonight against four preachers about the existence of Satan and hell bolstered his argument with the dictum that "men are the only devils."

Alexander W. Andrews, Shadyside, Md., who for 30 years taught in a Methodist Sunday school, had the negative side of radio debate on "is there a devil and a hell?"

His speech and those of clerymen who took up his challenge to prove existence of Satan were delivered over Station WASL.

The ministers were emphatic in their declarations that the devil does exist, and Theological Student Jerry H. Simpson, Jr., Bethlehem, Pa., put it this way:

"Satan means the enemy of God, it does not mean a sinister cloven-hoofed, red-skinned person with horns on his head."

Rev. Robert C. Smoot, pastor of North Avenue Presbyterian Church, Baltimore, said that "we do not accept this challenge because of any fiendish misanthropy.

"We accept because God's word has been challenged, which unmistakeably teaches that there is a real hell and a real devil."

The Bible repeatedly "refers to Satan in no uncertainty as to that fiend's existence," said Rev. James L. Smiley, 83-year-old vicar of St. Anne's Episcopal Church here.

"Hell is terrible, but only temporary. Annihilation is the fate of hell and all the wicked in the second death," Mr. Smiley said.

Envoys Call On Molotov; More Meetings Seen

Current Four-Power Negotiations Proceed Slowly But Smoothly

MOSCOW, Aug. 6 (AP) — United States, British and French envoys will hold more meetings with Russian officials before any final agreements materialize as a result of the current four-power talks, it was learned tonight.

A highly-informed source said there may be another conference with the Russians tomorrow, but this is unlikely. A meeting Sunday seems more probable, the source said.

Today's conference with Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov was described as "very thorough." It lasted three hours. Prime Minister Stalin was not present.

At this meeting United States Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith, French Ambassador Yves Chataigneau, and Frank Roberts, special British envoy, visited the Kremlin for another try at solving East-West differences.

It appeared tonight that several more meetings may be in order before the current conversations come to an end. It was almost a certainty they would continue into next week.

No Need For Pessimism

Although the going may seem slow, it was learned on excellent authority that there is no need for pessimism. In fact, the opposite is true. It was learned that the Western Power negotiations with Molotov are proceeding smoothly.

The western envoys' conference with the Soviet Foreign Minister today lasted an hour longer than their meeting last Monday with Stalin. They emerged from it smiling but non-committal.

"We met with Molotov. No comment," Smith told newspapermen.

Obviously in a hurry to confer with his colleagues, he shifted his bulging brief case from hand to hand.

"You heard what he said didn't you—no comment."

Chataigneau was all smiles and said nothing.

All three went directly to the American Embassy where they compared notes and ideas.

(London dispatches said diplomatic circles there believed the Western Powers had submitted specific questions which they believed should be discussed at a new four-power conference on Berlin, Germany and perhaps Europe.

Early Announcement Seen

(The dispatches said an announcement may be made this weekend of the time, place and scope of a new meeting of the Foreign Ministers Council. State Department spokesmen in Washington said no agreement on such a meeting has yet been reached.

(A meeting of Secretary of State George Marshall, Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman might be preceded by a get-together of their deputies to lay the groundwork.

(The last two meetings of the Foreign Ministers Council—in Moscow, March 10 to April 25, 1947, and in London, November 25 to December 15, 1947—ended in a deadlock on peace treaties for Germany and Austria.)

Producers May Drop Charges Against Lewis

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6 (AP)—The failure-to-bargain charge filed by the Southern Coal Producers Association against John L. Lewis' miners may be dropped.

That is, if the association succeeds in an effort to get a signed agreement from Lewis on the association's future bargaining status.

Lewis refused to deal with the association's president, Joseph A. Moody, in the recent coal negotiations. So Moody filed the charges with the NLRB which got a court injunction compelling Lewis to bargain with Moody.

The NLRB charges still are pending. However, NLRB's hearing on them has been postponed from next Tuesday to October 12 at the union's request.

Rep. McDowell Charges Uranium Sent To Russia As Late As 1945

"MOM" GETS DIPLOMA-- Mrs. Virginia Geary, who graduated from Duquesne University, Pittsburgh, yesterday after 13 years of study sandwiched between marriage, housework and four children, shows her diploma to her son, Kevin, 4. She has another son, 8, and 11-month-old twins. (Story at bottom of page).

Senators Suspend Probe; Say Truman Withholding Facts

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6. (AP)—The United States shipped Russia a "significant" amount of uranium metal — the base stuff of atomic bombs—as late as 1945, Rep. McDowell (R-Pa) told the House today.

He said it followed up shipments of 2,700 pounds of uranium compounds in 1943, when Russia was asking for the rare material by the ton.

McDowell is a member of the House Committee on Un-American Activities which has been conducting a series of sensational hearings into tales of Communist spying in wartime Washington.

The committee took a breather today, but did so with a flourish. Acting Chairman Mundt (R-SD) said a picked group from the committee had been dispatched to a secret rendezvous with a mystery witness. The point of contact was not disclosed.

Senators Shut Down Hearing

Senate investigators, who have been conducting a parallel inquiry into the alleged Red Spy ring, shut down their hearings, too, after a brief morning session. Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich) complained that an order from President Truman has caused the withholding of loyalty files they need to check on charges of Communist infiltration into the government.

McDowell first told the Un-American Activities Committee about uranium shipments yesterday, saying that a total of 1,300 pounds of compounds of the radioactive element had been shipped to the Soviets in 1943.

He more than doubled those figures today in his speech to the House.

In addition to the 1,300 pounds, he said, 200 pounds of uranium oxide and 220 pounds of uranium nitrate, furnished by the S. W. Shattuck Chemical Company of Denver, were shipped by air from Great Falls, Mont., to Moscow. Also, McDowell reported, 500 pounds of uranium nitrate and 500 pounds of black uranium oxide were furnished by the Canadian Radium and Uranium Corporation, transported to Great Falls, and sent from there to Moscow.

Sent "To Appease" Soviets

McDowell said those shipments, made in 1943, were sent to Col. A. N. Kotikov, of the Soviet Government Purchasing Commission.

The actual uranium metal went in 1945, he said, declaring it was sent to the Soviets "to appease them." He told reporters he "understands" the amount was some 25 pounds.

McDowell told reporters later that Russia had asked for the uranium compounds to use for medical purposes and experiments in physics. While Russia was suffering heavy war casualties at the time, McDowell said he thought the Soviets really wanted the material for atomic research and to get a line on what this country was doing.

The Pennsylvania Congressman said that after Russia succeeded in getting the 1943 shipments, it "came back and wanted 15 tons."

"But by that time somebody woke up," he said, "and so far as I know this order was not permitted to be filled."

Troopers Quell Election Strife In Benton, Tenn.

Gunplay Leaves Two Dead, Five Wounded; Crump Machine Loses

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 6 (AP)—The potent E. H. Crump political dynasty of Memphis and a lesser Democratic organization long allied with it in Tennessee went down in stunning defeat today as the final ballots were counted from yesterday's violence-punctuated elections.

While unofficial tabulations told a story of the Crump organization's thrashing in the state-wide Democratic primary, the National Guard moved into Benton in Southeast Tennessee to quell continuing election strife which has left two dead and five wounded following a Polk County general election.

And the bi-partisan Good Government League in Polk claimed a thumping victory, with the exception of three justice of the peace races, in its effort to unseat the Democratic organization of former Sheriff Burch Biggs, which has controlled Polk for 18 years. The Biggs organization frequently has co-operated with Crump in state primaries.

The landslide which engulfed the Crump forces was such as Crump himself had buried his opposition without setback in 20 years.

Crump's choice for the state's two top nominations—for United States senator and for governor — were soundly whipped.

Crump's choice for governor, Incumbent Jim McCord, seeking a third two-year term, carried only the Tenth (Shelby County-Memphis) District and the First District in Republican East Tennessee.

His senatorial candidate, John A. Mitchell, carried only his home district, the Fourth in Middle Tennessee, and the Tenth. The state has 10 districts.

Victors in the senatorial and gubernatorial contests were Rep. Estes Kefauver, veteran of 10 years in the lower house of Congress, and Gordon Browning.

Kefauver was nominated to the senate seat now held by Tom Stewart, who sought re-election. Browning was nominated for the Governor's seat he won for one term in 1937.

Democratic nomination in Tennessee usually means election.

Troopers Enter Benton

BENTON, Tenn., Aug. 6 (AP)—National Guardsmen with bayonets rolled into this gun-bristling Southeastern Tennessee county seat today to quell continuing election strife which has left two reported dead and five wounded.

The troopers came at the direction of Gov. Jim McCord as tension ran high in a county general election dispute which flared up yesterday.

They were preceded a few minutes by a second ambush shooting within 24 hours. The first ended in the death of one man and the wounding of another. In subsequent gunplay another man was slain and four persons wounded.

Today's ambush attack was di-

LAUNCHES BOYCOTT-- A meat boycott campaign was launched at Kansas City, Mo., yesterday by Mrs. Edward S. Munneke (above), 25-year-old former WAVE. She is calling 50 friends and asking each of them to telephone five others, in support of a seven-day meat-buying strike to start Monday. After that period, she urges three meatless days a week until present high prices drop. She holds several cold cuts which she used in explaining the high cost of meat to reporters.

Set To Approve Anti-Inflation, Housing Bills

President Is Defied As Senate Passes Housing Compromise

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6—(AP)—Congress defied President Truman tonight by preparing to pass its own anti-inflation and housing bills tomorrow and then go home.

With GOP leaders in firm control, the legislature paid no attention to Mr. Truman's demand that it stop concocting "feeble compromises" and adopt his cost-of-living and housing programs.

The Senate passed a home-building bill minus the slum clearance and low-rent housing subsidies the administration asked. Leaders expected House approval tomorrow.

The Senate decided to vote at 3 p. m., EST, tomorrow on the GOP anti-inflation bill, already passed by the House. It is designed to restore wartime curbs on installment buying, and to restrict bank credit.

Democrats, in a last-ditch and probably futile effort, will try to substitute the Truman program of rationing and wage-control powers.

If all goes according to GOP plan, the extra session the President called will be over late tomorrow afternoon, and the legislators will be on their way home, probably to be followed by new denunciations from the White House.

Fear Deflation, Taft Says

A preview of one reply the Republicans will make in the coming campaign wars was given by Sen. Taft, of Ohio, Republican leader.

He told the Senate many persons have expressed the opinion that if Congress goes too far in applying the economic brakes, a dangerous deflation may result.

"I think that there is a very fair hope that this economy may be stabilized," Taft said. "We are fairly near a stable economy."

Senate passage of the housing bill came after a fight which split Republican ranks.

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) worked up a compromise bill that contained many of the provisions of the T-E-W bill, but ignored government subsidized projects.

In a surprise move yesterday, the Senate Banking Committee decided to disregard McCarthy's compromise measure and offer, instead, the T-E-W bill. Argument was bitter and heated over this decision, with Sen. Tobey (R-NH), chairman of the Banking Committee, championing the T-E-W bill.

Committee Overridden

But the Senate today overrode its Banking Committee and voted 48 to 36 to substitute McCarthy's measure for the T-E-W bill. Approval of the substitute came on a voice vote later.

Sen. Taft, one of the authors of the T-E-W bill, advocated passage of the compromise, saying the other and more comprehensive measure could wait for the regular session in January.

Remington Fired From Commerce Job, Mundt Says

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6 (AP)—Rep. Mundt (R-SD) said tonight that William W. Remington, of the Commerce Department, who has been accused of supplying information to a Russian spy network, "has been removed from his job."

Mundt said on a radio program that this is one useful result that has come from congressional investigation of Soviet espionage activities.

Last Monday night Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer said that Remington had been placed on "indefinite leave" back in June and had been relieved of his duties.

A spokesman for the department said tonight that was still the situation—that Remington had not been fired.

B-29s Cut World "Down To Size"

TUCSON, Ariz., Aug. 6. (AP)—Space-slashing B-29s roared in and out of Davis-Monthan Air Force base today, cutting the world down to unimpressive size from a military standpoint.

Two Superfortresses completed the first round-the-world flight by the big bombers as dawn was breaking.

Stepping from the first plane to hit the runway, Lt. Col. Richard W. Kline, Haskell, Tex., remarked:

Three hours earlier, eight Superfortresses of the 20th Squadron had thundered into the darkness on a one-stop, 6,000-mile flight to Lakenheath, England. A second squadron will leave early tomorrow and a third Sunday.

All of these flights are classified as part of the Strategic Air Command's rotation training program to familiarize crews with overwater flights and regional weather conditions in other parts of the world.

At Marshall Field near Fort Riley, Kas., a B-29 made an emergency landing because it was short of fuel. It was only 40 miles away from its goal, the Smoky Hill Air Force base at Salina, Kas.

But it was nearly 24 hours and 5,120 miles away from its takeoff point—across the world in Furstenfeldbruck, Germany.

Planned To Fire Studebaker, Head Of FSA Declares

Ewing Says Former Aide Irresponsible

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6 (AP) — Federal Security Administrator Oscar R. Ewing, on the griddle for his dealings with a cook and a commissioner, today:

1. Said former Commissioner of Education John W. Studebaker used such poor judgement he had planned to fire him. But, said Ewing, he "beat me to the gun" by resigning.

2. Flatly denied Studebaker's charges accusing Ewing of poor administration and of suppressing Office of Education attacks against Communism.

3 Acknowledged that he had used a government hospital cook to prepare meals at the FSA. But, he explained, the Budget Bureau had assured him the procedure was proper and added it will continue.

Labels Charges "Poppycock"

His blast against Studebaker followed a letter from Studebaker released to newspapers last January, accusing Ewing of interfering with the Office of Education program for promoting democracy in schools.

Ewing told a news conference that this was all "pure poppycock and irrelevant and irresponsible innuendo." He said it doesn't require a sensitive nose to detect "an aroma of politics and pique."

Studebaker said one of his staff member's speeches criticizing Communism had been censored. Ewing said today that Studebaker had failed to mention that another part of the speech had been deleted which called congressmen "miserable objects" and worse.

"Where would we be if a thing like that got out?" he asked.

Absent 121 Days In Year

As to Studebaker, Ewing said he had planned to discharge him because he was absent from his post so often on personal business. He said Studebaker was in San Diego and Los Angeles for 121 days during the year April 1947 to April 1948.

Ewing said the Federal Communications Commission granted a license August 1, 1947 to Studebaker, his son and another person for a radio station in San Diego.

He said Studebaker was very resentful when questioned about his absence from his office.

In San Diego, where he is now visiting his son, Studebaker said he was unaware when he resigned as United States commissioner of education July 15 that Ewing was planning to fire him.

Greek Rebel Leaders Reported In Albania

ATHENS, Aug. 6 (AP)—The "provisional government" of Markos Vafiades was reported to have fled into Albania today as Greek troops laid a 30-mile semi-circle of fire around the last bit of territor, held by Communist rebels.

Press dispatches said the guerrillas mounted seven fierce counter-attacks on the east side of the perimeter to hold open their last remaining supply route to Albania along the Aliakmon River through Sliminitsa. The counterattacks against government positions on captured Amouda ridge east of the route were repulsed, a government communique said. Press reports said the guerrilla "government" then crossed the border at Sliminitsa.

At Least 22 Hurt When Bus Upsets

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 6. (AP)—At least 22 persons were hospitalized in Charleston after a Parkersburg-bound Atlantic Greyhound bus left the highway and overturned today three and a half miles from Sissonville.

State police said the driver of the bus, Alvin Craig, Charleston Route 3, was in Kanawa Valley Hospital with a broken leg and other injuries.

One of the ambulance drivers who went to the scene expressed belief that none of the passengers had been critically injured.

Brad Boggess, who lives near the scene, which is about 20 miles north of here, said "it seemed that something must have happened to the bus."

Hospital Ordered To Free Baby Held For $198 Bill

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Aug. 6 (AP)—A state Supreme Court justice today ordered release of an eight-week-old baby from a hospital which, the infant's mother claimed, refused to let the child go because of an unpaid hospital bill.

Justice William F. Santry issued a writ of habeas corpus directing Wilson Memorial Hospital in nearby Johnson City in Southern New York to release the son of Mrs. William Engle.

Mrs. Engle claimed hospital authorities refused to let her take the baby home yesterday unless she signed a note or made arrangements to pay a $198 hospital bill for care of the child. Mrs. Engle said she was unable to pay the bill because the family had "very heavy medical expenses."

Air Rules Broken, Reds Say; Hint At "Force-Downs"

62 Violations In Five Days Charged

BERLIN, Aug. 6 (AP) — The official Soviet news agency charged tonight that British and American airplanes violated flight regulations 62 times in five days and hinted that planes committing violations can be forced to land.

This was the first time since the start of the big Anglo-American aerial supply operation into Soviet-blockaded Berlin that the Russians have mentioned the possibility of forcing planes down.

Previously, the Russian-controlled press had talked of declaring closed one or two of the three air corridors to Berlin from Western Germany.

The official Russian agency ANB said there are specific regulations for forcing down planes which fly over unauthorized areas.

The agency said the 62 violations occurred between July 31 and August 4, and consisted of low-level flights over Soviet airports and towns.

Currency Negotiations Collapse

On the currency front, western occupation authorities announced that attempts to reach satisfactory arrangements for the release of blocked East-mark accounts "have now been brought to nothing because of the insistence of the bank of issue (in the Russian sector) upon clearly unacceptable conditions."

Consequently, the three Western Powers authorized loans in West-marks for western sector firms whose East-marks have been blocked so they could pay wages.

The British said yesterday the Russians had relaxed the money blockade to the extent of releasing enough funds for the city government to meet its week end payments. However, it was reported tonight that the city had only been able to get a trickle of its estimated needs.

The official Soviet news agency reported tonight that the Russians handed a note to the British yesterday protesting against "organized currency speculation" in the British sector.

French Families Evacuated

According to the agency, the Russians demanded the immediate closing of German-operated currency exchange offices which recently were opened in the western sectors. The agency described Berlin as "lying within the Soviet zone and economically part of it."

Evening newspapers said one West-mark brought two marks, 40 pfennings of Soviet-issued currency, while it took two marks, 70 pfennings of Russian money, to buy one West-mark.

Supply difficulties resulting from the Soviet blockade of Berlin prompted French authorities to announce today they were evacuating "as many French families as possible" from the city.

Government Sees Food Prices Going Higher

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6 (AP)—Retail food prices are likely to go still higher during the next few months, the Agriculture Department said today.

Meats and other livestock products will lead the advance.

A department report on the national food situation said two factors appear likely to push prices higher:

(1) Record consumer buying power, and (2) a decline in the output of meats and other livestock products.

Heads For Bridal Date Attached To Ball And Chain

It was: How to get rid of an 18-pound ball and chain—the iron variety.

Flaugher is to marry Miss Lucille Hemminger, 19, in a ceremony at Edmore, Mich., Sunday. Just before he boarded his plane for Grand Rapids, fellow students seized him, and quickly padlocked a chain about his ankle.

He yelled for the key. The key, it seemed, had been mailed to Lucille.

Dewey Gets First 'No' From Capitol

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6. (AP)—Republican Presidential Nominee Thomas E. Dewey got his first "no" from Capitol Hill today when a Senate subcommittee turned down his request to liberalize the displaced persons bill at this special session.

Sen. Revercomb (R-WVa) said Dewey asked revision of the law, which has been criticized by a number of Republicans and Democrats on the ground that it discriminates against many Jews and Catholics.

Revercomb, chairman of the Judiciary Subcommittee, said "I emphatically deny" that the bill is discriminatory. Revercomb added that the issue cannot be "dealt with in haste or under pressure" and should be explored at hearing at the regular congressional session next year.

The D.P. law, passed at the last session, says 205,000 European war refugees shall be admitted to the United States in the next two years.

Critics of the law, including President Truman, have centered their fire on a section which says the refugees must have entered displaced persons camps or occupied zones before December 27, 1945. The critics say thousands of Jews and many Catholics could not enter the camps until after the end of 1945.

An amendment was offered to change the date to April 21, 1947.

But the Senate subcommittee turned down the request today by a 2-2 tie vote after two days of closed hearings. (A tie vote rejects a proposition).

Kentuckians Vote Today

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 6 (AP) — Kentucky voters will choose Republican and Democratic candidates tomorrow for one United States Senate seat and for nine places in the House of Representatives.

Youth Charged With Killing Bishop's Ward

BOLTON, Mass., Aug. 6 (AP) — A 19-year-old boy was held without bail on a charge of murder today after police arrested him as the gunman who shot and hacked to death a 17-year-old boy and then narrowly missed killing a Protestant Episcopal bishop who once befriended him.

Frederick S. Pike showed no emotion as he pleaded innocent in Clinton District Court to the brutal slaying of Paul Zayka, a ward for 10 years of Massachusetts Suffragan Bishop Raymond A. Heron.

Inspector Anthony S. Lacaire said Pike was surprised by Zayka in the Bishop's farm home. After a wild struggle which splattered blood about the rooms Zayka died from three bullet wounds and two ax blows, La Caire said.

Mother Of 4 Wins Degree After 13 Years Of Study

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 6 (AP)—Thirteen years of night school study, sandwiched between baby-tending, housework and cooking, today paid off for dark-haired Mrs. Virginia Geary. She finally got her college diploma.

The 32-year-old mother of four children graduated from Duquesne University with a bachelor of science degree.

"Mark said he'd rather stay home and play tiddlede-winks," his mother explained.

Mrs. Geary, who worked as a stenographer, started to the Duquesne night school in 1935. She had completed two years of work when she met and married a young law student, Martin Geary.

She continued the night school course until young Mark was born. That event cost her a year-and-half of school. Kevin turned out to be a more convenient baby and she lost no school-time with him.

Then came the twins last September. Mrs. Geary didn't get back to school until February.

Her husband, now a successful lawyer, did the baby-sitting at night so his wife could attend classes.

Mrs. Geary graduated from the School of Commerce and would like some day to work in foreign trade. But not just now.

"I'm going to concentrate on raising my family," she declared. "I'll rest a year—then I'm going back to school for my master's degree."

Ex-Sunday School Teacher Argues "Men Only Devils"

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Aug. 6 (AP) — ex-Sunday school teacher who took to the air tonight against four preachers about the existence of Satan and hell bolstered his argument with the dictum that "men are the only devils."

Alexander W. Andrews, Shadyside, Md., who for 30 years taught in a Methodist Sunday school, had the negative side of radio debate on "is there a devil and a hell?"

His speech and those of clerymen who took up his challenge to prove existence of Satan were delivered over Station WASL.

The ministers were emphatic in their declarations that the devil does exist, and Theological Student Jerry H. Simpson, Jr., Bethlehem, Pa., put it this way:

"Satan means the enemy of God, it does not mean a sinister cloven-hoofed, red-skinned person with horns on his head."

Rev. Robert C. Smoot, pastor of North Avenue Presbyterian Church, Baltimore, said that "we do not accept this challenge because of any fiendish misanthropy.

"We accept because God's word has been challenged, which unmistakeably teaches that there is a real hell and a real devil."

The Bible repeatedly "refers to Satan in no uncertainty as to that fiend's existence," said Rev. James L. Smiley, 83-year-old vicar of St. Anne's Episcopal Church here.

"Hell is terrible, but only temporary. Annihilation is the fate of hell and all the wicked in the second death," Mr. Smiley said.

Nudists Discuss Button Subject

MAYS LANDING, N. J., Aug. 6. (AP)—One of the subjects discussed today at the nudist convention was buttons.

Mrs. Margaret A. B. Pulis, Oakland, N. J., was the first to mention the subject. She's president of the American Sunbathing Association, nudist national organization.

At an outdoor meeting, she urged some 400 delegates to work on a five-year plan for increased membership. In particular, she called for development of local groups of nudists.

"This can be a person to person campaign in your neighborhoods," she said. "It means button holing people and telling them of our movement."

Her father, Dr. Ilsley Boone, who operates the 150-acre Sunshine Park at which the convention is being held, also talked of buttons.

"We're going to have an old-fashioned party tonight," he said. "We'll play musical chairs and button, button, who's got the button."

When asked how nudists played the button game, he said:

"Oh, that's simple. We can hide the button in our hands or under our arms."

It was cold at the park today, goose bump weather. Many delegates came to the meeting draped in blankets or wearing shawls. The hardier ones maintained their au natural garb; Boone said no one would think of putting on conventional clothing.

Jamison Named Director Of Aviation Commission

BALTIMORE, Aug. 6 (AP)—Richard Jamison has been named director of the Maryland Aviation Commission, Chairman Philip Hayes announced today.

Jamison succeeds Peter G. Zouck who resigned to take a captain's commission in the Air Force.

New "Give-Away" Type Programs Barred By NBC

NEW YORK, Aug. 6 (AP)—The National Broadcasting Company announced tonight it would accept no new "give-away" type programs pending action of the Federal Communications Commission on its proposed new rules on radio contests.

The FCC said the new rules, disclosed yesterday, were planned as a guide in determining whether radio prize programs violated the Federal Communications Act's ban on lotteries.

An American Broadcasting Company spokesman said all the contests being broadcast on its network "have been carefully examined by counsel and are in full accord with provisions of the Communications Act."

A statement by the Mutual Broadcasting System said: "It is our present opinion from examination of the regulations in the form in which they appeared in the press, that very little of our programming would be affected in any respect.

rected at a heavily-armed motorcade bringing a disputed election box from nearby Copperhill to Benton. The driver of a car at which a single shot was fired was cut by glass fragments.

As the guardsmen entered the city, the Polk County Good Government League claimed a sweeping victory over former Sheriff Burch E. Biggs' Democratic organization. Biggs has been in power here for 18 years.

H. E. Barclay, Copperhill chairman of the GGL, proclaimed victory after leading the motorcade here with the clinching ballots cast in the county general election. He said the GGL, which entered a full slate against the Biggs' candidates, won all but three races. The latter went to opposition justice-of-peace aspirants.

Members of the opposing factions which had been openly carrying guns put them away when the word spread that the guard had arrived. The first detail included 85 officers and men.

broaden government loan insurance aids on the building of houses costing $6,000 or less. It calls for a study to standardize building codes and measurements, and would guarantee a return of 2¾ per cent on equity investments in rental properties.

The McCarthy bill also would increase by 25 per cent the secondary market for all veterans' guaranteed and FHA insured loans made after April 30, 1948, and make an additional $800,000,000 available for loans on rental housing.

The anti-inflation bill next on the Senate books calls for curbs on installment buying.

The House-approved bill, passed by a whopping 264 to 97 vote yesterday, also called for a provision boosting the Federal Reserve Bank gold reserves and increasing reserve requirements of banks which are members of the federal reserve system.

The Senate Banking Committee today slashed out the provision on gold reserves, and amended upward the amount of reserve requirements for member banks.

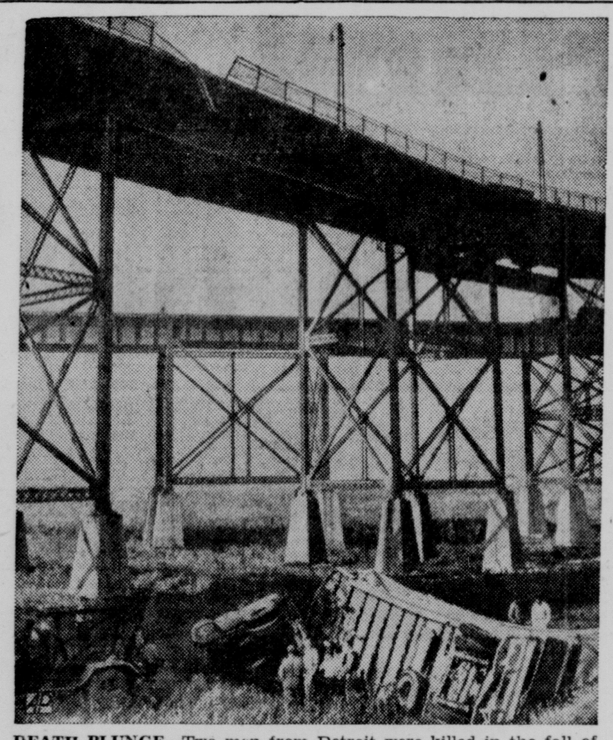
WEST VIRGINIA and WESTERN PENNSYLVANIA — Mostly sunny and a little warmer today; tomorrow increasing cloudiness with little change in temperature.

New Rice Ups Yield

MOSCOW (AP) — A new higher yield rice is being introduced in Turkmenia. The paper, "Turkmananian Izkra," said the average harvest yields about 30 percent more than the usual rice grown there. The new rice is known as "Uzros-269" and came from the Uzbek experimental stations.

Poles, Czechs Exchange

CIESZYN, Poland — (AP) — Four thousand Polish children now are attending schools on the Czech side of the Polish-Czechoslovakian frontier here. Both the Czech and Polish governments have guaranteed equal educational opportunities for children attending schools which lie in each other's territory.



DEATH PLUNGE—Two men from Detroit were killed in the fall of this trailer-truck from the east approach of MacArthur bridge on the Illinois side of the Mississippi River at East St. Louis, Ill. Police said the machine, loaded with furniture, ripped out a 10-foot section of the guard rail before it plunged 110 feet to the ground.

Budenz Says He Worked With Soviet Secret Police

HONOLULU, Aug. 6 (AP) — Louis Budenz, former Communist, testified today he worked for three years with Soviet secret police in the United States and helped establish a "connection" for Russian espionage on the American military potential in 1943.

Budenz told the Hawaii School Board he worked with Soviet secret police in connection with the assassination of Leon Trotsky in Mexico in 1940.

Budenz, now a faculty member of Fordham University, New York, but formerly managing editor of the Communist Daily Worker, is a witness under oath in a hearing on suspension of two Hawaiian educators accused of being Communists.

He testified for four hours yesterday on asserted inner workings of the Communist Party without referring to the two teachers, Dr. and Mrs. John E. Reinecke. The hearing is to determine whether their suspension last November shall be made permanent.

Ban On Women Lifted

FRANKFURT, Aug. 6 (AP)—American soldiers in Germany henceforth may entertain women in bachelor quarters.

A European command directive today rescinded a previous ban in force since January, 1947, with the exception that guests of the opposite sex still cannot be entertained in Army barracks.

Expectant Mother's Assailant Is Hunted

BALTIMORE, Aug. 6 (AP)—Mrs. Mary Chisholm, 22-year-old expectant mother, was severely beaten today on her way home from her brother's house and police have launched a wide search for her assailant.

The woman said a shabbily-dressed man attacked her with a piece of pipe he took out of his shirt after she had told him to leave her alone.

Attendants at City Hospital said she has a possible skull fracture and severe cuts and bruises.

Mrs. Chisholm's husband picked her up out of the roadway, in Northeast Baltimore, when he came driving along in his car about 15 minutes later. She had left him behind at the brother's house to walk home alone at 1:45 a. m.

Dog Leads Searchers To Missing Ohio Child

ZANESVILLE, O., Aug. 6 (AP) — Tousle-haired little Jerry Lee Huffman, 3, snuggled up a little closer to his nurse. He was glad it was all over.

Wearing his birthday suit, blue from the cold, and almost unconscious from exposure, he had just been brought to Bethesda Hospital after a night out—lost in a corn field a mile and a half from his home at Philo, 10 miles south of here.

With him was his dog, Laddie.

A posse of townspeople searched throughout the night. Other volunteers took up the hunt early today when Mayor Roy Robb, of Philo, rang the village fire alarm at 6 a. m.

Then Laddie came home, turned around, and, with a party following, went to the cornfield. There Jerry's father, Dan, and a neighbor, Charles Wickham, found the boy trapped in a wire fence.

Train Wreck Probe Finds No Prosecution "Basis"

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Aug. 6 (AP) — State's Attorney James C. Morton, Jr., said today "there is no basis" for criminal prosecution, after an investigation of a train wreck June 10 near Laurel.

One person was killed and 53 injured in the wreck of a Baltimore and Ohio passenger train.

An Interstate Commerce Commission report blamed an "unsafe" track.

Morton said in a statement that "the matter is closed" so far as Anne Arundel County is concerned.

Communist Party Chiefs Re-elected

NEW YORK, Aug. 6—(AP)—American Communists today re-elected to high party posts all 12 leaders indicted on charges of advocating the overthrow of the United States government. They also announced officially their support of Henry A. Wallace for President.

A 3,000-word platform, adopted at the final session of the party's 14th annual convention, called on all Americans "who hate Fascism to defend the rights of Communists," and lauded Russia as the world's "strongest bulwark for peace."

The platform, which announced support of Wallace instead of a presidential candidate of their own, said the Communists would back the Progressive Party without seeking any "special position" in it.

Democrats and Republicans both were denounced in the convention document for what the Communists described as their "bi-partisan war program" and "runaway inflation."

The convention urged a policy of friendship with the Soviet Union and called for the United States government to return to the "peace policies" of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

In announcing the re-election of William Z. Foster as national chairman as well as the re-election of the 11 others as members of the party's national committee, the convention asked Americans "to help explode the myth that Communists are foreign agents or advocate force and violence."

The indictments against Foster and the 11 others, returned two weeks ago by a federal grand jury, charged them with advocating and teaching the overthrow of the United States government by force and violence. All now are free on bail.

"The Gospel has mentioned many times that Jesus cast out devils," Andrews said. "As these devils were cast out of men, then presumably, men are the only devils to be found."

"The existence of a devil and hell would indicate that God had lost some of His power and glory," Andrews said.

"God has all the power needed to punish wrong doing. He needs no assistance in the form of a devil or a place of eternal torture. The breaking of His eternal laws brings its own punishment."

Complaint Backlog

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6 (AP) — The Justice Department today promised "more action" on GI complaints of irregularities in the construction, sale and financing of veterans' housing.

As of a month ago, the department said, there was a backlog of 30,000 such complaints on file with the Housing Expediter, the Veterans Administration and Justice officials.

Nudists Discuss Button Subject

MAYS LANDING, N. J., Aug. 6. (AP)—One of the subjects discussed today at the nudist convention was buttons.

Mrs. Margaret A. B. Pulis, Oakland, N. J., was the first to mention the subject. She's president of the American Sunbathing Association, nudist national organization.

At an outdoor meeting, she urged some 400 delegates to work on a five-year plan for increased membership. In particular, she called for development of local groups of nudists.

"This can be a person to person campaign in your neighborhoods," she said. "It means button holing people and telling them of our movement."

Her father, Dr. Ilsley Boone, who operates the 150-acre Sunshine Park at which the convention is being held, also talked of buttons.

"We're going to have an old-fashioned party tonight," he said. "We'll play musical chairs and button, button, who's got the button."

When asked how nudists played the button game, he said:

"Oh, that's simple. We can hide the button in our hands or under our arms."

It was cold at the park today, goose bump weather. Many delegates came to the meeting draped in blankets or wearing shawls. The hardier ones maintained their au natural garb; Boone said no one would think of putting on conventional clothing.

Jamison Named Director Of Aviation Commission

BALTIMORE, Aug. 6 (AP)—Richard Jamison has been named director of the Maryland Aviation Commission, Chairman Philip Hayes announced today.

Jamison succeeds Peter G. Zouck who resigned to take a captain's commission in the Air Force.

New "Give-Away" Type Programs Barred By NBC

NEW YORK, Aug. 6 (AP)—The National Broadcasting Company announced tonight it would accept no new "give-away" type programs pending action of the Federal Communications Commission on its proposed new rules on radio contests.

The FCC said the new rules, disclosed yesterday, were planned as a guide in determining whether radio prize programs violated the Federal Communications Act's ban on lotteries.

An American Broadcasting Company spokesman said all the contests being broadcast on its network "have been carefully examined by counsel and are in full accord with provisions of the Communications Act."

A statement by the Mutual Broadcasting System said: "It is our present opinion from examination of the regulations in the form in which they appeared in the press, that very little of our programming would be affected in any respect.

rected at a heavily-armed motorcade bringing a disputed election box from nearby Copperhill to Benton. The driver of a car at which a single shot was fired was cut by glass fragments.

As the guardsmen entered the city, the Polk County Good Government League claimed a sweeping victory over former Sheriff Burch E. Biggs' Democratic organization. Biggs has been in power here for 18 years.

H. E. Barclay, Copperhill chairman of the GGL, proclaimed victory after leading the motorcade here with the clinching ballots cast in the county general election. He said the GGL, which entered a full slate against the Biggs' candidates, won all but three races. The latter went to opposition justice-of-peace aspirants.

Members of the opposing factions which had been openly carrying guns put them away when the word spread that the guard had arrived. The first detail included 85 officers and men.

Set To Approve

broaden government loan insurance aids on the building of houses costing $6,000 or less. It calls for a study to standardize building codes and measurements, and would guarantee a return of 2¾ per cent on equity investments in rental properties.

The McCarthy bill also would increase by 25 per cent the secondary market for all veterans' guaranteed and FHA insured loans made after April 30, 1948, and make an additional $800,000,000 available for loans on rental housing.

The anti-inflation bill next on the Senate books calls for curbs on installment buying.

The House-approved bill, passed by a whopping 264 to 97 vote yesterday, also called for a provision boosting the Federal Reserve Bank gold reserves and increasing reserve requirements of banks which are members of the federal reserve system.

The Senate Banking Committee today slashed out the provision on gold reserves, and amended upward the amount of reserve requirements for member banks.

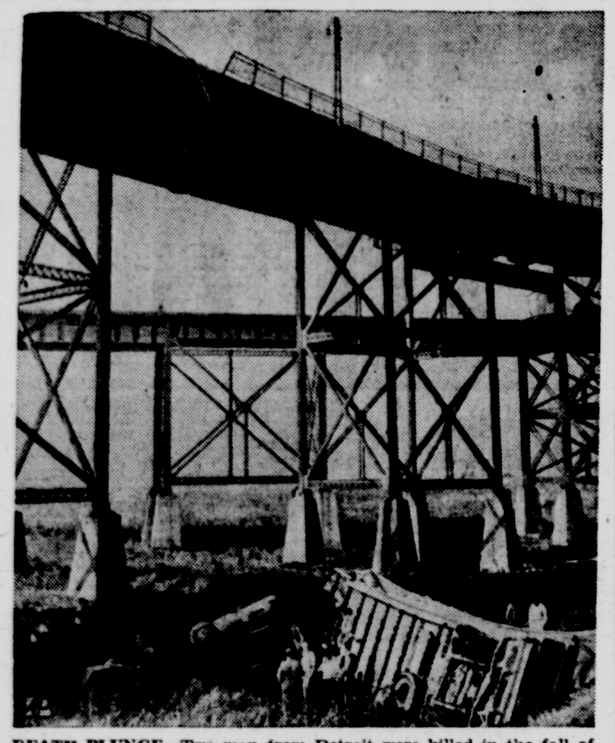
WEST VIRGINIA and WESTERN PENNSYLVANIA — Mostly sunny and a little warmer today; tomorrow increasing cloudiness with little change in temperature.

New Rice Ups Yield

MOSCOW (AP) — A new higher yield rice is being introduced in Turkmenia. The paper, "Turkmananian Izkra," said the average harvest yields about 30 percent more than the usual rice grown there. The new rice is known as "Uzros-269" and came from the Uzbek experimental stations.

Poles, Czechs Exchange

CIESZYN, Poland — (AP) — Four thousand Polish children now are attending schools on the Czech side of the Polish-Czechoslovakian frontier here. Both the Czech and Polish governments have guaranteed equal educational opportunities for children attending schools which lie in each other's territory.



DEATH PLUNGE—Two men from Detroit were killed in the fall of this trailer-truck from the east approach of MacArthur bridge on the Illinois side of the Mississippi River at East St. Louis, Ill. Police said the machine, loaded with furniture, ripped out a 10-foot section of the guard rail before it plunged 110 feet to the ground.

Budenz Says He Worked With Soviet Secret Police

HONOLULU, Aug. 6 (AP) — Louis Budenz, former Communist, testified today he worked for three years with Soviet secret police in the United States and helped establish a "connection" for Russian espionage on the American military potential in 1943.

Budenz told the Hawaii School Board he worked with Soviet secret police in connection with the assassination of Leon Trotsky in Mexico in 1940.

Budenz, now a faculty member of Fordham University, New York, but formerly managing editor of the Communist Daily Worker, is a witness under oath in a hearing on suspension of two Hawaiian educators accused of being Communists.

He testified for four hours yesterday on asserted inner workings of the Communist Party without referring to the two teachers, Dr. and Mrs. John E. Reinecke. The hearing is to determine whether their suspension last November shall be made permanent.

Ban On Women Lifted

FRANKFURT, Aug. 6 (AP)—American soldiers in Germany henceforth may entertain women in bachelor quarters.

A European command directive today rescinded a previous ban in force since January, 1947, with the exception that guests of the opposite sex still cannot be entertained in Army barracks.

Expectant Mother's Assailant Is Hunted

BALTIMORE, Aug. 6 (AP)—Mrs. Mary Chisholm, 22-year-old expectant mother, was severely beaten today on her way home from her brother's house and police have launched a wide search for her assailant.

The woman said a shabbily-dressed man attacked her with a piece of pipe he took out of his shirt after she had told him to leave her alone.

Attendants at City Hospital said she has a possible skull fracture and severe cuts and bruises.

Mrs. Chisholm's husband picked her up out of the roadway, in Northeast Baltimore, when he came driving along in his car about 15 minutes later. She had left him behind at the brother's house to walk home alone at 1:45 a. m.

Dog Leads Searchers To Missing Ohio Child

ZANESVILLE, O., Aug. 6 (AP) — Tousle-haired little Jerry Lee Huffman, 3, snuggled up a little closer to his nurse. He was glad it was all over.

Wearing his birthday suit, blue from the cold, and almost unconscious from exposure, he had just been brought to Bethesda Hospital after a night out—lost in a corn field a mile and a half from his home at Philo, 10 miles south of here.

With him was his dog, Laddie.

A posse of townspeople searched throughout the night. Other volunteers took up the hunt early today when Mayor Roy Robb, of Philo, rang the village fire alarm at 6 a. m.

Then Laddie came home, turned around, and, with a party following, went to the cornfield. There Jerry's father, Dan, and a neighbor, Charles Wickham, found the boy trapped in a wire fence.

Train Wreck Probe Finds No Prosecution "Basis"

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Aug. 6 (AP) — State's Attorney James C. Morton, Jr., said today "there is no basis" for criminal prosecution, after an investigation of a train wreck June 10 near Laurel.

One person was killed and 53 injured in the wreck of a Baltimore and Ohio passenger train.

An Interstate Commerce Commission report blamed an "unsafe" track.

Morton said in a statement that "the matter is closed" so far as Anne Arundel County is concerned.

Communist Party Chiefs Re-elected

NEW YORK, Aug. 6—(AP)—American Communists today re-elected to high party posts all 12 leaders indicted on charges of advocating the overthrow of the United States government. They also announced officially their support of Henry A. Wallace for President.

A 3,000-word platform, adopted at the final session of the party's 14th annual convention, called on all Americans "who hate Fascism to defend the rights of Communists," and lauded Russia as the world's "strongest bulwark for peace."

The platform, which announced support of Wallace instead of a presidential candidate of their own, said the Communists would back the Progressive Party without seeking any "special position" in it.

Democrats and Republicans both were denounced in the convention document for what the Communists described as their "bi-partisan war program" and "runaway inflation."

The convention urged a policy of friendship with the Soviet Union and called for the United States government to return to the "peace policies" of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Advice To The Lovelorn

Looks Like Brushoff When Girl Declines Movie Invitation

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am a 16-year-old boy, and I like a girl I met in high school where we used to write notes to each other. In one of them she said she would like to meet me. So one night I called her up and asked her to go to a show with me. She said she couldn't go out, but the other day I saw her out with another boy. How can I go about getting her to go out with me? "EDDIE"

Dear "Eddie":

It sounds to me as though this girl had given you a polite brushoff when you invited her out on a date so why bother with her? There must be plenty of other girls you know from high school, and if I were you, I would stop thinking about this one and make dates with some of the others who are more ready to be friendly. Perhaps if it gets around that other girls like to go with you, she may change her mind. Just don't chase her, that's all.

Romantic Daydreams

Dear Miss Fairfax:

We are two unhappy teen-agers who are in love with men much older than ourselves. Our parents will not allow us to go out with them because we are too young. We go out with them anyhow, and have dates that our parents don't know a thing about.

Do you think we should take our parents' advice and stay away from them, or do you think it is all right to go with them since we really love them?

"TWO UNHAPPY TEEN-AGERS"

Dear "Unhappy Teen-Agers":

What I think is that you are indulging in some very romantic daydreaming about being in love. I think also that you have no business going out with men much older than yourselves, and that there is a strong probability that if you continue this foolishness you may find yourselves in serious trouble.

If you have any sense at all, you will certainly take your parents advice.

Ewe's News Today

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—A ewe at Warragul, Victoria, has just given birth to quintuplets. All five lambs are well and thriving. The ewe's owner, Mrs. T. Scott, a rancher, claims it is a world's record.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

Muscles are flying.

Yes, sir, the Olympic games are on in England. In fact, there hasn't been this much excitement in London since they caught Sir Reginald peddling fish and chips in back of the House of Lords.

Just picture it . . . hundreds of stalwart young athletes from every part of the world using their strength to bring glory to their country. I wonder what they call "the breakfast of champions" in Czechoslovakia.

Every type of sport is represented, including water polo, fencing and discus throwing. Discus . . . I still think that's one of my wife's pancakes that got away.

America has already done very well in track. I heard there was a recommendation last week to put Roy Cochran under control of the United Nations.

And we've got some great diving champs. I love diving myself. I won't say my diving form is good, but when I do the jack-knife, all four blades are open.

And, of course, wrestling . . . one of the most exciting of all sports. Muscle against muscle . . . men's faces contorted in agony as they push against one another. Everybody trying to see the television screen.

I'm interested in the Olympics because my whole family has always been athletic. In fact, my brother participated in so many sports he used to get them confused. Every time he stepped into the ring, he took a dive.

Dr. Wright Will Speak At LaVale

Rev. William F. Wright, district superintendent of the Hagerstown conference of Methodist Churches, will receive members into the LaVale Methodist Church Sunday night.

The service, to be held at 7:30 p. m. in the tent on the church lot at Woodlawn Avenue and Route 40 in LaVale, will mark the first reception of members into the congregation and will pave the way for the opening of the church charter.

Dr. H. A. Kester, pastor of Waugh Methodist Church, Washington, D. C., will deliver the sermon. Dr. Kester, former pastor of Kingsley Methodist Church, Cumberland, was one of the originators of the idea of LaVale.

Many residents of LaVale have announced intentions of becoming members of the LaVale Methodist Church and by so doing a charter can be granted laying the foundation for the formation of the church membership and securing of a permanent pastor.

Persons desiring to join the church may do so Sunday night either by letter from their present church or by confession of faith.

Advice To The Lovelorn

Looks Like Brushoff When Girl Declines Movie Invitation

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am a 16-year-old boy, and I like a girl I met in high school where we used to write notes to each other. In one of them she said she would like to meet me. So one night I called her up and asked her to go to a show with me. She said she couldn't go out, but the other day I saw her out with another boy. How can I go about getting her to go out with me? "EDDIE"

Dear "Eddie":

It sounds to me as though this girl had given you a polite brushoff when you invited her out on a date so why bother with her? There must be plenty of other girls you know from high school, and if I were you, I would stop thinking about this one and make dates with some of the others who are more ready to be friendly. Perhaps if it gets around that other girls like to go with you, she may change her mind. Just don't chase her, that's all.

Romantic Daydreams

Dear Miss Fairfax:

We are two unhappy teen-agers who are in love with men much older than ourselves. Our parents will not allow us to go out with them because we are too young. We go out with them anyhow, and have dates that our parents don't know a thing about.

Do you think we should take our parents' advice and stay away from them, or do you think it is all right to go with them since we really love them?

"TWO UNHAPPY TEEN-AGERS"

Dear "Unhappy Teen-Agers":

What I think is that you are indulging in some very romantic daydreaming about being in love. I think also that you have no business going out with men much older than yourselves, and that there is a strong probability that if you continue this foolishness you may find yourselves in serious trouble.

If you have any sense at all, you will certainly take your parents advice.

Ewe's News Today

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—A ewe at Warragul, Victoria, has just given birth to quintuplets. All five lambs are well and thriving. The ewe's owner, Mrs. T. Scott, a rancher, claims it is a world's record.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

Muscles are flying.

Yes, sir, the Olympic games are on in England. In fact, there hasn't been this much excitement in London since they caught Sir Reginald peddling fish and chips in back of the House of Lords.

Just picture it . . . hundreds of stalwart young athletes from every part of the world using their strength to bring glory to their country. I wonder what they call "the breakfast of champions" in Czechoslovakia.

Every type of sport is represented, including water polo, fencing and discus throwing. Discus . . . I still think that's one of my wife's pancakes that got away.

America has already done very well in track. I heard there was a recommendation last week to put Roy Cochran under control of the United Nations.

And we've got some great diving champs. I love diving myself. I won't say my diving form is good, but when I do the jack-knife, all four blades are open.

And, of course, wrestling . . . one of the most exciting of all sports. Muscle against muscle . . . men's faces contorted in agony as they push against one another. Everybody trying to see the television screen.

I'm interested in the Olympics because my whole family has always been athletic. In fact, my brother participated in so many sports he used to get them confused. Every time he stepped into the ring, he took a dive.

Dr. Wright Will Speak At LaVale

Rev. William F. Wright, district superintendent of the Hagerstown conference of Methodist Churches, will receive members into the LaVale Methodist Church Sunday night.

The service, to be held at 7:30 p. m. in the tent on the church lot at Woodlawn Avenue and Route 40 in LaVale, will mark the first reception of members into the congregation and will pave the way for the opening of the church charter.

Dr. H. A. Kester, pastor of Waugh Methodist Church, Washington, D. C., will deliver the sermon. Dr. Kester, former pastor of Kingsley Methodist Church, Cumberland, was one of the originators of the idea of LaVale.

Many residents of LaVale have announced intentions of becoming members of the LaVale Methodist Church and by so doing a charter can be granted laying the foundation for the formation of the church membership and securing of a permanent pastor.

Persons desiring to join the church may do so Sunday night either by letter from their present church or by confession of faith.

A Trend in Night Club And Theatre Business

Movies, and to less degree the night clubs, report a falling off in receipts and the prospect of possible lean days ahead. The reasons advanced are all plausible: With the new models available, people are putting their money in cars. With vacation days at hand, people are taking to woods. The seasoned film stars grow older, and youthful replacements are not regarded as yet in their class.

In Cumberland, night club business picked up during the ten-day racing meet, only to show a decline in patronage after the horses had been carted away. Those who played the ponies and lost must recoup from upcoming pay envelopes, and even a percentage of that income must go to pay off loans made to make possible the thrill one gets in betting the horses.

Of course, there are two other explanations but only one applies to Cumberland. One is the vogue of night baseball, with crowds of 30,000 or more in attendance; it has become a bigger factor in cities than anybody had predicted. The other, and one which could account for the lack of business of picture houses, here and elsewhere, is the unfair competition they are receiving from book publishing houses. Films have to be fairly clean; fiction can go the limit and beyond—and does. One publisher occupied the entire back cover of a leading literary review with an advertisement of a novel which boasts that one of the greatest newspapers of the country called it "disgusting."

We do not believe that people are staying at home to read such trash. But the most casual glance at current book reviews discloses that too many publishers seem to think so.

If a bachelor makes catty remarks about marriage, he is a woman-hater. If a married man does it, he's a humorist.

Blame For Situation in Germany on Wrong Foot

One would think that the American diplomatic and military officials in Germany were having a hard enough time coping with Russia at the moment without having to answer wrong-headed critics back home.

General Clay has just been forced to issue a detailed statement, denying charges that he is the author of U.S. and even British policy in Germany. It should have been obvious that the general, who has been doing an excellent job against almost impossible odds, is carrying out the orders of his military and State Department superiors in Washington. The notion that George Marshall would allow any man in the field to make a vital U.S. foreign policy should have seemed absurd on its face.

A more sweeping attack on our policy in Germany comes from a famous columnist who affects a style of omniscience. According to him, Secretaries Marshall and Bevin "precipitated" the Berlin crisis by insisting upon a separate western German state. The same writer bitterly attacks our alleged neglect of the "economic reunion of Germany and Europe."

These allegations were not pulled out of a hat but out of thin air. The partition of Germany was, of course, the deliberate work of Soviet Russia. Ever since Potsdam the Kremlin's policy has been divide and conquer in Germany. Adoption of the Marshall Plan, which promised to rescue the war-torn economies of western Europe, lent speed and ruthlessness to that policy

Despairing, after many attempts, of an all-German agreement, the Western powers decided at London to set up a German administrative body—not a permanent, separate government—in west Germany, in order to fit as much as possible of the German economy into the European recovery scheme. These powers know, and have repeatedly emphasized, that genuine recovery calls for the revival of prewar trade between western and eastern Europe. But who has been holding up that revival?

To accuse Paul Hoffman or General Clay or the State Department of responsibility for a policy which has been brazenly pursued by Russia smacks more of the cruder type of Soviet propaganda than of responsible American journalism.

There is nothing new. The smart sayings people hear today are the ones their fathers heard, only now they are credited to a new celebrity.

Breaking Trade Log-Jam With The American Dollars

If the 16 Marshall Plan nations are not to become a permanent burden on the U.S. Treasury, which neither we nor they want, Paul G. Hoffman and his aides must keep constantly in mind the goal of economic self-sufficiency in Western Europe. One stumbling block in the road is inadequate trade among the sixteen nations. A major cause of that is the present currency mess—there is no politer word to describe it.

At the root of this currency trouble is the dollar shortage in Europe, incurred by countries which, during and after the war, had to import many necessaries of life from the United States. But in addition there are local problems of currency clearance which, for the past two years, have reduced the Bank of International Settlements in Switzerland to near paralysis. In theory, all nations achieve a balance of trade in the long run. If a country sells more goods than another country than it buys from that country, it makes up the difference in "invisible imports," like tourist spending abroad. But many of the normal balancing factors are absent in the abnormal economies of Europe today.

Nowadays, for example, France needs to buy more from Belgium than it sells to her. But when France runs short of Belgium francs she has to stop buying, which is bad for France and Belgium alike. What's more, it is bad for the financier of the Marshall Plan, the United States.

To break the currency log-jam, Mr. Hoffman now intends to use the lever of American dollars. He will supply dollars to finance foreign exchange to countries which sell more goods to other countries than they buy from them. This is not a straight loan but a flexible operation, aimed at encouraging normal trade. The justification for it from the American standpoint is that the sooner normal trade is resumed in Western Europe, the sooner the drain on the United States Treasury will be stopped.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Iron Deficiency Anemia

The most common type of anemia is that due to insufficient iron. Since this substance is carried mainly by the red blood corpuscles, a study of the vital fluid will reveal a low hemoglobin (coloring matter) and a reduction in the size and number of red cells. In many instances, these individuals are obtaining less iron in their food than the body needs. Children during the first three years of life are often anemic cause they are growing rapidly and their diets are low in this element. The same occurs to adults who do not eat properly. Women between the ages of 20 and 50 are frequent victims for several reasons. Many prefer salads and sandwiches to meat, which contain an abundance of iron. Others who remain at home during the day often find cooking more trouble than it is worth; hence they wait for the evening meal when Dick and the children will also be there.

Dr. Van Dellen

After many years of this sort of thing, anemia develops gradually. At this time they begin to feel tired and under par; the skin is pale and many complain of sore mouth or tongue and vague bouts of indigestion. In some instances, the hair become dry, brittle, and prematurely gray. The nails too may change. They crack easily, become rigid, or so concave that a drop of water can be placed on them without rolling off (spoon nails). Consciousness of the heart beat, neuralgic pains, or excess menstrual flow may be present. Examination of the blood tells the story.

Another cause of this type of anemia is hemorrhage. Sometimes this condition escapes detection because it is hardly noticeable, as in bleeding hemorrhoids. When hookworm infestation exists, the parasites fasten themselves to the intestine, where they tap the blood vessels for nourishment. In certain diseases of the stomach or intestine, iron may not be absorbed. Another possibility is lack of hydrochloric acid, a substance that facilitates absorption of iron.

Iron tablets by mouth will affect a cure. But their beneficial influence will be temporary if the cause is not eliminated. For most of the victims, this means strict attention to a balanced diet (especially more meat) and the general principles of good hygiene. If bleeding is a factor, its source should be ascertained and eliminated. In a few, hydrochloric acid may be needed to improve iron absorption. In no other group of patients is the outcome so satisfactory. It is amazing to watch the transmission of the tired, lusterless individual into one who is radiantly healthy.

JAUNDICE

G. T. writes: Is jaundice common after the gall bladder has been removed? I have had six attacks since mine was taken out a year ago.

Reply

No, your condition is unusual. When jaundice follows removal of the gall sac, a liver infection or residual stones should be suspected.

LOSING HER LOCKS

Mrs. P. J. writes: Since the birth of my babies, 17 and 4 months ago, my hair comes out after each combing. What would you recommend?

Reply

If your blood count and metabolism tests are normal, there is no need for you to do anything.

EXTRA RIBS

A. F. writes: Please tell me the cause, symptoms, and cure of cervical ribs.

Reply

The cause is unknown except that some individuals happen to grow these additional, abbreviated ribs high in the neck. They are rarely troublesome unless the structures press upon the blood vessels or nerves leading to the shoulders or arms. Symptoms include coldness of the parts, pain, tingling, numbness or burning sensations. For permanent cure, surgery is required.

SCATTERED DEGENERATION

M. G. writes: What is the full meaning of multiple sclerosis?

Reply

This is a neurological disturbance in which small areas of the spine and brain degenerate, leading to scar tissue. The cause is knot known but the current theory is that the blood vessels are affected. Symptoms are variable and include such abnormalities as tremor, fatigue, speech disorders, and inability to use the hands.

MALIGNANT ANEMIA

A. H. writes: What are the symptoms of a blood cancer?

Reply

If you refer to leucemia, early symptoms are vague. They consist of weakness, pallor, hemorrhages beneath the skin, and enlargement of the glands in the neck, groin, and armpits. Since there are many other disorders that will produce similar manifestations, the only way in which a proper diagnosis can be arrived at is by studying the blood.

NOT CANCER

H. T. writes: Would a large amount of pus in the urine, as shown by a test, point to cancer?

Reply

This would be a remote possibility. The presence of pus usually indicates infection.

TOBACCO SCENT

H. H. H. writes: Why does the body give off an odor of stale tobacco in one who does not smoke?

Reply

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Rep. Parnell Thomas Kept Soldier From Overseas Duty; Later, Thomas Tried To Sell Insurance To Soldier's Father; U. S. Exports Behind Iron Curtain

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Here is some more summer reading for Congressman J. Parnell Thomas, head of the Un-American Activities Committee.

Incidentally, when Congressmen stage an investigation they usually base it on seizure of the files of a Government agency, a private individual or a corporation. Some of them seem to feel that they should also keep their own political affairs in such condition that they can afford the white light of public scrutiny.

It might be healthy, therefore, if the public occasionally had a chance to reverse the process and subpoena the files of a Congressman, who, after all is elected by the people and whose conduct should be constantly answerable to the people.

Believing that a Congressman who specializes in investigation should be able to stand up under investigation, this column has done some probing into the political operations of Congressman Thomas, and discovered, as published earlier this week, that for four years he had a young lady on his payroll who kicked back all of her salary, that he also had a cleaning lady enrolled as a clerk who kicked back her salary, that he put his wife's aged aunt on the taxpayers' payroll until he could force New Jersey authorities to put her on relief, following which his daughter-in-law stepped up to the gravy bowl.

Every Congressman is given an allowance to employ competent people to help his constituents at home. They are paid by the U. S. Treasury, not by him, and are not supposed to be pensioners. However, that is only part of the Thomas story. Here is some more.

Watching Rep. Thomas

The Congressman from New Jersey has not been above using his committee for other "un-American activities." During the war, for instance, Private Edward Allen Kimmel of Long Beach, N. Y., serial No. 32801902, was fearful of being shipped overseas to a battle front.

So, believe it or not, the Congressman from New Jersey telephoned the Second Service Command in New York and informed them that young Kimmel was an undercover agent for the Un-American Activities Committee, therefore had to be kept close to the New York area.

Thomas at that time was also a member of the House Military Affairs Committee, so naturally his words carried weight with the Army.

Accordingly, Col. C. E. Miller, Director of Personnel for the Second Service Command, had Kimmel transferred from Camp Upton and assigned as an investigator of the Internal Security Division in New York.

Before Kimmel took over his new duties, however, Col Miller asked the soldier to drop in to see him, and much to his surprise learned that he was only 18 years old, and that the only experience he had prior to entering the Army was as a student at New York University. He had no experience as an investigator.

Outbluffing The Army

Skeptical, Col. Miller telephoned the Congressman's office to report that Kimmel said he had never met Thomas and had never worked for the Un-American Activities Committee. The Colonel suggested that perhaps the Army had the wrong Kimmel.

This broad hint did not faze the Congressman from New Jersey. Brazenly he sent Ray Rockefellar, investigator for the Un-American Activities Committee, to Col. Miller's office on an un-American errand. There he insisted that Kimmel's ignorance was feigned and that it proved what a good undercover operator the boy was.

"You couldn't get anything out of him, could you?" bluffed Mr. Thomas's emissary. "That just shows how valuable this man is."

Col Miller remained skeptical. He retained Kimmel in Internal Security only 18 days. But he did not transfer him overseas. Kimmel was assigned to the Broadway Central Hotel in New York, a temporary Army barracks, where he spent considerable time while his buddies fought it out overseas. Later he was transferred to Camp Blanding, Fla. At no time did he go anywhere near a battle front.

Shortly after performing this favor for the Kimmel family, Congressman Thomas attempted to cash in on it.

Thomas Cashes In

On Sept. 23, 1943, a few months after intervening for Kimmel, Thomas sent a letter to the boy's father, Herman Kimmel of Kimmel and Hertling, 318 East 32d Street, New York. In addition to his Congressional duties, Congressman Thomas runs an insurance firm—Thomas and Godfrey—and the letter was for the obvious purpose of getting insurance from the father of the boy he had helped. The letter read:

"This will introduce my partner, Spencer K. Godfrey. As you know, Godfrey and I some time ago formed the insurance brokerage firm of Thomas and Godfrey, since which time we have served some of the largest and most reputable concerns, and we have nere resorted to the 'Jimmy Roosevelt practice' either. I know that Godfrey can be helpful to you; at least I would appreciate any courtesies which you may care to extend to him."

Thomas's high blood pressure must have gone up a bit when the letter came back from his insurance partner. Across the bottom was scribbled:

"This man refused to talk—said he doesn't know you."

Probably Herman Kimmel was only pulling an act similar to that of his son when quizzed by the Army colonel. For, a year later, when Thomas was up for re-election, Kimmel sent a helpful contribution of $250 to the Congressman's campaign. And two years later, in the 1946 primary, Kimmel also sweetened the campaign kitty to the tune of $100.

So the "American act" of keeping a man from overseas duty paid dividends in the end.

Interesting Exports To Russia

Inside fact is that Senator Ferguson stumbled onto William Remington, the alleged Communist in the Commerce Department, when he started investigating whether the United States was still shipping strategic goods to Russia and her satellites.

George Meredith of the Senate Small Business Committee had turned over to Ferguson certain information showing that strategic materials to Russia were being OK'd in the Commerce Department.

Here are some of the exports which have been shipped: a steel mill, built in this country and sent in sections to Russia; 70 jeeps sent to Poland; several tons of needles good for scrap metal, shipped to Czechoslovakia; a high-speed aerial camera, also sent to Czechoslovakia; an automobile, consigned to the head of the Soviet-sponsored broadcasting company in Romania; locomotives to Finland, coal-mining machinery to Poland, and raw cotton to Czechoslovakia and Poland.

While these goods were not great in quantity, interesting fact is that their export was first turned down by the licensing officers, but later approved over their heads, not by Remington, but by H. W. Parisius, until recently chief of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce.

Republicans Save Foreign Policy By Ignoring Truman

By MARK SULLIVAN

For understandable reasons, including a reticence which the most responsible leaders in Congress and of the Republican Party enforce upon themselves, the impression made by this special session of Congress and its intended early ending, is superficial and incorrect. It is not that Congressional and Republican leaders are so much angry at President Truman as in despair about him.

The surface picture which portrays Congress as angry at President Truman because he called them back to Washington in hot weather, and because he denounced the body, and as further angry because he called the special session in a spirit of and for the purpose of partisan politics—all that is true enough so far as it goes. But Congress and the Republicans would regard that sort of thing as the give-and-take of politics.

Republicans Meet Obligation

What deeply concerns the Republican leaders, what they regard as their highest obligation, is the need for national unity in the face of the foreign situation. The Republican position on this, formulated on the highest level of party leadership, is in a statement given out July 24th by Governor Dewey in consultation with Republican Senator Vandenberg and Governor Dewey's advisor on foreign affairs, Mr. John Foster Dulles. They were soberly aware of what they were doing, they devoted three painstaking hours to composing the statement. What they renounced was as important as what they pledged:

"The Berlin situation is critical . . . The present duty of Americans is not to be divided by past lapses but to unite to surmount present dangers. We shall not allow domestic partisan irritations to divert us from this indispensible unity."

What puts the Republican leaders in despair about President Truman is the course followed by him which shows either a lack of adequate concern about unity or lack of comprehension of the effects of his actions. It is the sober conviction of men in Washington who are at once the best-informed and the most poised in temperament that the danger of war with Russia is at least fifty-fifty. It is this condition that determines the course of Republican leaders.

In this condition President Truman, by his call for a special session and the manner of it creates division between himself and Congress and between himself and the Republicans. Adding to his provocativeness he blames Congress and the Republicans for inflation. As put by the Democratic platformed often repeated in equivalent words by Mr. Truman: "The Republican 80th Congress is directly responsible . for high cost of living", that is for inflation.

Now every Republican in Congress is conscious that they enacted two measures which make for inflation because they involve immense government expenditures and divert industry from production of goods for domestic consumption—the vastly increased appropriations for national defense and the likewise vast appropriations for the European Recovery Program.

Did It At Behest Of Truman

The Republican Congress passed these measures knowing that they increased the danger of inflation. They balanced this danger with the foreign danger, decided that the latter was the greater and were thereby forced to increase the former.

The Republican Congress did this at the request of President Truman, in willing and complete support of the foreign program laid down by the Truman Administration, and in the spirit of unity in face of the foreign threat. Now, President Truman puts blame on the Republican Congress for inflation without a single mention of the inflationary acts and that they were his own program. If the Republicans, and Congress, were to defend themselves from Mr. Truman's charge of responsibility for inflation, they must defend the inflationary measures, increased military appropriations and the European Recovery Program. To defend these would bring up foreign relations in Congress during the Presidential campaign. A "who-done-it" debate on inflation might become a "who-done-it" debate on responsibility for our foreign crisis, and that would go angrily into actions and policies of the Truman Administration and even more the Roosevelt one. Hardly anything could be more disruptive. Avoidance of disruption would be helped by an early ending of the special session, and this the Republican leaders decided upon.

Truman Hiding Disloyalty Facts People Desire To Know

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6 — President Truman seems to be getting the worst kind of political advice—or else he is ignoring good advice and going off on his own.

The statement that the White House considers the congressional inquiry into Communist activity to be a "red herring" is a form of apology for Communist activity that will not sit well with the voters.

The statement, moreover, that the President will continue to refuse to divulge the records in his executive agencies pertaining to the loyalty of persons publicly accused of disloyalty will not sit well with the voters either.

There is one thing that the people as a whole resent—and that's any effort at suppression of evidence of what is going on inside their own government.

The possibility that someone who is innocent might be accused is small potatoes compared with the larger public interest, which is whether the President and his cabinet officers and their subordinates are sufficiently vigilant in protecting the security of the United States.

President Hides Evidence

Anyone who is innocent and wrongly accused can be given his chance to refute charges. But if the President, with all his power, hides the evidence, then suspicion is compounded with suspicion and the people are led to believe that high crimes and misdemeanors are being committed behind the scenes with official protection.

There comes a time when a President who is running for office must forget politics and do what the people of all parties want done in an investigation on loyalty and security—namely, have all the facts produced.

Mr. Truman certainly pulled a "boner" when after several days of headlines from self-confessed spies he brushed it all off as just an attempt by Republicans to divert suspicion from legislation for price control.

Mr. Truman takes unto himself full responsibility for ignoring what the Communists and alleged Communists have done as revealed by the two congressional committees. He says in a public statement:

"No information has been disclosed in the past few days by Congressional committees that has not long been known to the FBI."

But will the President say frankly that the FBI knows only what has been testified before the committees and nothing else? Will he permit the FBI to open its files confidentially to members of the congressional committee? Will he rescind his gag order which prevents the FBI from doing anything about the evidence it has collected and keeps the FBI even from discussing it with any members of Congress?

These are the pertinent questions that need answering along with another vital point. Mr. Truman now has brought the federal grand jury into the matter. He says:

"The federal grand jury found this information insufficient to justify indictment of the federal employees involved."

Will the President reveal what recommendations, if any, were made by attorneys of the government as they appeared before the grand jury and what facts or evidence was submitted? It is well known that, as a rule, grand juries take their cue from prosecuting attorneys of the Department of Justice. One press dispatch says, for instance, that the Department's representative felt that, because it couldn't be proved that the information actually got to Russia, there was no real proof that could be used to obtain a conviction. No such solicitude was shown before indicting several leading business men of America in recent years on criminal charges under the anti-trust laws.

Truman Can Forbid Answers

The congressional committees, it might be thought, could investigate what did happen in the Department of Justice but the President can forbid the Department to answer a congressional committee's questions. Mr. Truman has just reiterated his decree that no information from the loyalty records of government departments may be furnished to Congress. He goes a step further. He adds:

"The public hearings now under way are serving no useful purpose. On the contrary, they are doing irreparable harm to certain persons, seriously impairing the morale of federal employees, and undermining public confidence in the government."

The American people will have to judge whether any useful purpose is served by ferreting out disloyalty in the government and whether the vast number of federal employees can possibly be disturbed by the revelation that a few among them have been questioned as to loyalty. What is being undermined is not "public confidence in the government" but public confidence in the efficiency and competence of the Truman Administration.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Sometimes It Isn't Fun

SAM T. MALLISON takes me to task in a friendly spirit for not liking Presidential conventions.

Well, when I want fun, I like it undiluted by intellectual hokum. But I do not like to mix fun with serious business. A sense of humor has its place, and a sense of seriousness has its place. Hooliganism, like the young lady flapdoodling during the Stassen demonstration, is neither fun nor serious business. It is just bad taste.

Mr. Mallison says:

"Certainly, the convention device is primitive, but it is no more so than most of our social, political and religious customs — no more pagan than the burial of the dead, not one-half so barbarous as the rites preceding such interment, and no more primitive than the symbolism of the church."

I suppose we may argue endlessly about the word "primitive", but the burial service for the dead as practiced in the Western world is in no sense primitive. Neither the Kadish of the Jews, nor the mass of the Catholics, nor the Protestant form of burial is primitive.

In fact, among the most primitive methods of disposing of the dead was burning the bodies, a practice still usual in Asia and now revived as something terribly modern in the commercial enterprise of cremation.

I do not wish to enter into a disquisition on burials but cite this simply as one of the dangers of generalizing from the particular. What started this argument was my objections to the stupidity of political conventions held in the heat of summer, under kleig and television lights, with hired mummers to stage demonstrations.

There is nothing traditional about this madness, which is pretty new in political history.

Mr. Mallison objects to my references to hired demonstrations. But I went to the place where three demonstrations were being prepared. I saw the mummers. I talked to them. I saw them march into the aisles. I saw them demonstrate and I saw them march out. He also makes the point in lengthy detail that there were so few tickets, "Governor Dewey had no tickets for his two sons and found it necessary to make a personal appeal to Walter S. Hallanan, chairman of the committee on arrangements, who made special arrangements for their admission."

Now, I was sitting in a section reserved for the press. I saw and spoke to persons in that section who had badges and, I assume, tickets who were in no possible way connected with any branch of the press. I spent some time gazing upon one of the most beautiful women in America whose face is well-known because it appears so often in the newspapers, but that can be her only connection with the press. I saw a few lawyers and several politicians in the press section whose major interest would be to keep their names out of the newspapers.

Mr. Mallison further says:

"I agree with you that all the nominating and seconding speeches are tomfoolery and a waste of time, but so are practically all political speeches — I might even say all speeches . .."

I did not say that all nominating speeches are tomfoolery or that all political speeches are of that nature. Again Mr. Mallison generalizes from the particular.

I am sure that Congressman Judd's nominating speech for Harold Stassen was an oration of quality. Also, Herbert Hoover's speech and Tom Dewey's acceptance speech posessed marked oratorical and intellectual quality.

Oratory is one of the fine arts. From Demosthenes to Winston Churchill, the political orator has swayed men's minds and emotions and given much food for thought. Burke has come down in literature for his speeches, as have Daniel Webster, Robert Ingersoll and William Jennings Bryan.

It is to be admitted that oratory has, like other arts, become debased in this era, which produces music without melody and paintings without pictures. Yet there are great orators today.

No, if we are to have fun, let us make it fun. Let us engage Abbott and Costello or Olson and Johnson to run the conventions. But if we adopt a platform for a country facing a debt of $253,000,000,000, and an annual budget that will run between $40 and $50 billions, let us not mix it with fun.

A Trend in Night Club And Theatre Business

Movies, and to less degree the night clubs, report a falling off in receipts and the prospect of possible lean days ahead. The reasons advanced are all plausible: With the new models available, people are putting their money in cars. With vacation days at hand, people are taking to woods. The seasoned film stars grow older, and youthful replacements are not regarded as yet in their class.

In Cumberland, night club business picked up during the ten-day racing meet, only to show a decline in patronage after the horses had been carted away. Those who played the ponies and lost must recoup from upcoming pay envelopes, and even a percentage of that income must go to pay off loans made to make possible the thrill one gets in betting the horses.

Of course, there are two other explanations but only one applies to Cumberland. One is the vogue of night baseball, with crowds of 30,000 or more in attendance; it has become a bigger factor in cities than anybody had predicted. The other, and one which could account for the lack of business of picture houses, here and elsewhere, is the unfair competition they are receiving from book publishing houses. Films have to be fairly clean; fiction can go the limit and beyond—and does. One publisher occupied the entire back cover of a leading literary review with an advertisement of a novel which boasts that one of the greatest newspapers of the country called it "disgusting."

We do not believe that people are staying at home to read such trash. But the most casual glance at current book reviews discloses that too many publishers seem to think so.

Blame For Situation in Germany on Wrong Foot

One would think that the American diplomatic and military officials in Germany were having a hard enough time coping with Russia at the moment without having to answer wrong-headed critics back home.

General Clay has just been forced to issue a detailed statement, denying charges that he is the author of U.S. and even British policy in Germany. It should have been obvious that the general, who has been doing an excellent job against almost impossible odds, is carrying out the orders of his military and State Department superiors in Washington. The notion that George Marshall would allow any man in the field to make a vital U.S. foreign policy should have seemed absurd on its face.

A more sweeping attack on our policy in Germany comes from a famous columnist who affects a style of omniscience. According to him, Secretaries Marshall and Bevin "precipitated" the Berlin crisis by insisting upon a separate western German state. The same writer bitterly attacks our alleged neglect of the "economic reunion of Germany and Europe."

These allegations were not pulled out of a hat but out of thin air. The partition of Germany was, of course, the deliberate work of Soviet Russia. Ever since Potsdam the Kremlin's policy has been divide and conquer in Germany. Adoption of the Marshall Plan, which promised to rescue the war-torn economies of western Europe, lent speed and ruthlessness to that policy

Despairing, after many attempts, of an all-German agreement, the Western powers decided at London to set up a German administrative body—not a permanent, separate government—in west Germany, in order to fit as much as possible of the German economy into the European recovery scheme. These powers know, and have repeatedly emphasized, that genuine recovery calls for the revival of prewar trade between western and eastern Europe. But who has been holding up that revival?

To accuse Paul Hoffman or General Clay or the State Department of responsibility for a policy which has been brazenly pursued by Russia smacks more of the cruder type of Soviet propaganda than of responsible American journalism.

There is nothing new. The smart sayings people hear today are the ones their fathers heard, only now they are credited to a new celebrity.

Breaking Trade Log-Jam With The American Dollars

If the 16 Marsnall Plan nations are not to become a permanent burden on the U.S. Treasury, which neither we nor they want, Paul G. Hoffman and his aides must keep constantly in mind the goal of economic self-sufficiency in Western Europe. One stumbling block in the road is inadequate trade among the sixteen nations. A major cause of that is the present currency mess—there is no politer word to describe it.

At the root of this currency trouble is the dollar shortage in Europe, incurred by countries which, during and after the war, had to import many necessaries of life from the United States. But in addition there are local problems of currency clearance which, for the past two years, have reduced the Bank of International Settlements in Switzerland to near paralysis. In theory, all nations achieve a balance of trade in the long run If a country sells more goods than another country than it buys from that country, it makes up the difference in "invisible imports," like tourist spending abroad. But many of the normal balancing factors are absent in the abnormal economies of Europe today.

Nowadays, for example, France needs to buy more from Belgium than it sells to her. But when France runs short of Belgium francs she has to stop buying, which is bad for France and Belgium alike. What's more, it is bad for the financier of the Marshall Plan, the United States.

To break the currency log-jam, Mr. Hoffman now intends to use the lever of American dollars. He will supply dollars to finance foreign exchange to countries which sell more goods to other countries than they buy from them. This is not a straight loan but a flexible operation, aimed at encouraging normal trade. The justification for it from the American standpoint is that the sooner normal trade is resumed in Western Europe, the sooner the drain on the United States Treasury will be stopped.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Iron Deficiency Anemia

The most common type of anemia is that due to insufficient iron. Since this substance is carried mainly by the red blood corpuscles, a study of the vital fluid will reveal a low hemoglobin (coloring matter) and a reduction in the size and number of red cells. In many instances, these individuals are obtaining less iron in their food than the body needs. Children during the first three years of life are often anemic cause they are growing rapidly and their diets are low in this element. The same occurs to adults who do not eat properly. Women between the ages of 20 and 50 are frequent victims for several reasons. Many prefer salads and sandwiches to meat, which contain an abundance of iron. Others who remain at home during the day often find cooking more trouble than it is worth; hence they wait for the evening meal when Dick and the children will also be there.

After many years of this sort of thing, anemia develops gradually. At this time they begin to feel tired and under par; the skin is pale and many complain of sore mouth or tongue and vague bouts of indigestion. In some instances, the hair become dry, brittle, and prematurely gray. The nails too may change. They crack easily, become rigid, or so concave that a drop of water can be placed on them without rolling off (spoon nails). Consciousness of the heart beat, neuralgic pains, or excess menstrual flow may be present. Examination of the blood tells the story.

Another cause of this type of anemia is hemorrhage. Sometimes this condition escapes detection because it is hardly noticeable, as in bleeding hemorrhoids. When hookworm infestation exists, the parasites fasten themselves to the intestine, where they tap the blood vessels for nourishment. In certain diseases of the stomach or intestine, iron may not be absorbed. Another possibility is lack of hydrochloric acid, a substance that facilitates absorption of iron.

Iron tablets by mouth will affect a cure. But their beneficial influence will be temporary if the cause is not eliminated. For most of the victims, this means strict attention to a balanced diet (especially more meat) and the general principles of good hygiene. If bleeding is a factor, its source should be ascertained and eliminated. In a few, hydrochloric acid may be needed to improve iron absorption. In no other group of patients is the outcome so satisfactory. It is amazing to watch the transmission of the tired, lusterless individual into one who is radiantly healthy.

JAUNDICE

G. T. writes: Is jaundice common after the gall bladder has been removed? I have had six attacks since mine was taken out a year ago.

Reply

No, your condition is unusual. When jaundice follows removal of the gall sac, a liver infection or residual stones should be suspected.

LOSING HER LOCKS

Mrs. P. J. writes: Since the birth of my babies, 17 and 4 months ago, my hair comes out after each combing. What would you recommend?

Reply

If your blood count and metabolism tests are normal, there is no need for you to do anything.

EXTRA RIBS

A. F. writes: Please tell me the cause, symptoms, and cure of cervical ribs.

Reply

The cause is unknown except that some individuals happen to grow these additional, abbreviated ribs high in the neck. They are rarely troublesome unless the structures press upon the blood vessels or nerves leading to the shoulders or arms. Symptoms include coldness of the parts, pain, tingling, numbness or burning sensations. For permanent cure, surgery is required.

SCATTERED DEGENERATION

M. G. writes: What is the full meaning of multiple sclerosis?

Reply

This is a neurological disturbance in which small areas of the spine and brain degenerate, leading to scar tissue. The cause is knot known but the current theory is that the blood vessels are affected. Symptoms are variable and include such abnormalities as tremor, fatigue, speech disorders, and inability to use the hands.

MALIGNANT ANEMIA

A. H. writes: What are the symptoms of a blood cancer?

Reply

If you refer to leucemia, early symptoms are vague. They consist of weakness, pallor, hemorrhages beneath the skin, and enlargement of the glands in the neck, groin, and armpits. Since there are many other disorders that will produce similar manifestations, the only way in which a proper diagnosis can be arrived at is by studying the blood.

NOT CANCER

H. T. writes: Would a large amount of pus in the urine, as shown by a test, point to cancer?

Reply

This would be a remote possibility. The presence of pus usually indicates infection.

TOBACCO SCENT

H. H. H. writes: Why does the body give off an odor of stale tobacco in one who does not smoke?

Reply

Body odors differ; they are influenced by what we eat and drink. This includes tobaccolike aromas.

Rep. Parnell Thomas Kept Soldier From Overseas Duty; Later, Thomas Tried To Sell Insurance To Soldier's Father; U. S. Exports Behind Iron Curtain

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Here is some more summer reading for Congressman J. Parnell Thomas, head of the Un-American Activities Committee.

Incidentally, when Congressmen stage an investigation they usually base it on seizure of the files of a Government agency, a private individual or a corporation. Some of them seem to feel that they should also keep their own political affairs in such condition that they can afford the white light of public scrutiny.

It might be healthy, therefore, if the public occasionally had a chance to reverse the process and subpoena the files of a Congressman, who, after all is elected by the people and whose conduct should be constantly answerable to the people.

Believing that a Congressman who specializes in investigation should be able to stand up under investigation, this column has done some probing into the political operations of Congressman Thomas, and discovered, as published earlier this week, that for four years he had a young lady on his payroll who kicked back all of her salary, that he also had a cleaning lady enrolled as a clerk who kicked back her salary, that he put his wife's aged aunt on the taxpayers' payroll until he could force New Jersey authorities to put her on relief, following which his daughter-in-law stepped up to the gravy bowl.

Every Congressman is given an allowance to employ competent people to help his constituents at home. They are paid by the U. S. Treasury, not by him, and are not supposed to be pensioners. However, that is only part of the Thomas story. Here is some more.

Watching Rep. Thomas

The Congressman from New Jersey has not been above using his committee for other "un-American activities." During the war, for instance, Private Edward Allen Kimmel of Long Beach, N. Y., serial No. 32801902, was fearful of being shipped overseas to a battle front.

So, believe it or not, the Congressman from New Jersey telephoned the Second Service Command in New York and informed them that young Kimmel was an undercover agent for the Un-American Activities Committee, therefore had to be kept close to the New York area.

Thomas at that time was also a member of the House Military Affairs Committee, so naturally his words carried weight with the Army.

Accordingly, Col. C. E. Miller, Director of Personnel for the Second Service Command, had Kimmel transferred from Camp Upton and assigned as an investigator of the Internal Security Division in New York.

Before Kimmel took over his new duties, however, Col Miller asked the soldier to drop in to see him, and much to his surprise learned that he was only 18 years old, and that the only experience he had prior to entering the Army was as a student at New York University. He had no experience as an investigator.

Outbluffing The Army

Skeptical, Col. Miller telephoned the Congressman's office to report that Kimmel said he had never met Thomas and had never worked for the Un-American Activities Committee. The Colonel suggested that perhaps the Army had the wrong Kimmel.

This broad hint did not faze the Congressman from New Jersey. Brazenly he sent Ray Rockefellar, investigator for the Un-American Activities Committee, to Col. Miller's office on an un-American errand. There he insisted that Kimmel's ignorance was feigned and that it proved what a good undercover operator the boy was.

"You couldn't get anything out of him, could you?" bluffed Mr. Thomas's emissary. "That just shows how valuable this man is."

Col Miller remained skeptical. He retained Kimmel in Internal Security only 18 days. But he did not transfer him overseas. Kimmel was assigned to the Broadway Central Hotel in New York, a temporary Army barracks, where he spent considerable time while his buddies fought it out overseas. Later he was transferred to Camp Blanding, Fla. At no time did he go anywhere near a battle front.

Shortly after performing this favor for the Kimmel family, Congressman Thomas attempted to cash in on it.

Thomas Cashes In

On Sept. 23, 1943, a few months after intervening for Kimmel, Thomas sent a letter to the boy's father, Herman Kimmel of Kimmel and Hertling, 318 East 32d Street, New York. In addition to his Congressional duties, Congressman Thomas runs an insurance firm—Thomas and Godfrey—and the letter was for the obvious purpose of getting insurance from the father of the boy he had helped. The letter read:

"This will introduce my partner, Spencer K. Godfrey. As you know, Godfrey and I some time ago formed the insurance brokerage firm of Thomas and Godfrey, since which time we have served some of the largest and most reputable concerns, and we have nere resorted to the 'Jimmy Roosevelt practice' either. I know that Godfrey can be helpful to you; at least I would appreciate any courtesies which you may care to extend to him."

Thomas's high blood pressure must have gone up a bit when the letter came back from his insurance partner. Across the bottom was scribbled:

"This man refused to talk—said he doesn't know you."

Probably Herman Kimmel was only pulling an act similar to that of his son when quizzed by the Army colonel. For, a year later, when Thomas was up for re-election, Kimmel sent a helpful contribution of $250 to the Congressman's campaign. And two years later, in the 1946 primary, Kimmel also sweetened the campaign kitty to the tune of $100.

So the "American act" of keeping a man from overseas duty paid dividends in the end.

Now every Republican in Congress is conscious that they enacted two measures which make for inflation because they involve immense government expenditures and divert industry from production of goods for domestic consumption—the vastly increased appropriations for national defense and the likewise vast appropriations for the European Recovery Program.

Did It At Behest Of Truman

The Republican Congress passed these measures knowing that they increased the danger of inflation. They balanced this danger with the foreign danger, decided that the latter was the greater and were thereby forced to increase the former.

The Republican Congress did this at the request of President Truman, in willing and complete support of the foreign program laid down by the Truman Administration, and in the spirit of unity in face of the foreign threat. Now, President Truman puts blame on the Republican Congress for inflation without a single mention of the inflationary acts and that they were his own program. If the Republicans, and Congress, were to defend themselves from Mr. Truman's charge of responsibility for inflation, they must defend the inflationary measures, increased military appropriations and the European Recovery Program. To defend these would bring up foreign relations in Congress during the Presidential campaign. A "who-done-it" debate on inflation might become a "who-done-it" debate on responsibility for our foreign crisis, and that would go angrily into actions and policies of the Truman Administration and even more the Roosevelt one. Hardly anything could be more disruptive. Avoidance of disruption would be helped by an early ending of the special session, and this the Republican leaders decided upon.

Truman Hiding Disloyalty Facts People Desire To Know

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6 — President Truman seems to be getting the worst kind of political advice—or else he is ignoring good advice and going off on his own.

The statement that the White House considers the congressional inquiry into Communist activity to be a "red herring" is a form of apology for Communist activity that will not sit well with the voters.

The statement, moreover, that the President will continue to refuse to divulge the records in his executive agencies pertaining to the loyalty of persons publicly accused of disloyalty will not sit well with the voters either.

There is one thing that the people as a whole resent—and that's any effort at suppression of evidence of what is going on inside their own government.

The possibility that someone who is innocent might be accused is small potatoes compared with the larger public interest, which is whether the President and his cabinet officers and their subordinates are sufficiently vigilant in protecting the security of the United States.

President Hides Evidence

Anyone who is innocent and wrongly accused can be given his chance to refute charges. But if the President, with all his power, hides the evidence, then suspicion is compounded with suspicion and the people are led to believe that high crimes and misdemeanors are being committed behind the scenes with official protection.

There comes a time when a President who is running for office must forget politics and do what the people of all parties want done in an investigation on loyalty and security—namely, have all the facts produced.

Mr. Truman certainly pulled a "boner" when after several days of headlines from self-confessed spies he brushed it all off as just an attempt by Republicans to divert suspicion from legislation for price control.

Mr. Truman takes unto himself full responsibility for ignoring what the Communists and alleged Communists have done as revealed by the two congressional committees. He says in a public statement:

"No information has been disclosed in the past few days by Congressional committees that has not long been known to the FBI."

But will the President say frankly that the FBI knows only what has been testified before the committees and nothing else? Will he permit the FBI to open its files confidentially to members of the congressional committee? Will he rescind his gag order which prevents the FBI from doing anything about the evidence it has collected and keeps the FBI even from discussing it with any members of Congress?

These are the pertinent questions that need answering along with another vital point. Mr. Truman now has brought the federal grand jury into the matter. He says:

"The federal grand jury found this information insufficient to justify indictment of the federal employees involved."

Will the President reveal what recommendations, if any, were made by attorneys of the government as they appeared before the grand jury and what facts or evidence was submitted? It is well known that, as a rule, grand juries take their cue from prosecuting attorneys of the Department of Justice. One press dispatch says, for instance, that the Department's representative felt that, because it couldn't be proved that the information actually got to Russia, there was no real proof that could be used to obtain a conviction. No such solicitude was shown before indicting several leading business men of America in recent years on criminal charges under the anti-trust laws.

Truman Can Forbid Answers

The congressional committees, it might be thought, could investigate what did happen in the Department of Justice but the President can forbid the Department to answer a congressional committee's questions. Mr. Truman has just reiterated his decree that no information from the loyalty records of government departments may be furnished to Congress. He goes a step further. He adds:

"The public hearings now under way are serving no useful purpose. On the contrary, they are doing irreparable harm to certain persons, seriously impairing the morale of federal employees, and undermining public confidence in the government."

The American people will have to judge whether any useful purpose is served by ferreting out disloyalty in the government and whether the vast number of federal employees can possibly be disturbed by the revelation that a few among them have been questioned as to loyalty. What is being undermined is not "public confidence in the government" but public confidence in the efficiency and competence of the Truman Administration.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Sometimes It Isn't Fun

SAM T. MALLISON takes me to task in a friendly spirit for not liking Presidential conventions.

Well, when I want fun, I like it undiluted by intellectual hokum. But I do not like to mix fun with serious business. A sense of humor has its place, and a sense of seriousness has its place. Hooliganism, like the young lady flapdoodling during the Stassen demonstration, is neither fun nor serious business. It is just bad taste.

Mr. Mallison says:

"Certainly, the convention device is primitive, but it is no more so than most of our social, political and religious customs — no more pagan than the burial of the dead, not one-half so barbarous as the rites preceding such interment, and no more primitive than the symbolism of the church."

I suppose we may argue endlessly about the word "primitive", but the burial service for the dead as practiced in the Western world is in no sense primitive. Neither the Kadish of the Jews, nor the mass of the Catholics, nor the Protestant form of burial is primitive.

In fact, among the most primitive methods of disposing of the dead was burning the bodies, a practice still usual in Asia and now revived as something terribly modern in the commercial enterprise of cremation.

I do not wish to enter into a disquisition on burials but cite this simply as one of the dangers of generalizing from the particular. What started this argument was my objections to the stupidity of political conventions held in the heat of summer, under kleig and television lights, with hired mummers to stage demonstrations.

There is nothing traditional about this madness, which is pretty new in political history.

Mr. Mallison objects to my references to hired demonstrations. But I went to the place where three demonstrations were being prepared. I saw the mummers. I talked to them. I saw them march into the aisles. I saw them demonstrate and I saw them march out. He also makes the point in lengthy detail that there were so few tickets, "Governor Dewey had no tickets for his two sons and found it necessary to make a personal appeal to Walter S. Hallanan, chairman of the committee on arrangements, who made special arrangements for their admission."

Now, I was sitting in a section reserved for the press. I saw and spoke to persons in that section who had badges and, I assume, tickets who were in no possible way connected with any branch of the press. I spent some time gazing upon one of the most beautiful women in America whose face is well-known because it appears so often in the newspapers, but that can be her only connection with the press. I saw a few lawyers and several politicians in the press section whose major interest would be to keep their names out of the newspapers.

Mr. Mallison further says:

"I agree with you that all the nominating and seconding speeches are tomfoolery and a waste of time, but so are practically all political speeches — I might even say all speeches . .."

I did not say that all nominating speeches are tomfoolery or that all political speeches are of that nature. Again Mr. Mallison generalizes from the particular.

I am sure that Congressman Judd's nominating speech for Harold Stassen was an oration of quality. Also, Herbert Hoover's speech and Tom Dewey's acceptance speech posessed marked oratorical and intellectual quality.

Oratory is one of the fine arts. From Demosthenes to Winston Churchill, the political orator has swayed men's minds and emotions and given much food for thought. Burke has come down in literature for his speeches, as have Daniel Webster, Robert Ingersoll and William Jennings Bryan.

It is to be admitted that oratory has, like other arts, become debased in this era, which produces music without melody and paintings without pictures. Yet there are great orators today.

No, if we are to have fun, let us make it fun. Let us engage Abbott and Costello or Olson and Johnson to run the conventions. But if we adopt a platform for a country facing a debt of $253,000,000,000, and an annual budget that will run between $40 and $50 billions, let us not mix it with fun.

Political and religious differences have often been marked by the form of hats. The Puritans of the reign of Charles I adopted the steeple hat, high and narrow, with a broad brim, untrimmed. The Cavaliers wore a lower and broader crown, with a feather stuck on one side.

Exemptions Under Rent Control Law Outlined By Heath

Area Rent Director Walter R. Heath yesterday explained that the following types of housing accommodations are not subject to the federal rent control law:

1. Accommodations in hotels as defined in the law and regulations.
2. Motor courts which were such on June 30, 1947.
3. Tourist homes serving transient guests exclusively on June 30, 1947.
4. Trailers or trailer spaces.
5. New construction completed or conversions (as defined in the act and regulations) created after February 1, 1947.
6. New construction completed between February 1, 1945 and February 1, 1947, and unrented between the completion date and June 30, 1947.
7. Housing accommodations not rented for any successive 24-month period from February 1, 1945 to March 30, 1948, inclusive.
8. Non-housekeeping furnished rooms in private homes, but only if there are no more than two paying tenants who are not members of the landlord's immediate family and if the remaining portions of the dwelling unit is occupied by the landlord or his immediate family.

Cumberland Remains State's Second City

Cumberland retains its rating as second city of Maryland with an estimated population of 46,700, according to a survey made by Sales Management magazine.

The Maryland Planning Commission issued figures compiled by Sales Management in a news letter showing that the state has an estimated population of 2,211,600. Baltimore City is tops with 1,007,200 persons. Hagerstown is third largest with 38,700 persons.

Silver Spring, Bethesda and Chevy Chase in Montgomery county, which have grown prodigiously during and since the war years, are not listed in the survey because they are not incorporated communities.

Allegany county is listed with 100,400, Baltimore county, 217,900; Garrett 25,200; Washington 78,100; Frederick 64,000; Montgomery 123,400 and Prince Georges 125,900.

Two Are Fined As Result Of Collision

Two local motorists paid fines yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court for reckless driving which resulted in a collision July 29 on Route 220 at Dawson.

Joseph S. Kenney, 461 Baltimore Avenue, pleaded not guilty but was fined $11.45. He filed notice of an appeal.

Ivan C. Swauger, Route 3, this city, pleaded guilty and was fined $10.75. Both were arrested by Cpl. Harry Holsinger of the State Police.

Milton Otto Pyle, 847 Mount Royal Avenue, forfeited $3.45 bond yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court on a charge of failing to stop at a stop sign on Bedford Road. He was arrested Sunday by State Trooper A. M. Spioch.

B And O Mechanic Hurt While Repairing Engine

Walter Drumm, 1805 Bedford Street, a B. and O. Railroad mechanic, was reported last night to be in good condition at Allegany Hospital where he was admitted Thursday for an ankle fracture and lacerations received when a tank hose came loose from an engine on which he was working.

A. E. Beckman, master mechanic, described the hose as being rubber and about three and one-half inches in diameter with a metal flange on one end. It is thought that this flange hit his ankle causing the injuries.

In past times Monday was humorously canonized as "St. Monday," the festival of cobblers. According to the Encyclopedia Britannica, cobblers were supposed not to know on which day the feast of St. Crispin, their patron saint, fell, except that it was Monday. So they celebrated the patron's feast every Monday.

To The Editor:

In regards to the Miss Maryland Pageant I would like to voice my opinion—as a spectator.

I think that Jack F. Moore, director, and all of his assistants should be highly congratulated for giving the State of Maryland (not only Cumberland) a show nicely directed and wonderful entertainment for an evening well spent. Imagine my surprise when I read the charges of the Frostburg Jaycees. I believe that they not only owe an apology to Jack Moore but a public apology to all connected with the staging of the pageant and a personal apology to Miss Maryland, Miss Juanita Lookabaugh.

Miss Maryland of 1948 won the contest fair and square—she not only has the looks, figure but a radiating personality—that is the impression she gave me and to all of my friends, who saw the pageant.

Miss Maryland, although I have not had the pleasure of meeting her, in my opinion took the Miss Maryland title of 1948 not by three points but by a landslife.

Let's have more pictures and more worthy publicity for Miss Maryland of 1948 and show her that we think she is wonderful and the girl most deserving of the title. May she have added success at Atlantic City.

Repairs Sought To McKenzie Road

Daniel Light, Arthur E. Light and Theodore J. Clayton, representing residents of the McKenzie Road area in the Pinto section, asked Allegany County Commissioners yesterday for repairs and improvements to the road.

They told the commissioners that there are 19 children living in the section and that due to the narrowness and bad condition of the road the school bus will not enter it. They requested that the road be repaired.

The commissioners informed the delegation that they will place the road in shape but will be unable to widen it this year. Heavy rains this summer and spring have retarded road construction and repair work and there have been numerous requests for work on county roads, the commissioners said.

Members of the delegation also pointed out that rubbish and garbage is being dumped in the roadway and along side the right of way. They were referred to Dr. Winter R. Frantz, county health officer, to have the road posted against this dumping.

Pryor Is Sentenced For Non-Support

A local man, Jacob Pryor, Mary Street, was sentenced to six months in jail yesterday morning in Juvenile Court by Magistrate Thomas E. Stakem on a non-support charge preferred by his wife, Mrs. Shirley Pryor.

Dislodged Earth Smothers Worker

BEDFORD, PA.—G. Paul Fink, 25, Riddlesburg, was killed Thursday when five tons of dirt fell on him while he was digging a ditch on the East Coast to Pittsburgh television cable project.

A construction worker for the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, which is laying the cable, Fink died of a broken neck and suffocation from the dirt falling on him at about 3 p. m.

Deputy Coroner Lewis Geisel, who made the report, said that the worker was in a ditch about four feet deep at the base of a steep bank. An estimated two or three cubic feet of rain soaked earth came loose from the bank, covering all of Fink but one arm.

John Rex, gang foreman, and Howard Gordon, a fellow worker, freed the man as soon as they heard him moan, but could not revive him. He died almost instantly, Geisel said.

The fatality was listed as accidental and there will be no inquest.

Two Wills Probated In Orphans Court

Two wills were admitted to probate in Orphans Court yesterday. The will of Jeanetta M. Kyle, who died July 30, named her son, Irvin P. Kyle, Frostburg, beneficiary and executor of her estate. The will was signed February 13, 1948, and witnessed by David H. Plummer and Edward J. Ryan.

The will of Charles Davis, who died July 29, names Charles W. Yergan executor and also leaves the bulk of the estate to him. Special bequests of $200 each are made to Edward Raines, Carl Wilson and Marvin T. M. Hinkle and a bequest of $500 is made to the Pleasant Grove Cemetery Company. The document was signed February 16, 1946, and witnessed by George Henderson, Mary Elizabeth Stakem and William R. Carscaden.

No Progress Noted On Bakery Contract

No particular progress was reported Thursday night from a contract negotiating session between Local 246, Bakery Workers Union, AFL, and four area baking companies.

Wesley Reedy, Philadelphia, vice president of the international union, said the parties to the dispute will meet again and said the one-half hour session ended with the situation "about the same."

James A. Holden, federal conciliator, will be asked to attend the next meeting, he added.

The union is seeking new contracts with the Community, Schmidt and Ort Baking Companies here and the McIntyre Baking Company of Westernport. Contracts expired May 1 but continue in force during negotiations.

The union last Saturday rejected a company offer of a two and one-half cent hourly increase for some 150 employes. The union opened talks for 25 cents and later dropped to 15 cents.

Food Poisoning Puts Family In Hospital

BRETZ, W. Va.—Harvey and Martha Vest and their son, Earl, are patients in Davis Memorial General Hospital, Elkins, suffering from food poisoning.

The family became ill Wednesday at about 11 p. m. After the wife and son became steadily worse the father managed to cross the road to call a physician. Dr. S. M. Lillenfeld immediately ordered the entire family to be hospitalized. Dr. Lillenfeld said that from the family's statement, the poison came from milk, buttermilk or ice cream. They were removed to the hospital by the Parsons Volunteer Fire emergency car.

Hospital attaches stated that the son rested very well during the night but the parents were not in very good condition.

Socialists Repudiate Progressive Party

The Socialist Party will have no more to do with the Progressive Party than they have had with the Democrats or Republicans, according to local leaders who are preparing to welcome Darlington Hoopes, national chairman, appearing at a picnic and rally here Sunday.

Dr. Robert T. Kerlin, manager of the Cumberland party's campaign, said that they expect 35 or 40 votes in the 1948 election which is more than in any recent year.

Kerlin feels that many members of the Progressive Party will vote for Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate, "since the Progressives failed to repudiate the Communist vote." He resigned as chairman of the Western Maryland chapter of the Progressive Citizens of America when they supported Henry A. Wallace for president.

Hoopes will be the principal guest at the rally opening at 4 p. m. Sunday with Jerome Tucker, Baltimore, also expected, Kerlin stated.

The national chairman, a Reading, Pa., attorney, ran with Thomas on the 1944 Presidential ticket. He has also served as Reading city solicitor in 1935 and 1940, and member of the Pennsylvania House of Delegates from 1930 to 1936.

Two Forfeit Bonds On Gaming Charges

Bonds totaling $225 were forfeited in Police Court yesterday by two local men on gaming charges.

James Durkin, 27 Williams Street, forfeited $200 bond on charges of maintaining four slot machines at Ruth's Tavern, 25 Williams Street. Durkin's wife, Mrs. Ruth V. Durkin, was listed as proprietor of the establishment, but Detective Lt. Edwin R. Lilya said Durkin told him he manages the business.

Walter V. Liebrant, 247 Henderson Avenue, forfeited $25 bond on a charge of maintaining a tip board. He was arrested Thursday afternoon on a warrant obtained by Mrs. Louise Rodcap.

Joseph S. Kenney, 461 Baltimore Avenue, pleaded not guilty but was fined $11.45. He filed notice of an appeal.

Ivan C. Swauger, Route 3, this city, pleaded guilty and was fined $10.75. Both were arrested by Cpl. Harry Holsinger of the State Police.

Milton Otto Pyle, 847 Mount Royal Avenue, forfeited $3.45 bond yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court on a charge of failing to stop at a stop sign on Bedford Road. He was arrested Sunday by State Trooper A. M. Sploch.

B And O Mechanic Hurt While Repairing Engine

Walter Drumm, 1805 Bedford Street, a B. and O. Railroad mechanic, was reported last night to be in good condition at Allegany Hospital where he was admitted Thursday for an ankle fracture and lacerations received when a tank hose came loose from an engine on which he was working.

A. E. Beckman, master mechanic, described the hose as being rubber and about three and one-half inches in diameter with a metal flange on one end. It is thought that this flange hit his ankle causing the injuries.

In past times Monday was humorously canonized as "St. Monday," the festival of cobblers. According to the Encyclopedia Britannica, cobblers were supposed not to know on which day the feast of St. Crispin, their patron saint, fell, except that it was Monday. So they celebrated the patron's feast every Monday.

To The Editor:

In regards to the Miss Maryland Pageant I would like to voice my opinion—as a spectator.

I think that Jack F. Moore, director, and all of his assistants should be highly congratulated for giving the State of Maryland (not only Cumberland) a show nicely directed and wonderful entertainment for an evening well spent. Imagine my surprise when I read the charges of the Frostburg Jaycees. I believe that they not only owe an apology to Jack Moore but a public apology to all connected with the staging of the pageant and a personal apology to Miss Maryland, Miss Juanita Lookabaugh.

Miss Maryland of 1948 won the contest fair and square—she not only has the looks, figure but a radiating personality—that is the impression she gave me and to all of my friends, who saw the pageant.

Miss Maryland, although I have not had the pleasure of meeting her, in my opinion took the Miss Maryland title of 1948 not by three points but by a landslife.

Let's have more pictures and more worthy publicity for Miss Maryland of 1948 and show her that we think she is wonderful and the girl most deserving of the title. May she have added success at Atlantic City

Repairs Sought To McKenzie Road

Daniel Light, Arthur E. Light and Theodore J. Clayton, representing residents of the McKenzie Road area in the Pinto section, asked Allegany County Commissioners yesterday for repairs and improvements to the road.

They told the commissioners that there are 19 children living in the section and that due to the narrowness and bad condition of the road the school bus will not enter it. They requested that the road be repaired.

The commissioners informed the delegation that they will place the road in shape but will be unable to widen it this year. Heavy rains this summer and spring have retarded road construction and repair work and there have been numerous requests for work on county roads, the commissioners said.

Members of the delegation also pointed out that rubbish and garbage is being dumped in the roadway and along side the right of way. They were referred to Dr. Winter R. Frantz, county health officer, to have the road posted against this dumping.

Pryor Is Sentenced For Non-Support

A local man, Jacob Pryor, Mary Street, was sentenced to six months in jail yesterday morning in Juvenile Court by Magistrate Thomas E. Stakem on a non-support charge preferred by his wife, Mrs. Shirley Pryor.

Dislodged Earth Smothers Worker

BEDFORD, PA.—G. Paul Fink, 25, Riddlesburg, was killed Thursday when five tons of dirt fell on him while he was digging a ditch on the East Coast to Pittsburgh television cable project.

A construction worker for the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, which is laying the cable, Fink died of a broken neck and suffocation from the dirt falling on him at about 3 p. m.

Deputy Coroner Lewis Geisel, who made the report, said that the worker was in a ditch about four feet deep at the base of a steep bank. An estimated two or three cubic feet of rain soaked earth came loose from the bank, covering all of Fink but one arm.

John Rex, gang foreman, and Howard Gordon, a fellow worker, freed the man as soon as they heard him moan, but could not revive him. He died almost instantly, Geisel said.

The fatality was listed as accidental and there will be no inquest.

Two Wills Probated In Orphans Court

Two wills were admitted to probate in Orphans Court yesterday. The will of Jeanetta M. Kyle, who died July 30, named her son, Irvin P. Kyle, Frostburg, beneficiary and executor of her estate. The will was signed February 13, 1948, and witnessed by David H. Plummer and Edward J. Ryan.

The will of Charles Davis, who died July 29, names Charles W. Yergan executor and also leaves the bulk of the estate to him. Special bequests of $200 each are made to Edward Raines, Carl Wilson and Marvin T. M. Hinkle and a bequest of $500 is made to the Pleasant Grove Cemetery Company. The document was signed February 16, 1946, and witnessed by George Henderson, Mary Elizabeth Stakem and William R. Carscaden.

No Progress Noted On Bakery Contract

No particular progress was reported Thursday night from a contract negotiating session between Local 246, Bakery Workers Union, AFL, and four area baking companies.

Wesley Reedy, Philadelphia, vice president of the international union, said the parties to the dispute will meet again and said the one-half hour session ended with the situation "about the same."

James A. Holden, federal conciliator, will be asked to attend the next meeting, he added.

The union is seeking new contracts with the Community, Schmidt and Ort Baking Companies here and the McIntyre Baking Company of Westernport. Contracts expired May 1 but continue in force during negotiations.

The union last Saturday rejected a company offer of a two and one-half cent hourly increase for some 150 employes. The union opened talks for 25 cents and later dropped to 15 cents.

Food Poisoning Puts Family In Hospital

BRETZ, W. Va.—Harvey and Martha Vest and their son, Earl, are patients in Davis Memorial General Hospital, Elkins, suffering from food poisoning.

The family became ill Wednesday at about 11 p. m. After the wife and son became steadily worse the father managed to cross the road to call a physician. Dr. S. M. Lillenfeld immediately ordered the entire family to be hospitalized. Dr. Lillenfeld said that from the family's statement, the poison came from milk, buttermilk or ice cream. They were removed to the hospital by the Parsons Volunteer Fire emergency car.

Hospital attaches stated that the son rested very well during the night but the parents were not in very good condition.

Socialists Repudiate Progressive Party

The Socialist Party will have no more to do with the Progressive Party than they have had with the Democrats or Republicans, according to local leaders who are preparing to welcome Darlington Hoopes, national chairman, appearing at a picnic and rally here Sunday.

Dr. Robert T. Kerlin, manager of the Cumberland party's campaign, said that they expect 35 or 40 votes in the 1948 election which is more than in any recent year.

Kerlin feels that many members of the Progressive Party will vote for Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate, "since the Progressives failed to repudiate the Communist vote." He resigned as chairman of the Western Maryland chapter of the Progressive Citizens of America when they supported Henry A. Wallace for president.

Hoopes will be the principal guest at the rally opening at 4 p. m. Sunday with Jerome Tucker, Baltimore, also expected, Kerlin stated.

The national chairman, a Reading, Pa., attorney, ran with Thomas on the 1944 Presidential ticket. He has also served as Reading city solicitor in 1935 and 1940, and member of the Pennsylvania House of Delegates from 1930 to 1936.

Two Forfeit Bonds On Gaming Charges

Bonds totaling $225 were forfeited in Police Court yesterday by two local men on gaming charges.

James Durkin, 27 Williams Street, forfeited $200 bond on charges of maintaining four slot machines at Ruth's Tavern, 25 Williams Street. Durkin's wife, Mrs. Ruth V. Durkin, was listed as proprietor of the establishment, but Detective Lt. Edwin R. Lilya said Durkin told him he manages the business.

Walter V. Liebrant, 247 Henderson Avenue, forfeited $25 bond on a charge of maintaining a tip board. He was arrested Thursday afternoon on a warrant obtained by Mrs. Louise Rodcap.

600 Attend B And O Vet's Outing; Pin, Memberships Given

Of the 600 attending the B and O Veterans and Auxiliary annual picnic Thursday at Terra Alta, approximately 400 were from Cumberland, Henry W. Bloss, general chairman, reports. The local delegation was met at the station by Mayor W. E. Turley, the City Council, citizens of Terra Alta and the high school band, and escorted to the Community Park for the outing.

Myers G. Light, past president of the organization, served as master of ceremonies for the program which included talks and a band concert.

Roy E. Collins, Staten Island, grand president, addressed the group and discussed a membership drive and the condition of the railroad in general. Short talks were given by officials from both here and Terra Alta and by Mr. Bloss, who also presented a veteran pin as a personal gift to Mayor Turley; and honorary membership cards to Mayor and Mrs. Turley. Mrs. George Wenrich, president of Allison Auxiliary, made some brief remarks.

Games of all kinds were played and prizes won by Julia Lee, Maryland Avenue; Lee Daniels, Locust Grove; Mrs. Mary Apple, Arch Street, and C. W. Johnson, city. Dancing featured the entertainment during the evening and a ball game in the afternoon.

Mr. Bloss was assisted by Mrs. Wenrich with arrangements.

The regular business meeting is to be held September 1 in the B and O YMCA at which time plans for the fall activities will be formulated.

Former Parsons Girl Is Married

PARSONS, W. Va.—Mr. and Mrs. French Rennix, Parsons, have received word of the marriage of their granddaughter, Donna Jean Orr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Orr, Morgantown, to Walter Graghan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dellett Graghan, Morgantown.

The single-ring ceremony was solemnized in St. Paul's Methodist Church, Oakland, Md., on July 14, at 10 a. m. by Rev. Denver C. Pickens, pastor.

The bride wore for her marriage a street-length two-piece suit of white gabardine with matching accessories, and carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses. Mrs. Martha Graghan, sister-in-law of the bride and matron of honor, wore a summer print dress with matching accessories and a corsage of red rosebuds. Dellett Graghan, Morgantown, was best man.

Mrs. Graghan lived with her grandparents in Parsons while attending Parsons High School, from where she was graduated in 1947. Since that time she has been employed in Morgantown. Mr. Graghan is a graduate of University High School, Morgantown, and is now employed as a miner. They are residing in Morgantown.

Coming Baby's Way Are Yam "Sweets"

No longer need the very young (baby, to be exact) look longingly at the golden vegetable on the grown-ups' table. Junior will soon have his very own yam sweet potatoes because one of the big packers is going to add yam sweet potatoes fixed just right for little fellows to its regular line of baby foods.

It's no wonder yam sweet potatoes will soon be a regular baby food item since this vegetable of pleasant flavor and delicious, sugary texture is an excellent source of vitamin A and it's high in food energy. The very color of yam sweet potatoes—a rich red-gold—has plenty of appetite appeal and as for vitamin A, one average size yam sweet potatoe furnishes the daily allowance all by itself!

MR. AND MRS. KARL RICHARD McELFISH

Harriet Hughes Becomes Bride Of K. R. McElfish

Ceremony Performed In Frostburg

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Hughes, Frostburg, announce the marriage of their daughter, Harriet Isabel, to Karl Richard McElfish, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe McElfish, Sr., Cumberland.

The ceremony was performed Wednesday evening at St. John's Protestant Episcopal Church, Frostburg, with Rev. Lewis B. Browne, rector, performing the ceremony.

Preceding the marriage ceremony, Miss Lola Jean Holler, Hyndman, Pa., who graduated from nursing school with the bride, sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly." Sam Walker, Jr., played the organ accompaniments for the soloist and also the traditional wedding marches.

The bride was attired in pearl white wedding gown with a veil held by a coronet of pearls. She carried a bouquet of sweetpeas, camellas and lilly petals. Her only ornament was a pearl necklace. She was attended by Miss Phyllis McElfish, sister of the bridegroom, who was attired in a yellow taffeta dress and carried a bouquet of asters, roses and sweetpeas. Roscoe McElfish, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

600 Attend B And O Vet's Outing; Pin, Memberships Given

Of the 600 attending the B and O Veterans and Auxiliary annual picnic Thursday at Terra Alta, approximately 400 were from Cumberland, Henry W. Bloss, general chairman, reports. The local delegation was met at the station by Mayor W. E. Turley, the City Council, citizens of Terra Alta and the high school band, and escorted to the Community Park for the outing.

Myers G. Light, past president of the organization, served as master of ceremonies for the program which included talks and a band concert.

Roy E. Collins, Staten Island, grand president, addressed the group and discussed a membership drive and the condition of the railroad in general. Short talks were given by officials from both here and Terra Alta and by Mr. Bloss, who also presented a veteran pin as a personal gift to Mayor Turley; and honorary membership cards to Mayor and Mrs. Turley. Mrs. George Wenrich, president of Allison Auxiliary, made some brief remarks.

Games of all kinds were played and prizes won by Julia Lee, Maryland Avenue; Lee Daniels, Locust Grove; Mrs. Mary Apple, Arch Street, and C. W. Johnson, city. Dancing featured the entertainment during the evening and a ball game in the afternoon.

Mr. Bloss was assisted by Mrs. Wenrich with arrangements.

The regular business meeting is to be held September 1 in the B and O YMCA at which time plans for the fall activities will be formulated.

Former Parsons Girl Is Married

PARSONS, W. Va.—Mr. and Mrs. French Rennix, Parsons, have received word of the marriage of their granddaughter, Donna Jean Orr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Orr, Morgantown, to Walter Graghan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dellett Graghan, Morgantown.

The single-ring ceremony was solemnized in St. Paul's Methodist Church, Oakland, Md., on July 14, at 10 a. m. by Rev. Denver C. Pickens, pastor.

The bride wore for her marriage a street-length two-piece suit of white gabardine with matching accessories, and carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses. Mrs. Martha Graghan, sister-in-law of the bride and matron of honor, wore a summer print dress with matching accessories and a corsage of red rosebuds. Dellett Graghan, Morgantown, was best man.

Mrs. Graghan lived with her grandparents in Parsons while attending Parsons High School, from where she was graduated in 1947. Since that time she has been employed in Morgantown. Mr. Graghan is a graduate of University High School, Morgantown, and is now employed as a miner. They are residing in Morgantown.

Coming Baby's Way Are Yam "Sweets"

No longer need the very young (baby, to be exact) look longingly at the golden vegetable on the grown-ups' table. Junior will soon have his very own yam sweet potatoes because one of the big packers is going to add yam sweet potatoes fixed just right for little fellows to its regular line of baby foods.

It's no wonder yam sweet potatoes will soon be a regular baby food item since this vegetable of pleasant flavor and delicious, sugary texture is an excellent source of vitamin A and it's high in food energy. The very color of yam sweet potatoes—a rich red-gold—has plenty of appetite appeal and as for vitamin A, one average size yam sweet potatoe furnishes the daily allowance all by itself!

Harriet Hughes Becomes Bride Of K. R. McElfish

Ceremony Performed In Frostburg

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Hughes, Frostburg, announce the marriage of their daughter, Harriet Isabel, to Karl Richard McElfish, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe McElfish, Sr., Cumberland.

The ceremony was performed Wednesday evening at St. John's Protestant Episcopal Church, Frostburg, with Rev. Lewis B. Browne, rector, performing the ceremony.

Preceding the marriage ceremony, Miss Lola Jean Holler, Hyndman, Pa., who graduated from nursing school with the bride, sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly." Sam Walker, Jr., played the organ accompaniments for the soloist and also the traditional wedding marches.

The bride was attired in pearl white wedding gown with a veil held by a coronet of pearls. She carried a bouquet of sweetpeas, camelias and lilly petals. Her only ornament was a pearl necklace. She was attended by Miss Phyllis McElfish, sister of the bridegroom, who was attired in a yellow taffeta dress and carried a bouquet of asters, roses and sweetpeas. Roscoe McElfish, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

The bride is a graduate of Beall High School, class of 1945, and Allegany Hospital School of Nursing, class of 1948. The groom is employed at the Celanese plant. After a short honeymoon, the couple will reside at 805 Maryland Avenue, Cumberland.

Little boys sometimes fall out with their playmates and they have a childish spat. These little tiffs seldom amount to anything more than a tongue stuck out, an ugly face, and maybe a threatening gesture. The causes of these juvenile clashes are usually soon forgotten.

If grown-ups could patch up their disagreements and quarrels as easily as children can, we would have better neighborhoods, better homes, and better human relations.

And if nations could be induced to seek a peaceful settlement of international differences, instead of resorting to war, it would put an end to untold human misery and years of heart-breaking desolation.

Religion is the only influence that can turn men's minds from war and strife to the ways of peace and goodwill. By attending the services of the Church regularly, and by supporting its local, foreign mission, and world relief programs, you will make a real contribution to world peace and goodwill among men.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Worrying About Dates? Worst Thing To Do Is To Talk About It

By NANCY MOTTRAM

Nancy Mottram

(Q) "Dear Nancy: I recently went out with a boy I hadn't ever known too well. We had a wonderful time, and I'd like to date him again, but when he took me home, he didn't mention anything about calling me, or seeing me in the future. It's only been a week since that date, and maybe it's too soon to start worrying, but I'm afraid one date will be the extent of our friendship. I don't meet him very often, so if he's forgotten me, I'm afraid I won't be around to remind him. Will you tell me if theres anything I can do?

(A) It yon't do you any good to go over every minute of the date to try to remember if you said the wrong thing at any time, or offended him. If your opinion of the date is "wonderful," you can bank on the fact that he must have enjoyed your company, too, or the evening would have left an unhappy impression. You'll just have to bide your time and wait. He might have other activities on the fire that leave him no spare time this weekend. Keep mum about about your problems, for if wind of your feelings reaches him, chances for another date are likely to drop to zero. Just get hold of your patience, and outside of being friendly when you do run into him, act causal about the whole matter. He may come back, and he may not. But keeping quiet about your worries will spare you any embarrassment or lengthy explanations if your hopes don't materialize.

(Q) "Dear Nancy: My older sister is continually trying to fight battles for me. There's only two years' difference in our ages, and we've always been close. I confide in her a lot and whenever anything goes wrong in my life, she takes it upon herself to straighten it out. I appreciate her interest and concern and all that, but I'm old enough to handle my difficulties myself. She just won't take any hint. What should I do?"

(A) You can't come right out and tell her that your business is your own private concern, because she's doing what she thinks is best for you. Your only hope of getting out of the situation with as few hurt feelings as possible is to cut down your confidences. Tell her the small everyday things, but leave out anything that would inspire her to go to your defense. Take care of your worries yourself and establish that as an accepted pattern. With nothing to work with, she won't be able to add her energy to your affairs—and you'll begin living your own life.

(Q) "Dear Nancy: A fellow I like is very quiet, and doesn't date very much. How can I help him to go around in our crowd, go to our parties and generally be one of our gang? I'd like to go out with him, but since our group sticks together pretty much, I want him to join us. How could I arrange that?"

(A) Start right off by inviting him to your next gathering. Let him get to know the fellows and girls and include him in all the get-togethers you have. Give him a little time to become acquainted, and he'll fit in with no difficulty. Then, dates with you are almost sure to follow.

If you have a school, family or friend problem. Nancy can help you. Letters are answered in this column.

Drew Hurls And Bats Amvets Into First Place

Danny Notches 4th Mound Win Over Westvaco

Hits Two Triples, Fans Eight In 6-1 Victory

Danny Drew stole the show yesterday as the Cumberland Amvets defeated Westvaco at Community Park by the score of 6-1 and moved into first place tie with the Frostburg V.F.W. in the Bi-State Baseball League.

The former International Leaguer, who plays about ever position on the diamond, let the Papermakers down with five hits, all singles, threw the third strike past eight batsmen, notched his fourth straight pitching triumph of the league campaign and accounted for four of the Amvets' tallies by belting over a trio with two lusty triples to the fence and scored once himself.

Drew's other mound victories this season were scored over Lonaconing, 5-2, Midland 8-5 and Mt. Savage, 13-12 in 13 innings.

Danny had Westvaco blanked until the ninth when an error robbed him of a shutout. Elmer Huffman singled and went all the way to third on Clark's two-base error in right. After Mosser fanned, Tysinger grounded out and Huffman raced home on the play.

In the first frame after Sammy DeLuca walked and pilfered second, Drew hammered a triple to the right field fence to send over the first run of the game. Manager Norman Gerdeman came through with a two-run double in the 5th to score Joe Geatz who had walked and "Shake" Clark who had singled.

Drew's big war club produced two more tallies in the 8th when a triple to the fence in the right-center scored DeLuca and Summers after they had worked Cooper for passes. Charley Strauss then smacked a single to send Drew over the platter.

The Amvets' unbeaen hurler failed to issue a pass and he was the only player to obtain more than one hit.

Tomorrow Barton will play the Amvets at Community Park at 3 p. m. In other games at 2:30 Midland invades Frostburg, Lonaconing at Keyser and Hyndman Firemen at Queen City (Stitcher Field).

Westvaco's games with Hyndman today and Mt. Savage tomorrow have been postponed on account of the tournament in Westernport in which Westvaco is a participant. Box:

Legion And Eagles Play Series Final

Leaders Seek Sweep In Game Here Today

Cumberland's American Legion tossers hope to sweep the season's series with the Cumberland F. O. Eagles when they do battle with the latter today at 4 o'clock in an Interstate League game at Community Park.

The league leaders defeated the Eagles on June 5 by the score of 9-0. Pat Creegan fanned 16 in gaining the verdict over Lefty Lou Stitcher. On July 11 Norman Geatz twirled the Legion to an 8-1 decision over Larry Hansrote. Today's game is the final of the series between the teams this season.

Last season the Legion won three out of four contests from the Eagles.

The Birds now occupy sixth place in the league and if they expect to get into the playoffs like last season they'll have to hustle as the regular campaign draws to a close in another month.

With the Eagles at Barrelville, the Moose at Ridgeley and the Legion at Front Royal, Va., for a game with the American Viscose Company, no Interstate League games are on tap here Sunday. Moorefield plays the Reds at Centerville, Pa., and the Romney Rockets battle the V.F.W. at Hyndman, Pa., in other Sunday contests.

Dodgers Recall Snider

NEW YORK, Aug. 6 (AP) — The Brooklyn National League Baseball Club today swapped Dick Whitman to its Montreal farm club in the International League in exchange for Duke Snider, another outfielder.

Snider was with the Dodgers earlier this season.

REGISTERED SHOOT SCHEDULED SUNDAY AT RIDGELEY TRAPS

The Ridgeley Rod and Gun Club will hold a registered trapshooting tournament at its traps on the Frankfort Road, Sunday, commencing at 11 a. m., Tony Francis, chairman of the club's trapshooting committee, announced last night.

The program will comprise 100 16-yard targets, 50 handicap and 25 pairs of doubles.

Bucky Walters Replaces Neun As Reds' Pilot

Pitcher To Head Team Remainder Of Season

Bucky Walters

Neun has been with the club for the past year and a half. The club recently has had a losing streak but defeated the league leading Boston Braves three out of four games in a series that ended only last night.

It was at Walters own suggestion that his appointment be only for the remainder of the season.

Neun is the fourth National League manager to be dropped this year. On Friday, July 16, Ben Chapman was ousted at Philadelphia only a few hours after Mel Ott's release as boss of the New York Giants was announced.

Leo Durocher was shipped to the Giants by Brooklyn and Burt Shotton was recalled from semi-retirement to direct the Dodgers.

The Reds have won 44 and lost 56 under Neun this season. Much was expected of them this year but the entire team showed the effects of an injury to Ewell Blackwell, generally rated the loop's best pitcher.

Neun came to the Reds after directing the New York Yankees for a short period at the close of 1946. Prior to that he had bossed Yankee farms at Newark and Kansas City. He started his managerial career at Akron, Ohio, in 1935.

As a player Neun was with Detroit and the Boston Nationals. While at Detroit he gained fame for an unassisted triple play against Cleveland on May 31, 1927.

Walters came to the Philadelphia Phillies as an infielder and was remodeled into a pitcher there. He was traded to the Reds in 1938. There he and Paul Derringer pitched the club to National League pennants in 1939 and 1940. The Reds also won the world series in 1940, Walters pitching a pair of victories.

The announcement of Neun's release was made prior to tonight's game between the Reds and Dodgers at Ebbets Field.

Westport Post Beats Hagerstown Legion

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Aug. 6 (AP)—Westport of Baltimore came through with a ninth inning spurt tonight to down Hagerstown's Morris Frock Post 42, 8 to 5, in the state American Legion Junior Baseball Tournament here.

Westport eliminated Silver Springs this afternoon, 11-3.

Tomorrow Hagerstown will meet Rising Sun. The winner of that match will meet Westport in a single game tomorrow night and again for a double-header Sunday afternoon for the state crown.

Ohio Mayors Sent Indian Invitations

CLEVELAND, Aug. 6 (INS) — President Bill Veeck of the Cleveland Indians today invited every "mayor and his wife" from all Ohio cities, villages and hamlets to a "thank you" party the night of Aug. 20.

"I wish I could ask all the fans who have helped to build our record attendance," Veeck said. "However, I'd like to have their official representatives gathered together in one big party."

A buffet supper will be served the guests behind the outfield fence in the stadium and afterwards they will witness the night game between the Tribe and the Chicago White Sox.

The invitations have been sent to approximately 1,000 mayors in the state. Veeck and Mayor Thomas A. Burke of Cleveland will be co-hosts.

Gordon, Clark Clout Homers; Feller Wins

CLEVELAND, Aug. 6 (AP)—Home runs by a pair of ex-Yankees, Joe Gordon and Allie Clark, sparked the league-leading Cleveland Indians to a 9 to 7 victory over New York tonight before a crowd of 71,268—the third of the week to surpass the 70,000 mark.

Bob Feller received credit for the win, his first of the year over the Yankees, but he was replaced by Ed Klieman when the Yanks tallied four runs in the eighth. Russ Christopher replaced Klieman when the Bronx Bombers threatened in the ninth and ended the game with one pitch. Score:

BROWNS EDGE A'S, 2-1

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 6 (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics, battling to remain in the thick of the American League pennant fight, dropped a heart-breaking 2 to 1 decision to the St. Louis Browns tonight before 4,600 chilled fans. Dick Kokos, Browns' rookie outfielder, doubled home one run and nailed the tieing run with a perfect throw to the plate in the eighth inning. Score:

Reed's, Astor Cab Win In City Loop

Scaletta Fans Eight, Cumiskey Steals Home

Gene Scaletta struck out seven consecutive batters yesterday as Reed's Electricians took the measure of Astor Restaurant in a City Softball League game at East Side Field. The score was 9-4.

Scaletta whiffed the final batter to face him in the second inning and then fanned the side in the third and fourth stanzas to run his total victims to eight in the game.

It marked the fifth time this season that Manager John Mangus, Sr., had won over his son, John Mangus, Jr., who guides the destinies of Astor Restaurant, formerly Mower's Bakery team.

The victory gave Reed's undisputed possession of third place with eight wins and three losses. North End dropped to 4th with a 6-5 record.

"Moose" Minnick and Ronnie Armbruster of Reed's and Bobby Goss of Astor rapped out two hits each.

Astor Cab won a fast 1-0 battle from North End Social and Athletic Club at Stitcher Field. Charley Cumiskey's walk, Lou Baker's single, a double steal and Cumiskey's theft of home in the 6th inning produced the lone run in this contest. Bill Underdonk limited North End to three singles while Charley Cumiskey obtained two of the six hits given up by Tyree. Bill Dean turned in several nice catches in centerfield for the Cabbies.

The Amvets-Lacy's and Crusaders-Ballard's games were postponed. Scores:

CLYDE WILSON TO JOIN NORTH FOOTBALL SQUAD

Clyde "Fats" Wilson, of Ridgeley, will leave today for Fort Lee, near Dunbar, W. Va., for two weeks' training with the North football squad which will meet the South team in West Virginia's annual high school grid classic set for Charleston on August 20.

Wilson is a tackle and has starred with Ridgeley High School for several seasons. He was graduated in June.

"Fats" plans to enroll at Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Blacksburg, Va., in the fall.

"Ike" Williams To Defend Title Against Flores

Bout Set For Sept. 22 At Yankee Stadium

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, Aug. 6 (AP) — New York's boxing war flared again today.

The Twentieth Century Sporting Club signed lightweight champion Ike Williams to defend his crown against Jesse Flores of Stockton, Calif., at the Yankee Stadium, Sept. 22 as a counter attraction to the Tournament of Champions' Sept. 23 title doubleheader at Ebbetts Field.

Going through with its announced plans of lining up a Sept. 22 show, Mike Jacobs' organization, which virtually has run big time boxing for more than a decade, thus assured the new promoters of competition. It's quite possible that both shows may lose money.

Co-Feature Is Sought

Matchmaker Nat Rogers of the Twentieth Century was busy lining up a secondary bout to co-feature with Williams and Flores. A heavyweight pairing between Joe Baksi, the Kulpmont, Pa., fat man, and cagey Lee Savold of Paterson, N. J., was one possibility. More likely is a meeting of featherweight king Willie Pep of Hartford, Conn., and rugged Paddy De Marco of New York in an overweight battle.

In an event there will be competition for the ambitious new organization, which is gambling heavily with guarantees to stage on the same program a middleweight championship fight between Tony Zale and Marcel Cerdan and a return light heavyweight title scrap between Freddie Mills of England and Gus Lesnevich, whom he recently dethroned.

Promoter Andy Niederreiter of the Tournament of Champions has posted $150,000 to be split between

Lloyd Mangrum Wins Over Locke By Two Strokes

Victor Posts 275 And Wins $10,000

By CHARLES EINSTEIN
International News Service Sports Writer

CHICAGO, Aug. 6—(INS)—Lloyd Mangrum won the $31,000 All-American Professional Golf tournament today when defending champion Bobby Locke, of South Africa, needing only a par on the 18th hole to tie, dropped his approach into a stream below the final green.

Mangrum, the home professional at Tam O'Shanter in name if not in constant presence, hurtled ahead with a stirring four-under-par 68 on today's final round at Tam.

He had started the final 18 one stroke back of Locke and Herman Barron, the 1946 All-American winner who fell off to a two-over-par 74 today.

A birdie-3 on the 18th, Locke's favorite hole, would have given him the title and the neat $5,000 first prize. Instead, Bobby's second shot, traveling too high and caught by the wind, struck the branches of an oak guarding the green and dropped back down a small hill and into the water.

Locke had to play another ball, was on the green in four, then two-putted for the 6 that gave him a 72-hole total of 279, two strokes behind Mangrum's 277.

Not only did he garner $5,000 for winning this, the world's richest golf tournament, but Mangrum pulled down another $5,000 from sponsor George May for becoming the leading money winner of golfdom's so-called Golden Trail.

Mangrum has now earned $25,945 in the golfing wars this year. Ben Hogan has $25,297.

Hogan was not around to compete in the All-American, but will be on hand tomorrow and Sunday

Cyril Walker, Former Golf Champ, Dies Penniless In Police Station

Won Over Bobby Jones In 1924 National Open

HACKENSACK, N. J., Aug. 6 (INS) —A man identified by police as Cyril Walker, once one of America's great golfers, was found dead today in the Hackensack police station.

Police said the 57-year-old former National Open Champion was poverty-stricken and had obtained a night's lodging in the station.

Death was ascribed to natural causes. He was found sitting upright in a chair where he had spent the night.

The height of Walker's golf career came in 1924 when he won the National Open championship by beating out Bobby Jones for the title at Oakland Hills, Birmingham, Mich., in 1924.

After winning the American Open crown with a score of 297 to Jones's 300 for 72 holes, Walker served at several clubs as a professional.

He dropped from the limelight a number of years ago. Authorities said he recently had been working as a dish washer but was penniless when he came to the police station last night.

Giants Stave Off Bucs' Late Rally To Score 7-6 Win

New York Ends Losing Streak Of Three Games

NEW YORK, Aug. 6—(AP)—The New York Giants staved off a last ditch rally to nose out the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-6 today and end a three game losing streak.

Ray Poat had the Pirates tamed on six hits and enjoyed a 7-3 lead going into the ninth inning when an error by Bill Rigney started the Pirates on a three-run rally.

Rigney booted Ralph Kiner's leadoff grounder. After Max West fouled out, Frankie Gustine and Danny Murtaugh singled to plate Kiner and drive Poat from the hill in favor of Sheldon Jones.

Jones got Clyde Kluttz to ground out with Gustine and Murtaugh advancing. Pinch-hitter Wally Westlake followed with a two-run single but Jones induced Stan Rojek to bounce out to end the game. Box:

LaSalle Gridders Report Tomorrow

Candidates for LaSalle High School's football team will report tomorrow at 1 p. m., at Carroll Hall for their initial workout at St. Patrick's Terrace.

Phil Carolan, head coach of the Explorers, who will have Jim Gaffney and Ronald Palmer as his assistants, announced last night that 45 boys attended a meeting held at Carroll Hall on Thursday night and all were instructed to report on Sunday.

LaSalle is planning to hold a football camp at Stillwaters, near Flintstone, commencing August 25. Thirty-five to 40 boys will be taken to camp for an eleven-day training period.

Babe Zaharias Wins

CHICAGO, Aug. 6. (INS)—Babe Didrikson Zaharias smashed the Tam O'Shanter course record today with a five-under-par 71 to overtake Patty Berb and win the $4,500 All-American Women's Open golf classic.

Miss Berg, with a two-stroke lead over the Babe at the three-quarters point last night, had a par 76 today. But that was good for no more than second place with the 72-hole total of 312, three strokes behind Mrs. Zaharias' 309.

Johnny Horn successfully performed the "iron man" stunt yesterday when he pitched the Narrows Park Cardinals into third place in the County Softball League by turning back Allegany Grove on the latter's field in both ends of a doubleheader. The scores were 5-2 and 4-2.

In the opener Dick Troutman rapped a double and two singles to four trips to lead the Park's attack while Donnie Keiser of Allegany Grove garnered two hits in each game. The second contest was limited to 5½ innings on account of darkness.

The Phone Workers upset the Hyndman Firemen at Hyndman in a 2-1 battle in which Ogelbay was returned the winner over Bittner. The Firemen's lone tally was a homer by Sisk in the 5th inning. Jack Shaffer of Hyndman and Baughman of the Phone Workers collected two hits each.

Potomac Valley's Cubs retained second place 3½ games in the rear of Wellersburg by swamping Bedford Road, 19-3. The winners racked up 18 hits, including two doubles by Thompson with the bases loaded each time and a homer by Kemp. Lease, Cecil, Sherman and Armstrong banged out three safeties each. Hendrickson and Cameron each hit safely twice for Bedford Road.

Frank Toler chalked up his 22nd win of the season against six losses when he stopped Corriganville's 7-game winning streak by pitching Wellersburg to a 6-2 triumph. The Wellersburg ace yielded only four hits while C. O'Baker belted a homer and double and Weimer accounted for two doubles and a single. Lyle Fleegle got two of Corriganville's bingles.

Ellerslie won by forfeit over the defunct Corner Merchants. Scores:

Mt. Lake Park Tennis Meet To Open Monday

OAKLAND, Md., Aug. 6(AP)—Some 40 players are expected to take part in the Western Maryland Tennis Championships which get underway Monday at nearby Mt. Lake Park courts. It will be the 27th annual tourney.

General Chairman Ralph E. Weber said 27 entries already have been received but said he expects the roster to reach 40, topping last year's total.

The events include men's and women's singles and doubles and mixed doubles.

Two former champions are expected to compete this year. John H. Curtiss, of Washington, D. C. took home the Major W. N. Skyles Cup last season after winning it three years running. Mrs. Elizabeth Hugus Smith, of Wheeling, W. Va., already has one inscription on the Frances Grimes Memorial Bowl which will go to a three-times winner.

A new trophy, a three-year challenge cup for the men's singles champion, is to be offered this year.

Pacific Coast Lad Captures 10-Sport Grind

17-Year-Old Athlete Scores 7,139 Points

Mrs. Victoria Draves Sweeps Diving Events

LONDON, Aug. 6 (AP)—America furnished the 1948 Olympics its best all-round athlete — decathlon winner Bob Mathias of Tulare, Calif.—today and her gifted water stars splashed to three more championships in another glorious day for the red, white and blue.

Bob Mathias

These triumphs, coupled with a pair of sensational successes on the part of sturdy Europeans, headlined the seventh day of this international competition, staged in a cold drizzle.

Mathias, a 17-year-old high school lad who ripples with educated muscles, wound up a rigorous two-day, ten-sport grind with 7,139 points.

He started early in the morning with the 110-meter hurdles, followed with the discus and pole vault and finished the last two events—the javelin and 1,500 meter run—in semi-darkness.

Finish Under Lights

Dog-track lights had to be turned on for the decathlon hardies after their competition ran into the late evening. Yesterday's events were the 100 meter run, broad jump, shot put, high jump and 400 meter run.

Young Mathias' amazing proficiency in many athletic lines provided only one of the thrills for 55,000 fans who suffered through the dismal, drenching day at Wembley Stadium.

The 30-year-old Dutch mother, Mrs. Fannie Blankers-Koen, made Olympic history by winning the 200-meter dash for her third championship of the games. Sweden's indefatiguable Henri Eriksson scored a smashing upset to prevail in the gruelling 1,500 meter run.

Another housewife—pretty, brunette Mrs. Victoria Manalo Draves of Pasadena, Calif.—also wrote a new chapter in the Olympic books when she won the women's high board diving competition and set off a fast string of American water triumphs.

Makes Sweep In Diving

This made an unprecedented women's diving sweep for the 23-year-old Californian of Filipino-English parentage, who earlier had taken top honors in the springboard. Patricia Ann Elsener, 18, of San Francisco was runnerup in the tower dive.

Allen Stack, Yale University's swim captain, captured the 100-meter backstroke. The U. S. team, anchored by blonde Ann Curtis of San Francisco, won the 400-meter women's relay and stretched America's water victories to nine.

The men have won every event in which they've competed—six in a row—and the women have taken down three crowns.

Stack splashed the 100-meter back stroke in 1:06.4, beating out teammate Robert Cowell of Pittsburgh, a Navy ensign.

The 22-year-old Miss Curtis was the star in the 400-meter relay conquest as the Americans won the event in the Olympic record time of 4 minutes, 29.2 seconds.

Ann Curtis Features

There was no official timing of Miss Curtis' 100-meter closing drive but unofficial clockers set her time at 1:04.2 for the 100 meter leg, considerably below the women's world record.

Other members of the team are Marie Corridon of Norwalk, Conn., Thelma Kalama, a Hawaiian, and Brenda Helser of Los Angeles and San Francisco.

The three U. S. representatives—Joe Verdeur of Philadelphia, Keith Carter of Purdue University and Bob Sohl of the University of Michigan—qualified for the finals of the 200-meter breast stroke, to be contested tomorrow with an American victory virtually assured.

Verdeur won his semifinal heat in 2:40.7, beating the old Olympic record but falling short of his existing mark of 2:40 flat established yesterday.

Carter was second to Verdeur, and Sohl finished third in another heat, won by Ahmed Kandill of Egypt in 2:43.7.

On other scattered Olympic fronts:

U. S. Cagers Win 61-33

The towering, sharpshooting U. S. basketball team rolled over Peru, 61-33, making a sweep of its five games in the round robin preliminaries and going into the championship tournament. The team will play Uruguay in the first round Monday.

The U. S. yachtmen scored well again in the congested Torquay Harbor, winning the Star Class race and finishing third in two others. The Americans lead team placings in two classes—the star and international six meter—and have a good chance to win the overall championships, with three races remaining.

Two U. S. rowing crews—the pair oars with and without coxwain—were eliminated in second chance heats of Henley on the Thames but the Americans are still well represented in this phase of competition.

Five entries remain in the semifinals and quarterfinals, including California's slick eight-oar crew and sculler John B. Kelly, Jr., of Philadelphia, seeking to duplicate his father's triumph of 1920.

Drew Hurls And Bats Amvets Into First Place

Hits Two Triples, Fans Eight In 6-1 Victory

Danny Drew stole the show yesterday as the Cumberland Amvets defeated Westvaco at Community Park by the score of 6-1 and moved into first place tie with the Frostburg V.F.W. in the Bi-State Baseball League.

The former International Leaguer, who plays about ever position on the diamond, let the Papermakers down with five hits, all singles, threw the third strike past eight batsmen, notched his fourth straight pitching triumph of the league campaign and accounted for four of the Amvets' tallies by belting over a trio with two lusty triples to the fence and scored once himself.

Drew's other mound victories this season were scored over Lonaconing, 5-2, Midland 8-5 and Mt. Savage, 13-12 in 13 innings.

Danny had Westvaco blanked until the ninth when an error robbed him of a shutout. Elmer Huffman singled and went all the way to third on Clark's two-base error in right. After Mosser fanned, Tysinger grounded out and Huffman raced home on the play.

In the first frame after Sammy DeLuca walked and pilfered second, Drew hammered a triple to the right field fence to send over the first run of the game. Manager Norman Gerdeman came through with a two-run double in the 5th to score Joe Geatz who had walked and "Shake" Clark who had singled.

Drew's big war club produced two more tallies in the 8th when a triple to the fence in the right-center scored DeLuca and Summers after they had worked Cooper for passes. Charley Strauss then smacked a single to send Drew over the platter.

The Amvets' unbeaen hurler failed to issue a pass and he was the only player to obtain more than one hit.

Tomorrow Barton will play the Amvets at Community Park at 3 p. m. In other games at 2:30 Midland invades Frostburg, Lonaconing at Keyser and Hyndman Firemen at Queen City (Stitcher Field).

Westvaco's games with Hyndman today and Mt. Savage tomorrow have been postponed on account of the tournament in Westernport in which Westvaco is a participant.

Legion And Eagles Play Series Final

Leaders Seek Sweep In Game Here Today

Cumberland's American Legion tossers hope to sweep the season's series with the Cumberland F. O. Eagles when they do battle with the latter today at 4 o'clock in an Interstate League game at Community Park.

The league leaders defeated the Eagles on June 5 by the score of 9-0. Pat Creegan fanned 16 in gaining the verdict over Lefty Lou Stitcher. On July 11 Norman Geatz twirled the Legion to an 8-1 decision over Larry Hansrote. Today's game is the final of the series between the teams this season.

Last season the Legion won three out of four contests from the Eagles.

The Birds now occupy sixth place in the league and if they expect to get into the playoffs like last season they'll have to hustle as the regular campaign draws to a close in another month.

With the Eagles at Barrelville, the Moose at Ridgeley and the Legion at Front Royal, Va., for a game with the American Viscose Company, no Interstate League games are on tap here Sunday. Moorefield plays the Reds at Centerville, Pa., and the Romney Rockets battle the V.F.W. at Hyndman, Pa., in other Sunday contests.

Dodgers Recall Snider

NEW YORK, Aug. 6 (AP) — The Brooklyn National League Baseball Club today swapped Dick Whitman to its Montreal farm club in the International League in exchange for Duke Snider, another outfielder.

Snider was with the Dodgers earlier this season.

REGISTERED SHOOT SCHEDULED SUNDAY AT RIDGELEY TRAPS

The Ridgeley Rod and Gun Club will hold a registered trapshooting tournament at its traps on the Frankfort Road, Sunday, commencing at 11 a. m., Tony Francis, chairman of the club's trapshooting committee, announced last night.

The program will comprise 100 16-yard targets, 50 handicap and 25 pairs of doubles.

Bucky Walters Replaces Neun As Reds' Pilot

Pitcher To Head Team Remainder Of Season

Bucky Walters

Neun has been with the club for the past year and a half. The club recently has had a losing streak but defeated the league leading Boston Braves three out of four games in a series that ended only last night.

It was at Walters own suggestion that his appointment be only for the remainder of the season.

Neun is the fourth National League manager to be dropped this year. On Friday, July 16, Ben Chapman was ousted at Philadelphia only a few hours after Mel Ott's release as boss of the New York Giants was announced.

Leo Durocher was shipped to the Giants by Brooklyn and Burt Shotton was recalled from semi-retirement to direct the Dodgers.

The Reds have won 44 and lost 56 under Neun this season. Much was expected of them this year but the entire team showed the effects of an injury to Ewell Blackwell, generally rated the loop's best pitcher.

Neun came to the Reds after directing the New York Yankees for a short period at the close of 1946. Prior to that he had bossed Yankee farms at Newark and Kansas City. He started his managerial career at Akron, Ohio, in 1935.

As a player Neun was with Detroit and the Boston Nationals. While at Detroit he gained fame for an unassisted triple play against Cleveland on May 31, 1927.

Walters came to the Philadelphia Phillies as an infielder and was remodeled into a pitcher there. He was traded to the Reds in 1938. There he and Paul Derringer pitched the club to National League pennants in 1939 and 1940. The Reds also won the world series in 1940. Walters pitching a pair of victories.

The announcement of Neun's release was made prior to tonight's game between the Reds and Dodgers at Ebbets Field.

Westport Post Beats Hagerstown Legion

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Aug. 6 (AP)—Westport of Baltimore came through with a ninth inning spurt tonight to down Hagerstown's Morris Frock Post 42, 8 to 5, in the state American Legion Junior Baseball Tournament here.

Westport eliminated Silver Springs this afternoon, 11-3.

Tomorrow Hagerstown will meet Rising Sun. The winner of that match will meet Westport in a single game tomorrow night and again for a double-header Sunday afternoon for the state crown.

Ohio Mayors Sent Indian Invitations

CLEVELAND, Aug. 6 (INS) — President Bill Veeck of the Cleveland Indians today invited every "mayor and his wife" from all Ohio cities, villages and hamlets to a "thank you" party the night of Aug. 20.

"I wish I could ask all the fans who have helped to build our record attendance," Veeck said. "However, I'd like to have their official representatives gathered together in one big party."

A buffet supper will be served the guests behind the outfield fence in the stadium and afterwards they will witness the night game between the Tribe and the Chicago White Sox.

The invitations have been sent to approximately 1,000 mayors in the state. Veeck and Mayor Thomas A. Burke of Cleveland will be co-hosts.

Gordon, Clark Clout Homers; Feller Wins

CLEVELAND, Aug. 6 (AP)—Home runs by a pair of ex-Yankees, Joe Gordon and Allie Clark, sparked the league-leading Cleveland Indians to a 9 to 7 victory over New York tonight before a crowd of 71,268—the third of the week to surpass the 70,000 mark.

Bob Feller received credit for the win, his first of the year over the Yankees, but he was replaced by Ed Klieman when the Yanks tallied four runs in the eighth. Russ Christopher replaced Klieman when the Bronx Bombers threatened in the ninth and ended the game with one pitch. Score:

Reed's, Astor Cab Win In City Loop

Scaletta Fans Eight, Cumiskey Steals Home

Gene Scaletta struck out seven consecutive batters yesterday as Reed's Electricians took the measure of Astor Restaurant in a City Softball League game at East Side Field. The score was 9-4.

Scaletta whiffed the final batter to face him in the second inning and then fanned the side in the third and fourth stanzas to run his total victims to eight in the game.

It marked the fifth time this season that Manager John Mangus, Sr., had won over his son, John Mangus, Jr., who guides the destinies of Astor Restaurant, formerly Mower's Bakery team.

The victory gave Reed's undisputed possession of third place with eight wins and three losses. North End dropped to 4th with a 6-5 record.

"Moose" Minnick and Ronnie Armbruster of Reed's and Bobby Goss of Astor rapped out two hits each.

Astor Cab won a fast 1-0 battle from North End Social and Athletic Club at Stitcher Field. Charley Cumiskey's walk, Lou Baker's single, a double steal and Cumiskey's theft of home in the 6th inning produced the lone run in this contest. Bill Underdonk limited North End to three singles while Charley Cumiskey obtained two of the six hits given up by Tyree. Bill Dean turned in several nice catches in centerfield for the Cabbies.

The Amvets-Lacy's and Crusaders-Ballard's games were postponed. Scores:

CLYDE WILSON TO JOIN NORTH FOOTBALL SQUAD

Clyde "Fats" Wilson, of Ridgeley, will leave today for Fort Lee, near Dunbar, W. Va., for two weeks' training with the North football squad which will meet the South team in West Virginia's annual high school grid classic set for Charleston on August 20.

Wilson is a tackle and has starred with Ridgeley High School for several seasons. He was graduated in June.

"Fats" plans to enroll at Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Blacksburg, Va., in the fall.

"Ike" Williams To Defend Title Against Flores

Bout Set For Sept. 22 At Yankee Stadium

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, Aug. 6 (AP) — New York's boxing war flared again today.

The Twentieth Century Sporting Club signed lightweight champion Ike Williams to defend his crown against Jesse Flores of Stockton, Calif., at the Yankee Stadium, Sept. 22 as a counter attraction to the Tournament of Champions' Sept. 23 title doubleheader at Ebbetts Field.

Going through with its announced plans of lining up a Sept. 22 show, Mike Jacobs' organization, which virtually has run big time boxing for more than a decade, thus assured the new promoters of competition. It's quite possible that both shows may lose money.

Co-Feature Is Sought

Matchmaker Nat Rogers of the Twentieth Century was busy lining up a secondary bout to co-feature with Williams and Flores. A heavyweight pairing between Joe Baksi, the Kulpmont, Pa., fat man, and cagey Lee Savold of Paterson, N. J., was one possibility. More likely is a meeting of featherweight king Willie Pep of Hartford, Conn., and rugged Paddy De Marco of New York in an overweight battle.

In an event there will be competition for the ambitious new organization, which is gambling heavily with guarantees to stage on the same program a middleweight championship fight between Tony Zale and Marcel Cerdan and a return light heavyweight title scrap between Freddie Mills of England and Gus Lesnevich, whom he recently dethroned.

Promoter Andy Niederreiter of the Tournament of Champions has posted $150,000 to be split between

Lloyd Mangrum Wins Over Locke By Two Strokes

Victor Posts 275 And Wins $10,000

By CHARLES EINSTEIN
International News Service Sports Writer

CHICAGO, Aug. 6—(INS)—Lloyd Mangrum won the $31,000 All-American Professional Golf tournament today when defending champion Bobby Locke, of South Africa, needing only a par on the 18th hole to tie, dropped his approach into a stream below the final green.

Mangrum, the home professional at Tam O'Shanter in name if not in constant presence, hurtled ahead with a stirring four-under-par 68 on today's final round at Tam.

He had started the final 18 one stroke back of Locke and Herman Barron, the 1946 All-American winner who fell off to a two-over-par 74 today.

A birdie-3 on the 18th, Locke's favorite hole, would have given him the title and the neat $5,000 first prize. Instead, Bobby's second shot, traveling too high and caught by the wind, struck the branches of an oak guarding the green and dropped back down a small hill and into the water.

Locke had to play another ball, was on the green in four, then two-putted for the 6 that gave him a 72-hole total of 279, two strokes behind Mangrum's 277.

Not only did he garner $5,000 for winning this, the world's richest golf tournament, but Mangrum pulled down another $5,000 from sponsor George May for becoming the leading money winner of golf-dom's so-called Golden Trail.

Mangrum has now earned $25,945 in the golfing wars this year. Ben Hogan has $25,297.

Hogan was not around to compete in the All-American, but will be on hand tomorrow and Sunday

Cyril Walker, Former Golf Champ, Dies Penniless In Police Station

Won Over Bobby Jones In 1924 National Open

HACKENSACK, N. J., Aug. 6 (INS) —A man identified by police as Cyril Walker, once one of America's great golfers, was found dead today in the Hackensack police station.

Police said the 57-year-old former National Open Champion was poverty-stricken and had obtained a night's lodging in the station.

Death was ascribed to natural causes. He was found sitting upright in a chair where he had spent the night.

The height of Walker's golf career came in 1924 when he won the National Open championship by beating out Bobby Jones for the title at Oakland Hills, Birmingham, Mich., in 1924.

A native of England, Walker twice qualified for the British Open before coming to America.

After winning the American Open crown with a score of 297 to Jones's 300 for 72 holes, Walker served at several clubs as a professional.

He dropped from the limelight a number of years ago. Authorities said he recently had been working as a dish washer but was penniless when he came to the police station last night.

Giants Stave Off Bucs' Late Rally To Score 7-6 Win

New York Ends Losing Streak Of Three Games

NEW YORK, Aug. 6—(AP)—The New York Giants staved off a last ditch rally to nose out the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-6 today and end a three game losing streak.

Ray Poat had the Pirates tamed on six hits and enjoyed a 7-3 lead going into the ninth inning when an error by Bill Rigney started the Pirates on a three-run rally.

Rigney booted Ralph Kiner's leadoff grounder. After Max West fouled out, Frankie Gustine and Danny Murtaugh singled to plate Kiner and drive Poat from the hill in favor of Sheldon Jones.

Jones got Clyde Kluttz to ground out with Gustine and Murtaugh advancing. Pinch-hitter Wally Westlake followed with a two-run single but Jones induced Stan Rojek to bounce out to end the game. Box:

LaSalle Gridders Report Tomorrow

Candidates for LaSalle High School's football team will report tomorrow at 1 p. m., at Carroll Hall for their initial workout at St. Patrick's Terrace.

Phil Carolan, head coach of the Explorers, who will have Jim Gaffney and Ronald Palmer as his assistants, announced last night that 45 boys attended a meeting held at Carroll Hall on Thursday night and all were instructed to report on Sunday.

LaSalle is planning to hold a football camp at Stillwaters, near Flintstone, commencing August 25. Thirty-five to 40 boys will be taken to camp for an eleven-day training period.

Babe Zaharias Wins

CHICAGO, Aug. 6. (INS)—Babe Didrikson Zaharias smashed the Tam O'Shanter course record today with a five-under-par 71 to overtake Patty Berb and win the $4,500 All-American Women's Open golf classic.

Miss Berg, with a two-stroke lead over the Babe at the three-quarters point last night, had a par 76 today. But that was good for no more than second place with the 72-hole total of 312, three strokes behind Mrs. Zaharias' 309.

Johnny Horn successfully performed the "iron man" stunt yesterday when he pitched the Narrows Park Cardinals into third place in the County Softball League by turning back Allegany Grove on the latter's field in both ends of a doubleheader. The scores were 5-2 and 4-2.

In the opener Dick Troutman rapped a double and two singles to four trips to lead the Park's attack while Donnie Keiser of Allegany Grove garnered two hits in each game. The second contest was limited to 5½ innings on account of darkness.

The Phone Workers upset the Hyndman Firemen at Hyndman in a 2-1 battle in which Ogelbay was returned the winner over Bittner. The Firemen's lone tally was a homer by Sisk in the 5th inning. Jack Shaffer of Hyndman and Baughman of the Phone Workers collected two hits each.

Potomac Valley's Cubs retained second place 3½ games in the rear of Wellersburg by swamping Bedford Road, 19-3. The winners racked up 18 hits, including two doubles by Thompson with the bases loaded each time and a homer by Kemp. Lease, Cecil, Sherman and Armstrong banged out three safeties each. Hendrickson and Cameron each hit safely twice for Bedford Road.

Frank Toler chalked up his 22nd win of the season against six losses when he stopped Corriganville's 7-game winning streak by pitching Wellersburg to a 6-2 triumph. The Wellersburg ace yielded only four hits while C. O'Baker belted a homer and double and Weimer accounted for two doubles and a single. Lyle Fleegle got two of Corriganville's bingles.

Ellerslie won by forfeit over the defunct Corner Merchants. Scores:

Mt. Lake Park Tennis Meet To Open Monday

OAKLAND, Md., Aug. 6(AP)—Some 40 players are expected to take part in the Western Maryland Tennis Championships which get underway Monday at nearby Mt. Lake Park courts. It will be the 27th annual tourney.

General Chairman Ralph E. Weber said 27 entries already have been received but said he expects the roster to reach 40, topping last year's total.

The events include men's and women's singles and doubles and mixed doubles.

Two former champions are expected to compete this year. John H. Curtiss, of Washington, D. C. took home the Major W. N. Skyles Cup last season after winning it three years running. Mrs. Elizabeth Hugus Smith, of Wheeling, W. Va., already has one inscription on the Frances Grimes Memorial Bowl which will go to a three-times winner.

A new trophy, a three-year challenge cup for the men's singles champion, is to be offered this year.

17-Year-Old Athlete Scores 7,139 Points

Mrs. Victoria Draves Sweeps Diving Events

LONDON, Aug. 6 (AP)—America furnished the 1948 Olympics its best all-round athlete — decathlon winner Bob Mathias of Tulare, Calif.—today and her gifted water stars splashed to three more championships in another glorious day for the red, white and blue.

Bob Mathias

These triumphs, coupled with a pair of sensational successes on the part of sturdy Europeans, headlined the seventh day of this international competition, staged in a cold drizzle.

Mathias, a 17-year-old high school lad who ripples with educated muscles, wound up a rigorous two-day, ten-sport grind with 7,139 points.

He started early in the morning with the 110-meter hurdles, followed with the discus and pole vault and finished the last two events—the javelin and 1,500 meter run—in semi-darkness.

Finish Under Lights

Dog-track lights had to be turned on for the decathlon hardies after their competition ran into the late evening. Yesterday's events were the 100 meter run, broad jump, shot put, high jump and 400 meter run.

Young Mathias' amazing proficiency in many athletic lines provided only one of the thrills for 55,000 fans who suffered through the dismal, drenching day at Wembley Stadium.

The 30-year-old Dutch mother, Mrs. Fannie Blankers-Koen, made Olympic history by winning the 200-meter dash for her third championship of the games. Sweden's indefatiguable Henri Eriksson scored a smashing upset to prevail in the gruelling 1,500 meter run.

Another housewife—pretty, brunette Mrs. Victoria Manalo Draves of Pasadena, Calif.—also wrote a new chapter in the Olympic books when she won the women's high board diving competition and set off a fast string of American water triumphs.

Makes Sweep In Diving

This made an unprecedented women's diving sweep for the 23-year-old Californian of Filipino-English parentage, who earlier had taken top honors in the springboard. Patricia Ann Elsener, 18, of San Francisco was runnerup in the tower dive.

Allen Stack, Yale University's swim captain, captured the 100-meter backstroke. The U. S. team, anchored by blonde Ann Curtis of San Francisco, won the 400-meter women's relay and stretched America's water victories to nine.

The men have won every event in which they've competed—six in a row—and the women have taken down three crowns.

Stack splashed the 100-meter back stroke in 1:06.4, beating out teammate Robert Cowell of Pittsburgh, a Navy ensign.

The 22-year-old Miss Curtis was the star in the 400-meter relay conquest as the Americans won the event in the Olympic record time of 4 minutes, 29.2 seconds.

Ann Curtis Features

There was no official timing of Miss Curtis' 100-meter closing drive but unofficial clockers set her time at 1:04.2 for the 100 meter leg, considerably below the women's world record.

Other members of the team are Marie Corridon of Norwalk, Conn., Thelma Kalama, a Hawaiian, and Brenda Helser of Los Angeles and San Francisco.

The three U. S. representatives—Joe Verdeur of Philadelphia, Keith Carter of Purdue University and Bob Sohl of the University of Michigan—qualified for the finals of the 200-meter breast stroke, to be contested tomorrow with an American victory virtually assured.

Verdeur won his semifinal heat in 2:40.7, beating the old Olympic record but falling short of his existing mark of 2:40 flat established yesterday.

Carter was second to Verdeur, and Sohl finished third in another heat, won by Ahmed Kandill of Egypt in 2:43.7.

On other scattered Olympic fronts:

U. S. Cagers Win 61-33

The towering, sharpshooting U. S. basketball team rolled over Peru, 61-33, making a sweep of its five games in the round robin preliminaries and going into the championship tournament. The team will play Uruguay in the first round Monday.

The U. S. yachtmen scored well again in the congested Torquay Harbor, winning the Star Class race and finishing third in two others. The Americans lead team placings in two classes—the star and international six meter—and have a good chance to win the overall championships, with three races remaining.

Two U. S. rowing crews—the pair oars with and without coxwain—were eliminated in second chance heats of Henley on the Thames but the Americans are still well represented in this phase of competition.

Five entries remain in the semi-finals and quarterfinals, including California's slick eight-oar crew and sculler John B. Kelly, Jr., of Philadelphia, seeking to duplicate his father's triumph of 1920.

Price Of Milk May Rise Here

An anticipated increase in milk prices in nearby Pennsylvania due to a ruling of the State Milk Control Commission of Pennsylvania is expected to force the price of milk in this area up two and a half cents per quart, local dairymen said yesterday.

The exact amount of the increase was to be set at a meeting today, but a check of several local dairy operators revealed that they knew nothing of the meeting.

One dairy manager said, however, that when the Pennsylvania order becomes effective August 16, Cumberland dairies will have no choice but to increase prices.

Maryland has no milk commission, and of course, is not legally bound by the action of the Pennsylvania commission, he pointed out, but he added that due to competition for milk local dairies must follow suit.

Nearby Bedford County is included in the section which is slated to hike prices. Hundreds of pounds of milk which are shipped daily to the Cumberland area would probably be sent to other states in the event prices are not hiked here.

The Pennsylvania order provides for an increase of 80 cents per hundred pounds in prices which the farmer receives for milk. The farmer will receive slightly less than two cents a quart, with the rest going to dealers to compensate for the rising cost of doing business.

An increase of two and one-half cents here would make the price of milk 22½ cents a quart. Baltimore dairies recently upped prices and a further jump is expected.

when Mangrum, Locke and 10 other proven professional hotshots compete at 36 holes of medal play for May's "World's Championship," worth $10,000, winner-take-all.

Sam Snead was at 283 and Johnny Revolta and Clayton Heafner were home with 286's.

the light heavyweights, $80,000 for Mills and $70,000 for Gus. Although Zale originally was guaranteed $120,000 to meet Cerdan, they claim it now has been changed to percentage. In any event the "nut" will be close to $400,000, counting fighters, rent and promotional expenses.

The new promoters expect to lose money on the deal but figure they will gain in prestige by staging two title fights on the same night.

"We don't pay guarantees," was the answer from a Twentieth Century spokesman when asked about the purses to be paid on the Sept. 22 show.

There still remains the delicate question of the Tournament of Champions receiving permission to stage their show. As of now, they are not licensed in New York, having put on their lone previous venture—Rocky Graziano vs. Zale—in Newark.

Price Of Milk May Rise Here

An anticipated increase in milk prices in nearby Pennsylvania due to a ruling of the State Milk Control Commission of Pennsylvania is expected to force the price of milk in this area up two and a half cents per quart, local dairymen said yesterday.

The exact amount of the increase was to be set at a meeting today, but a check of several local dairy operators revealed that they knew nothing of the meeting.

One dairy manager said, however, that when the Pennsylvania order becomes effective August 16, Cumberland dairies will have no choice but to increase prices.

Maryland has no milk commission, and of course, is not legally bound by the action of the Pennsylvania commission, he pointed out, but he added that due to competition for milk local dairies must follow suit.

Nearby Bedford County is included in the section which is slated to hike prices. Hundreds of pounds of milk which are shipped daily to the Cumberland area would probably be sent to other states in the event prices are not hiked here.

The Pennsylvania order provides for an increase of 80 cents per hundred pounds in prices which the farmer receives for milk. The farmer will receive slightly less than two cents a quart, with the rest going to dealers to compensate for the rising cost of doing business.

An increase of two and one-half cents here would make the price of milk 22½ cents a quart. Baltimore dairies recently upped prices and a further jump is expected.

Garrett Master School Building Plan Approved

Two Consolidated Schools Proposed

OAKLAND—Approval to the proposed master plan in principle, in the school building program for the county, was given Wednesday at a meeting of the Couny Commissioners. The County advisory committee named in the 1947 legislative bill, and R. Bowen Hardesty, assistant superintendent of schools met with the group.

Under the plan there would be constructed a southern regional junior-senior high school at or near Oakland, to cost approximately $1,404,000; a northern regional junior-senior high school at Keyser Ridge, to cost approximately $1,000,000, and improvements to Friendsville, Kitzmiller, Grantsville, Accident and Bloomington schools, as provided by the law of 1945.

According to Mr. Hardesty's figures, this would provide $20,000 for Friendsville, $15,000 each for Kitzmiller and Grantsville, $10,000 for Accident, and $9,000 for Bloomington, using the amounts as far as they would go in making them modern and permanent elementary centers.

Part I of the plan, recommended by the national consultants, also calls for improvements at Mt. Zion, Red House and Finzel schools, due to previous committments.

It was pointed out that although the Board of Education does not have the responsibility of school construction, the board has adopted the plan and the program has its hearty support.

The firm of Baker and Watts in Baltimore has advised that Garrett County cannot soundly finance a school building program beyond $2,500000, including cash on hand. Because of this the master plan is to be followed step by step as far as sound financing will permit, J. Edward Helbig, president of the Commissioners, stated.

Options are to be secured simultaneously for sites for both southern and northern junior-senior high schools, and architects will be interviewed by the commissioners and Mr. Hardesty within the next several days, the latter said. He also pointed out that plans would be limited to preliminary drawings at the present time and that detailed drawings would not be undertaken until later authorization.

A local committee, consisting of two persons each from Friendsville, Accident and Grantsville, has been selected for the northern unit, and a committee of three members each from Oakland and Kitzmiller has been named for the southern unit. Mr. Hardesty said the names would be made public as soon as they accepted their appointments.

The committees will first be concerned with discussing the program with him, Mr. Hardesty, the architects and with others charged with selecting sites to be recommended to the advisory committee and the County Commissioners.

It was added that local building committees also would be picked for elementary schools named in Part I at the time the improvements to those buildings are undertaken.

Action was taken also at the meeting last night to make preparation for making the present $1,500,000 bond issue already passed by the 1947 legislature, available for the October market.

Part II of the plan also was outlined at the meeting and accepted by the Commissioners and the Advisory committee.

The following are to be made modern elementary centers when an additional $1,000,000 becomes available from sources outside the county or when the county becomes financially able to carry additional indebtedness:

Oakland, Kitzmiller, Grantsville, Accident, Bloomington, Friendsville, Red House, Loch Lynn or Mt. Lake Park, Deer Park, North Glade; with work on the Kempton, Fairview, Mt. Zion, Bear Hill and Bethel schools if roads have not been improved by that time.

In accepting in principle the building program, Mr. Hardesty said the steps taken would affect 73 per cent of the pupils of the county and would put them in an environment of better housing conditions. "Every parent, present or future, will be a stockholder in one of the two schools and will be deriving lasting benefits," Mr. Hardesty declared.

Around 1,100 students will attend the southern unit and 800 students the northern unit. The two institutions will replace five present high schools at Oakland, Kitzmiller, Friendsville, Accident and Grantsville.

There was one hundred per cent attendance at last night's meeting which included J. Edward Helbig, Jonas W. Sines and Stewart Stahl, commissioners; Neil C. Fraley, attorney to the board; Mr. Hardesty; Earl H. Ault, Accident; Floyd B. Leighton, George Littman, H. C. Riggs, Oakland; Ray McCullough, Friendsville; Milton Pritts, Kitzmiller, and Stewart Rodamer, Grantsville, members of the advisory committee.

The outing was attended by approximately 110 persons, including 22 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren of Mrs. Winters. Standing, left to right, those in the picture are Howard Winters, Carlos; Mrs. James Miller, Klondike; John Winters, National; Mrs. Minnie Winters, Midlothian; William H. Winters, Midlothian; Mrs. Wilbert Richards, Carlos; Frank Winters, Gilmore, and George Winters, Shaft. Mrs. Winters is holding her great-granddaughter, Linda Lou Ark, Midlothian. James and Arch Winters, other sons of Mrs. Winters, were not present when the picture was taken.

Western Maryland Produce Starts Toward Markets

May Affect Future Of New Industry

OAKLAND.—The first carload of cauliflower and head lettuce ever shipped from this area, headed for the New York market, was scheduled to leave the siding of the Mt. Lake Canning Company last night, Roland Shaffer, plant manager, said.

Following this shipment, additional cars will be loaded on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays until some time in September. A car will hold 400 to 600 crates, each containing one dozen heads of cauliflower or two dozen heads of lettuce.

R. L. Winklepleck, of the agriculture department of the B. and O. Railroad, was here this week looking after marketing details and supervising the quantity being brought in from Canaan Valley, Mt. Storm, Gormania and from near Oakland.

Cars will be completely "snowiced" in Cumberland and a fast freight will carry them to New York where they will be placed on the market.

Shaffer said around 10,000 cauliflower and 16,000 lettuce plants are planted to the acre, and that one acre usually produced enough to fill 500 crates. If the heads are nice they will net the producer around $1.50 per crate, depending on market price. Winklepleck said some of the heads of lettuce would weigh more than three pounds and that they were as solid as a head of cabbage. Cauliflower heads were larger.

Upon the success of the new venture will depend whether or not the area will go in for growing these vegetables in a big way.

Body Of Piedmont Soldier Returns

PIEDMONT, W. Va.—The body of Pfc. Junior Jerry Poland, 22, killed July 18, 1945, at Luzon, Philippine Islands, will arrive here Tuesday at 9 a. m. and will be taken to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Poland.

A graduate of Piedmont High School where he was prominent in sports, Pfc. Poland worked as a mail carrier for the Piedmont Postoffice and was employed by the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, Luke, Md., before entering the service September 18, 1944.

He received his basic training at Camp Wood, Texas. After a furlough, he went overseas with the Sixth Infantry Division.

Besides his parents, he is survived by five brothers, Robert, Frank and James Poland, Piedmont; Thomas Poland, Keyser; and Charles Poland, Westernport; and two sisters, Mrs. Marshall Wilson and Mrs. Donald Smith, both of Westernport.

The funeral service will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. in Trinity Methodist Church, of which Pfc. Poland was a member. Military honors will be accorded by Kelly-Mansfield Post No. 52, American Legion, Piedmont, the Victory Legion Post, Westernport, and Alvin C. Neat Post No. 5280, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Lonaconing.

Mrs. Stark Entertains Long Stretch WSCS

FROSTBURG — Mrs. Ira Stark, Avilton, Garrett County, entertained members of the WSCS of Zion Methodist Church, Long Stretch, Wednesday night at her home. She was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Orval Stark and Miss Virginia Stark. "Christ, the Companion of Our Way" was the theme of the meeting.

Those taking part in the program were Mrs. Samuel Crowe, Mrs. Forest Michael, Mrs. Charles Durst, Mrs. Rella Emerson, Mrs. Edwin Robeson.

Guests attending the meeting were Mrs. Ernest Hartman, Mrs. Mollie Frost Turner, Rev. D. J. Combs, Miss Marie Guthrie and Miss Dottie Durst. Miss Clara Layman was appointed secretary of children's work. The birthdays of Mrs. Elwood Klotz and Mrs. Frances McKenzie were observed.

Five Teachers Quit Posts In Tucker County

Parsons Coach To Complete Studies

PARSONS, W. Va.—Five teachers of the Tucker County Board of Education have resigned their positions for the coming year. They include Chester A. Marshall, Jr., English teacher and assistant coach of Parsons High School, who has resigned to continue his studies. Marshall a graduate of West Virginia Wesleyan College, Buckhannon, 1947, and a three-year veteran with the Navy, will work for his master's degree in science from West Virginia University this winter. His wife, the former Glenda Hebb, and their daughter will remain in Parsons for the present time.

Mrs. John Cashdollar, the former Margaret Moore, teacher at Parsons High School for several years, has resigned to accept a similar position in the Harrison County Schools.

Mrs. Willard Scott, the former Marie Long, Parsons, who has been a teacher in Hamrick Grade School, will teach in Marion County this year.

Mrs. Robert Sampson, the former Kathleen White, St. George, a teacher last year in Valley School, has resigned to accept employment in Florida. She received her bachelor of arts degree from Davis and Elkins College this spring.

Fred Hansford, a teacher at Mackeyville School, has resigned to continue his studies at Davis and Elkins College.

At a meeting of the board the janitors, bus drivers and engineers were named.

Bus drivers will be Dale Barr for the Bull Run route; Vincent Carr, Pheasant Run; Cyrus Carridy, Location and Limestone; Doyle Hardy Leadmine; Walter Hershberger, Dry Fork; Dan Lawrence, Canaan Valley; Jerry Nestor, Mill Run; Arthur Raines, Davis, and Martin Watring, Fairfax route.

Janitors: Howard Loughry, Parsons High School; Sylvia Simmons, Parsons High and Grades; Delbert Turner, Hamrick; Ellen Harris, Thomas; Anna Ololish, Davis, and Eleanor Jenkins, Davis.

Engineers: Elmer Moreland, Davis; Charles Sturms, Parsons High School; Burton Murphy, Parsons Grade, and William Pase, Thomas School.

The board also re-appointed Mrs. Winona Coberly as clerical assistant, Mrs. Edith Olson as VA program clerk in the county superintendent's office; Mrs. Christina Meyers as County Health Nurse, and Delbert Arbogast as attendance director.

Garrett Schools Will Offer Driving Course

OAKLAND—High School students here will have an opportunity for driver training when the fall term opens in September. A dual control automobile designed especially for that purpose was recently delivered to the Sharps Motor Company.

The car has an extension of both brake and clutch on the right hand side for an instructor, but has only one steering wheel. The additional brake and clutch can be used in case of an immediate or necessary stop if the student driver loses control of the vehicle.

This automobile will be used by Oakland and Kitzmiller students. Other garages in the county will provide cars for their communities.

Garrett Master School Building Plan Approved

Two Consolidated Schools Proposed

OAKLAND—Approval to the proposed master plan in principle, in the school building program for the county, was given Wednesday at a meeting of the Couny Commissioners. The County advisory committee named in the 1947 legislative bill, and R. Bowen Hardesty, assistant superintendent of schools met with the group.

Under the plan there would be constructed a southern regional junior-senior high school at or near Oakland, to cost approximately $1,404,000; a northern regional junior-senior high school at Keyser Ridge, to cost approximately $1,000,000, and improvements to Friendsville, Kitzmiller, Grantsville, Accident and Bloomington schools, as provided by the law of 1945.

According to Mr. Hardesty's figures, this would provide $20,000 for Friendsville, $15,000 each for Kitzmiller and Grantsville, $10,000 for Accident, and $9,000 for Bloomington, using the amounts as far as they would go in making them modern and permanent elementary centers.

Part I of the plan, recommended by the national consultants, also calls for improvements at Mt. Zion, Red House and Finzel schools, due to previous committments.

It was pointed out that although the Board of Education does not have the responsibility of school construction, the board has adopted the plan and the program has its hearty support.

The firm of Baker and Watts in Baltimore has advised that Garrett County cannot soundly finance a school building program beyond $2,500000, including cash on hand. Because of this the master plan is to be followed step by step as far as sound financing will permit, J. Edward Helbig, president of the Commissioners, stated.

Options are to be secured simultaneously for sites for both southern and northern junior-senior high schools, and architects will be interviewed by the commissioners and Mr. Hardesty within the next several days, the latter said. He also pointed out that plans would be limited to preliminary drawings at the present time and that detailed drawings would not be undertaken until later authorization.

A local committee, consisting of two persons each from Friendsville, Accident and Grantsville, has been selected for the northern unit, and a committee of three members each from Oakland and Kitzmiller has been named for the southern unit. Mr. Hardesty said the names would be made public as soon as they accepted their appointments.

The committees will first be concerned with discussing the program with him, Mr. Hardesty, the architects and with others charged with selecting sites to be recommended to the advisory committee and the County Commissioners.

It was added that local building committees also would be picked for elementary schools named in Part I at the time the improvements to those buildings are undertaken.

Action was taken also at the meeting last night to make preparation for making the present $1,500,000 bond issue already passed by the 1947 legislature, available for the October market.

Part II of the plan also was outlined at the meeting and accepted by the Commissioners and the Advisory committee.

The following are to be made modern elementary centers when an additional $1,000,000 becomes available from sources outside the county or when the county becomes financially able to carry additional indebtedness:

Oakland, Kitzmiller, Grantsville, Accident, Bloomington, Friendsville, Red House, Loch Lynn or Mt. Lake Park, Deer Park, North Glade; with work on the Kempton, Fairview, Mt. Zion, Bear Hill and Bethel schools if roads have not been improved by that time.

In accepting in principle the building program, Mr. Hardesty said the steps taken would affect 73 per cent of the pupils of the county and would put them in an environment of better housing conditions. "Every parent, present or future, will be a stockholder in one of the two schools and will be deriving lasting benefits," Mr. Hardesty declared.

Around 1,100 students will attend the southern unit and 800 students the northern unit. The two institutions will replace five present high schools at Oakland, Kitzmiller, Friendsville, Accident and Grantsville.

There was one hundred per cent attendance at last night's meeting which included J. Edward Helbig, Jonas W. Sines and Stewart Stahl, commissioners; Neil C. Fraley, attorney to the board; Mr. Hardesty; Earl H. Ault, Accident; Floyd B. Leighton, George Littman, H. C. Riggs, Oakland; Ray McCullough, Friendsville; Milton Pritts, Kitzmiller, and Stewart Rodamer, Grantsville, members of the advisory committee.

Western Maryland Produce Starts Toward Markets

May Affect Future Of New Industry

OAKLAND—The first carload of cauliflower and head lettuce ever shipped from this area, headed for the New York market, was scheduled to leave the siding of the Mt. Lake Canning Company last night, Roland Shaffer, plant manager, said.

Following this shipment, additional cars will be loaded on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays until some time in September. A car will hold 400 to 600 crates, each containing one dozen heads of cauliflower or two dozen heads of lettuce.

R. L. Winklepleck, of the agriculture department of the B. and O. Railroad, was here this week looking after marketing details and supervising the quantity being brought in from Canaan Valley, Mt. Storm, Gormania and from near Oakland.

Cars will be completely "snow-iced" in Cumberland and a fast freight will carry them to New York where they will be placed on the market.

Shaffer said around 10,000 cauliflower and 16,000 lettuce plants are planted to the acre, and that one acre usually produced enough to fill 500 crates. If the heads are nice they will net the producer around $1.50 per crate, depending on market price. Winklepleck said some of the heads of lettuce would weigh more than three pounds and that they were as solid as a head of cabbage. Cauliflower heads were larger.

Upon the success of the new venture will depend whether or not the area will go in for growing these vegetables in a big way.

Body Of Piedmont Soldier Returns

PIEDMONT, W. Va.—The body of Pfc. Junior Jerry Poland, 22, killed July 18, 1945, at Luzon, Philippine Islands, will arrive here Tuesday at 9 a. m. and will be taken to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Poland.

A graduate of Piedmont High School where he was prominent in sports, Pfc. Poland worked as a mail carrier for the Piedmont Postoffice and was employed by the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, Luke, Md., before entering the service September 18, 1944.

He received his basic training at Camp Wood, Texas. After a furlough, he went overseas with the Sixth Infantry Division.

Besides his parents, he is survived by five brothers, Robert, Frank and James Poland, Piedmont; Thomas Poland, Keyser; and Charles Poland, Westernport; and two sisters, Mrs. Marshall Wilson and Mrs. Donald Smith, both of Westernport.

The funeral service will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. in Trinity Methodist Church, of which Pfc. Poland was a member. Military honors will be accorded by Kelly-Mansfield Post No. 52, American Legion, Piedmont, the Victory Legion Post, Westernport, and Alvin C. Neat Post No. 5280, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Lonaconing.

Mrs. Zukowski To Head Garrett Public Library

Bookmobile Routes Are Being Planned

OAKLAND—Mrs. Jessie D. Zukowski has been named librarian for the Garrett County Free Publib library, it was announced by the library board this week. She began her duties on Monday.

Her husband, Paul Zokowski, is now employed at Weber's, and both are residing for the present at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Jenkins.

Mrs. Zukowski attended school at the University of Southern California, Howard College in Birmingham, Ala., and Emory University, Emory, Ga., and has been a librarian and teacher of English in Florida, Blackstone College for Girls in Blackstone, Va., and other schools. The position of librarian was filled temporarily by Mrs. Veronica Robertson over the past several months.

A committee for working out the schedule of operations for the bookmobile, met and temporarily decided on two routes. The northern route would include Accident, Friendsville and Grantsville; while the southern route would include Mt. Lake, Loch Lynn, Deer Park and Kitzmiller.

The committee for the bookmobile includes B. O. Aiken, chairman, Accident; W. J. Glenn, Friendsville; Marshall G. Brown, Grantsville; Mrs. Caroline Wilson, Kitzmiller, and Miss Kate Bannatyne, Grantsville, with F. E. Rathbun, county superintendent of schools, as ex-officio member.

Rathbun said hostesses were being selected at certain centers where the bookmobile will distribute books, and that the schedule would probably be arranged by next Tuesday. Rathbun added that the service would be expanded as requests were made for it.

Five Teachers Quit Posts In Tucker County

Parsons Coach To Complete Studies

PARSONS, W. Va.—Five teachers of the Tucker County Board of Education have resigned their positions for the coming year. They include Chester A. Marshall, Jr., English teacher and assistant coach of Parsons High School, who has resigned to continue his studies. Marshall a graduate of West Virginia Wesleyan College, Buckhannon, 1947, and a three-year veteran with the Navy, will work for his master's degree in science from West Virginia University this winter. His wife, the former Glenda Hebb, and their daughter will remain in Parsons for the present time.

Mrs. John Cashdollar, the former Margaret Moore, teacher at Parsons High School for several years, has resigned to accept a similar position in the Harrison County Schools.

Mrs. Willard Scott, the former Marie Long, Parsons, who has been a teacher in Hamrick Grade School, will teach in Marion County this year.

Mrs. Robert Sampson, the former Kathleen White, St. George, a teacher last year in Valley School, has resigned to accept employment in Florida. She received her bachelor of arts degree from Davis and Elkins College this spring.

Fred Hansford, a teacher at Mackeyville School, has resigned to continue his studies at Davis and Elkins College.

At a meeting of the board the janitors, bus drivers and engineers were named.

Bus drivers will be Dale Barr for the Bull Run route; Vincent Carr, Pheasant Run; Cyrus Carridy, Location and Limestone; Doyle Hardy Leadmine; Walter Hershberger, Dry Fork; Dan Lawrence, Canaan Valley; Jerry Nestor, Mill Run; Arthur Raines, Davis, and Martin Watring, Fairfax route.

Janitors: Howard Loughry, Parsons High School; Sylvia Simmons, Parsons High and Grades; Delbert Turner, Hamrick; Ellen Harris, Thomas; Anna Ololish, Davis, and Eleanor Jenkins, Davis.

Engineers: Elmer Moreland, Davis; Charles Sturms, Parsons High School; Burton Murphy, Parsons Grade, and William Pase, Thomas School.

The board also re-appointed Mrs. Winona Coberly as clerical assistant, Mrs. Edith Olson as VA program clerk in the county superintendent's office; Mrs. Christina Meyers as County Health Nurse, and Delbert Arbogast as attendance director.

Garrett Schools Will Offer Driving Course

OAKLAND—High School students here will have an opportunity for driver training when the fall term opens in September. A dual control automobile designed especially for that purpose was recently delivered to the Sharps Motor Company.

The car has an extension of both brake and clutch on the right hand side for an instructor, but has only one steering wheel. The additional brake and clutch can be used in case of an immediate or necessary stop if the student driver loses control of the vehicle.

This automobile will be used by Oakland and Kitzmiller students. Other garages in the county will provide cars for their communities.

Hyndman Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Atwell announce the birth of a daughter Thursday in Allegany Hospital, Cumberland.

Mrs. Lenore Bruner is a patient in Memorial Hospital, Cumberland.

Charles Mason, Pittsburgh, visited his mother, Mrs. Ruth Mason.

Miss Buckholtz Becomes Bride Of Paul Jeffrey

LONACONING — Miss Margaret Shirley Buckholtz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Buckholtz, 19 West Main Street, became the bride of Paul D. Jeffrey, son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. S. Jeffrey, Detmold Street, on July 26, the 24th anniversary of the bride's parents, in a ceremony performed at the home of the bride's parents.

The ceremony was solemnized by Rev. George H. Jeffrey, minister of the Church of the Brethren, Marklesburg, Pa., brother of the bridegroom. The home was decorated with gladioli, ferns, rhododendron and candles.

The bride was attired in a grey suit and white accessories, with which she wore a pink rosebud corsage. Miss Isabel Hitchins, maid of honor, wore a pink suit with a white rosebud corsage. Francis Jeffrey, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Mrs. Buckholtz selected a black and white dress for her daughter's wedding, with which she wore white accessories and a corsage of red rosebuds. Mrs. Jeffrey, mother of the bridegroom, wore a blue print dress with black accessories, and a white rosebud corsage.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. A tiered wedding cake centered the table, which was decorated with candles.

The bride is a graduate of Central High School, Class of 1948. Mr. Jeffrey is a graduate of Central High School, Class of 1947. He served three years in the armed forces and is now employed by the Celanese Corporation of America.

The couple is residing at 19 West Main Street, the home of the bride's parents.

Two Feature Horse Races To Be Given By Network Today

By JEAN MEEGAN

(For C. E. Butterfield)

NEW YORK, Aug. 6—Two of the turf season's biggest races will be covered by the McCarthys Saturday.

Chem McCarthy, at an NBC mike, will be calling the running of the Choice Stakes at the Monmouth Park track in Oceanport at 4:45. Fifteen minutes later, Jack McCarthy will describe the running of the $20,000 added Whitney Handicap over ABC from Saratoga. The McCarthys have their work in common, not relations.

Saturday night at 10, Comedian Rod Brasfield takes over as emcee of "Grand Ole Opry," in the absence of Red Foley now on vacation.

Ralph Kiner, home run king of the Pittsburgh Pirates, faces a different brand of pitching at 8 p. m. Tossed at him will be questions on Mutual's "Twenty Questions" Panel.

On the same network on another quiz show, an unusual prize is being added. In addition to the $5,500 already in the jackpot, the winner of "Three for the Money" (10 p. m.) will also receive two round-trip tickets to any place in the world he or she chooses, by air, boat or rail.

Soprano Evelyn Wyckoff and tenor Davis Cunningham guest star with the St. Louis Municipal Opera at 7 p. m. via CBS.

KEEPING UP WITH

HOLLYWOOD

By DOROTHY MANNERS
(Louella Parsons on vacation)

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 6 — (INS) — M'Liss McClure registered such a squawk when she heard that "Miss X" had been officially christened Meg McClure by Universal - International that Meg is now Meg Randall.

Irene Dunn

M'Liss, who rated gossip column publicity when Mickey Rooney was taking her around, said it wasn't fair. Both girls are just starting out on their movie careers. M'Liss says she got there first with McClure.

Six thousand letters poured into the studio suggesting names for Meg after it was announced that her real one, Jean Roberts, was not suitable. Among the suggestions were "Lacey Jones" and "Amber La Tour," but my favorite was Jill Jiggs."

I could hardly believe my ears when I heard that Mrs. James Mason, who is "expecting," will appear in her husband's picture but it turns out to be a perfect bit of casting.

Mason plays an obstetrician in "The Best Things In Life Are Free" and Pamela Kellino (her professional name) appears briefly as one of his patients.

The Masons indulge a little superstition that it is lucky for her to appear in his movies. She particularly wants to bring James luck in his American debut with Barbara Bel Geddes for Enterprise.

Sam Wannamaker is set to co-star with Madeleine Carroll in "Goodbye My Fancy" on Broadway. He definitely has more luck appearing opposite Hollywood stars on the stage than he does on the screen.

When Sam appeared in "Joan of Lorraine" with Ingrid Bergman he was hailed as one of the finest of the young stage actors. There was a lot of advance excitement when he came to Hollywood to co-star with Lilli Palmer in "My Girl Tisa." But the camera was not as kind as the footlights had been. Sam was all right—but no riot on the screen.

This is my "goodbye and thank you" column although it looked for a while on Thursday as if I might carry on indefinitely.

Louella Parsons, who never makes an uninteresting entrance, was delayed ten hours because of the wreck of a freight train ahead of the Chief. From the wilds of New Mexico, she bombarded us with witty telegrams from every puddle jump.

The "June Bride" cast and crew gifted Bette Davis with a white leather fitted traveling case at the studio party in her honor. Bette, Sherry and the baby leave Monday for a long jaunt in the east.

Big doings at Del Mar tomorrow when Betty Grable decorates the winner of the Damon Runyon Memorial Race. Most Hollywooders who aren't chained to a desk will be on hand.

Wallace Beery is driving around the continent in a French-make car about two sizes smaller than he, according to spot witnesses.

Peggy Cummins' mother left by TWA Thursday to join Peggy in London.

Patricia Neal, called the luckiest girl in Hollywood when she got "The Fountainhead," has been evicted because the landlord sold her apartment (building) from under her. Poor kid is camping out in a glamor suite at the Bel-Air hotel.

Jane Wyatt's ten-year-old son, Christopher, suffered a compound fracture of the left arm at summer camp. He was rushed to the nearest northern town where the arm was broken again and reset. Jane is flying up before she joins the "Canadian Pacific" troupe with Randy Scott and Nancy Olson in Canada.

Mary Pickford and Buddy Rogers are not leaving France until late September.

Irene Dunne cut her hair short, didn't like it, and now wears a braid to cover the "debacle." She must be mistaken. On Irene—anything looks good.

That's all. Louella Parsons will see you Monday.

HOLLYWOOD

By DOROTHY MANNERS
(Louella Parsons on vacation)

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 6 — (INS) — M'Liss McClure registered such a squawk when she heard that "Miss X" had been officially christened Meg McClure by Universal - International that Meg is now Meg Randall.

Irene Dunn

M'Liss, who rated gossip column publicity when Mickey Rooney was taking her around, said it wasn't fair. Both girls are just starting out on their movie careers. M'Liss says she got there first with McClure.

Six thousand letters poured into the studio suggesting names for Meg after it was announced that her real one, Jean Roberts, was not suitable. Among the suggestions were "Lacey Jones" and "Amber La Tour," but my favorite was Jill Jiggs."

I could hardly believe my ears when I heard that Mrs. James Mason, who is "expecting," will appear in her husband's picture but it turns out to be a perfect bit of casting.

Mason plays an obstetrician in "The Best Things In Life Are Free" and Pamela Kellino (her professional name) appears briefly as one of his patients.

The Masons indulge a little superstition that it is lucky for her to appear in his movies. She particularly wants to bring James luck in his American debut with Barbara Bel Geddes for Enterprise.

Sam Wannamaker is set to co-star with Madeleine Carroll in "Goodbye My Fancy" on Broadway. He definitely has more luck appearing opposite Hollywood stars on the stage than he does on the screen.

When Sam appeared in "Joan of Lorraine" with Ingrid Bergman he was hailed as one of the finest of the young stage actors. There was a lot of advance excitement when he came to Hollywood to co-star with Lilli Palmer in "My Girl Tisa." But the camera was not as kind as the footlights had been. Sam was all right—but no riot on the screen.

This is my "goodbye and thank you" column although it looked for a while on Thursday as if I might carry on indefinitely.

Louella Parsons, who never makes an uninteresting entrance, was delayed ten hours because of the wreck of a freight train ahead of the Chief. From the wilds of New Mexico, she bombarded us with witty telegrams from every puddle jump.

The "June Bride" cast and crew gifted Bette Davis with a white leather fitted traveling case at the studio party in her honor. Bette, Sherry and the baby leave Monday for a long jaunt in the east.

Big doings at Del Mar tomorrow when Betty Grable decorates the winner of the Damon Runyon Memorial Race. Most Hollywooders who aren't chained to a desk will be on hand.

Wallace Beery is driving around the continent in a French-make car about two sizes smaller than he, according to spot witnesses.

Peggy Cummins' mother left by TWA Thursday to join Peggy in London.

Patricia Neal, called the luckiest girl in Hollywood when she got "The Fountainhead," has been evicted because the landlord sold her apartment (building) from under her. Poor kid is camping out in a glamor suite at the Bel-Air hotel.

Jane Wyatt's ten-year-old son, Christopher, suffered a compound fracture of the left arm at summer camp. He was rushed to the nearest northern town where the arm was broken again and reset. Jane is flying up before she joins the "Canadian Pacific" troupe with Randy Scott and Nancy Olson in Canada.

Mary Pickford and Buddy Rogers are not leaving France until late September.

Irene Dunne cut her hair short, didn't like it, and now wears a braid to cover the "debacle." She must be mistaken. On Irene—anything looks good.

That's all. Louella Parsons will see you Monday.

Baering Down On The News

I asked a question thirty years ago that nobody has answered yet. When eggs went to eighty cents a dozen I asked who told the hens there was a war on.

• — • — •

And nobody can tell me today why the price of food should be Democratic or Republican.

• — • — •

Naturally, Mr. Truman is trying to embarrass Congress by a battling session with the shades up. And Congress doesn't want to do anything that will cause Harry to build another porch.

We all know which side our bread is buttered on these days. The reminder costs a boffo a pound.

Market Almost Asleep On Its Feet As Speculative Interest Drops Off

NEW YORK, Aug. 6—(AP)—Speculative and investment interest approached the vanishing point in today's stock market.

Trading volume dropped to the lowest level in five months or so. Fewer issues changed hands than on any full day since early March.

The market, in a word, was almost asleep on its feet.

Demand for selected oils picked up a little during late dealings but it was a flash-in-the-pan rather than sustained buying.

Corporation news, by and large, was ignored although here and there individual issues responded.

Pure Oil added 2¼ at 37½, Plymoth Oil was three-fourths higher at 50¾, and Sunray was ahead a major fraction at 14.

Marked up were United States Steel, Republic Steel, General Motors, Schenley, North American Company, Westinghouse Electric, Radio Corporation, American Woolen, Santa Fe, Southern Railway, Union Pacific, and Transcontinental and Western Air.

In the curb, O'Kiep Copper advanced well over a point in response to a boosted dividend. General Shareholdings Corporation preferred moved up briskly. Directors of the company and of Tri-Continental Corporation have approved a merger of the two investment concerns. Tri-Continental now owns a majority of General Shareholdings common. Sales totaled 140,000 shares, compared with 190,000 Thursday.

Sales on the big board dropped to 680,000 from 880,000 yesterday. This equalled March 12 turnover and was the smallest since 660,000 shares changed hands on March 9. Only 902 issues sold, a bottom since 902 on March 5.

United States governments held close to previous levels in over-the-counter dealings. Some gains were hed in the foreign dollar section, among them Colombia 3s, Norway 4¼s and Uruguay adjustment 4½s.

Total sales were around the lightest of the week at $2,690,000 compared with $3,530,000 yesterday.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

Next Week

If we could only get rid of the fear that we imagine is all centered in Next Week, we would certainly be on the broad road to a destination of peace and plenty. But what a bogey this Next Week is! It's like a ghost that nobody ever has seen, for when that Next Week arrives it's no longer that but the present, which we have to handle anyway in the best possible way we know—and we do just that.

Next Week is but the prototype of Fear. So why borrow on it? We may have to pay double its price! For fear always comes high—in loss of confidence, health, and happiness.

It rains Next Week, when it comes. Well, what of it? It has rained before in our lives and we have learned how to handle it—we have umbrellas, rain coats and shelters. We can do nothing about it because we are not in the weather business. But we can do something about the fear of Next Week. We can arm ourselves with courage and confidence ,and do our job today, knowing that if it is well done, Next Week will take care of itself.

Fear is about the heaviest burden that any human being can carry. It weighs down everything else—especially efficient service. No one can do his best with fear gnawing at his heart. With fear around there is always its side-kick—worry. The insurance companies do not publish a list of the casualties from worry—but the list could be amazing. Most of them happen in Next Week.

How many of the things that we contemplate doing Next Week do we actually ever do, when that Next Week arrives? The percentage is certainly small. What a wonderful time this Right Now is, anyway! We can do so much in it. We can be constructive so that we will have no fear of any Next Week.

What an inspiring and comforting prayer that each of us may offer daily to God: "Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on Thee." The banker makes money by giving interest away on the amount entrusted to him. How much greater is the profit that a human being can accumulate by giving himself away—in unselfish acts and kindnesses, in encouragement to others, and through an abiding faith.

By The George Matthew Adams Service)

Market Almost Asleep On Its Feet As Speculative Interest Drops Off

NEW YORK, Aug. 6—(AP)—Speculative and investment interest approached the vanishing point in today's stock market.

Marked up were United States Steel, Republic Steel, General Motors, Schenley, North American Company, Westinghouse Electric, Radio Corporation, American Woolen, Santa Fe, Southern Railway, Union Pacific, and Transcontinental and Western Air.

In the curb, O'Kiep Copper advanced well over a point in response to a boosted dividend. General Shareholdings Corporation preferred moved up briskly. Directors of the company and of Tri-Continental Corporation have approved a merger of the two investment concerns. Tri-Continental now owns a majority of General Shareholdings common. Sales totaled 140,000 shares, compared with 190,000 Thursday.

Sales on the big board dropped to 680,000 from 880,000 yesterday. This equalled March 12 turnover and was the smallest since 660,000 shares changed hands on March 9. Only 902 issues sold, a bottom since 902 on March 5.

Sharp recovery in Third Avenue Railway bonds was the feature on the bond market.

United States governments held close to previous levels in over-the-counter dealings. Some gains were hed in the foreign dollar section, among them Colombia 3s, Norway 4¼s and Uruguay adjustment 4½s.

Today's Talk

Next Week

If we could only get rid of the fear that we imagine is all centered in Next Week, we would certainly be on the broad road to a destination of peace and plenty. But what a bogey this Next Week is! It's like a ghost that nobody ever has seen, for when that Next Week arrives it's no longer that but the present, which we have to handle anyway in the best possible way we know—and we do just that.

Next Week is but the prototype of Fear. So why borrow on it? We may have to pay double its price! For fear always comes high—in loss of confidence, health, and happiness.

It rains Next Week, when it comes. Well, what of it? It has rained before in our lives and we have learned how to handle it—we have umbrellas, rain coats and shelters. We can do nothing about it because we are not in the weather business. But we can do something about the fear of Next Week. We can arm ourselves with courage and confidence ,and do our job today, knowing that if it is well done, Next Week will take care of itself.

Fear is about the heaviest burden that any human being can carry. It weighs down everything else—especially efficient service. No one can do his best with fear gnawing at his heart. With fear around there is always its side-kick—worry. The insurance companies do not publish a list of the casualties from worry—but the list could be amazing. Most of them happen in Next Week.

How many of the things that we contemplate doing Next Week do we actually ever do, when that Next Week arrives? The percentage is certainly small. What a wonderful time this Right Now is, anyway! We can do so much in it. We can be constructive so that we will have no fear of any Next Week.

What an inspiring and comforting prayer that each of us may offer daily to God: "Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on Thee." The banker makes money by giving interest away on the amount entrusted to him. How much greater is the profit that a human being can accumulate by giving himself away—in unselfish acts and kindnesses, in encouragement to others, and through an abiding faith.

Jaycees Of Frostburg Issue Public Apology

Say Pageant Criticism Result Of Hasty Action

The Board of Directors of the Frostburg Junior Association of Commerce met last night and issued a statement apologizing for what they term "hasty" action in their criticism of the Miss Maryland Beauty Pageant and individuals connected with it.

"In connection with the previously published statement regarding the Miss Maryland Pageant held in Cumberland August 2, it was considered by the Board of Directors of the Frostburg Junior Chamber of Commerce at a meeting Friday night, August 6, advisable to make the following statement:

"Our only purpose in our original statement concerning the Beauty Pageant was a result of comments received to make a statement as to how we felt about the show. Since the published statements, it has been learned that there have been errors by both parties, some serious. We are sorry for ours, which were largely a result of haste, and-or the lack of complete information. Nevertheless we feel there were irregularities.

Didn't Seek Second Contest

"Concerning the statement about contesting the pageant to be held a second time was misleading, because we as a group never had any such intention, nor is it true that we have said that we would not participate in any further contests IF HELD IN CUMBERLAND.

"Because of the aforementioned reasons we are not only sorry but apologize for our errors, which are known by either party or person to be untrue, and we wish to retract the statements concerning Mr. and Mrs. Jack F. Moore as being relatives of one of the judges and the words used to express same; and that Miss Cumberland had dinner with one of the judges.

"We are sorry for these errors and certainly did not wish to cause any disrespect for any of the contestants because we feel that they are all fine, upright girls and come from good homes. The sad part about such controversies is that there are adways innocent victims involved and this is no exception. Furthermore it was not said that Miss Cumberland received alcoholics at the party; nor any other contestant.

Individual Not Responsible

"Remember too, this and the previous statement were endorsed by the Frostburg Jaycees as a group and no one individual is responsible for the statements. Therefore, if it is felt, that any statements can be proven erroneous, the persons concerned may appear before our Jaycees and our apology will be given at the time of appearance, if we are in error."

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Aug. 6 (AP)—Fred Thompson, director of the Miss Hagertsown beauty pageant, said today the Hagerstown Junior Chamber of Commerce will not protest awarding of the "Miss Maryland" title to Jaunita Lookabaugh of Cumberland.

The state elimination was staged in Cumberland and sponsors from several other communities, notably Frostburg, protested that the contest was unfair:

Thompson said:

"It is true that some contestants were favored during rehearsals and some national rules were violated, but it would not be fair to take the title away because of the errors."

Lewis Gets 30 Days In Petty Larceny Case

Bond Set At $1,500 On Other Charges

Thomas Lewis, 23, formerly of 219 Carroll Street, was sentenced yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court by Magistrate Frank A. Perdew to 30 days in County Jail for petty larceny.

Lewis is also being held under $1,500 bond on two counts for action of the October term of Grand Jury.

Lewis entered a plea of guilty to the larceny charge, admitting that on June 26 he had taken the purse of Mrs. Laura Crissinger, Sand Patch, Pa., from a chair in the Garibaldi Club, rear of 10 Baltimore Street. The purse contained $4, Mrs. Crissinger charged.

The youth was apprehended in Baltimore Tuesday on the larceny charge, and when returned to this city was questioned by Detectives Thomas J. See and Ernest M. Powell.

The officers said Lewis admitted breaking and entering the home of Mrs. Arthur W. West, 507 Baltimore Avenue, on the night of July 24, and stealing about $20 from a purse belonging to Miss Lida M. Henton, a visitor.

Police said he admitted that earlier the same night he jumped on the running board of a truck operated by Oscar Ault, Star Route 2, Everett, Pa. However, he had denied threatening Ault, or attempting to rob him.

Lewis was charged with breaking and entering in the former case, and bond was set at $1,000. In the other case, he was charged with assault with intent to rob, and bond was set at $500.

Magistrate Perdew fixed bond after Lewis waived preliminary hearing on both counts. Lewis was represented by Earl E. Manges, and Assistant State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher was prosecutor.

Hit-Run Driver Hits Keyser Child

West Virginia State Police last night were searching for the driver of a truck which struck and ran over a five-year-old Keyser, W. Va., boy yesterday afternoon.

The boy, Richard Miller, son of Mrs. Edna V. Miller, Chestnut Street, Extended, was found lying on Newton Street, South Keyser, near his home, and was rushed to Potomac Valley Hospital by his mother.

He was admitted to the hospital for abdominal injuries and possible chest injuries. His condition late last night was reported as "good."

Hospital attaches expressed the belief that the truck passed over Richard's body, and that it was a very large truck. They based their opinion on marks on his body, they said.

State Police said the driver may not have known he had struck the boy, as Newton Street is roughly-paved and the driver may not have noticed any bump on striking the boy.

No eye-witnesses to the accident could be found last night, as the street was almost deserted at the time of the mishap.

Three Area Men Enlist In Navy

Three area men have been accepted for duty with the United States Navy, Edgar L. Schrader, recruiter in charge, has announced.

Joseph E. Ressig, 18, 815 Shawnee Avenue, Cumberland, has gone to Great Lakes Naval Training Base, Ill., under the one-year plan.

Enlisting for three years were Thomas F. Footen, Frostburg, seaman recruit, and Henry E. Gardner, Jr., Route 6, this city, electrician's mate, fireman recruit. Both will go to Great Lakes.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Ringer, Kitzmiller, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Miller, 522 Eastern Avenue, a son.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jordan, Crellin, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Bender, 12 Smith Street, a son, James Christopher.

Mr. and Mrs. William T. Williams, Fort Wayne, Ind., announce the birth of a son. Mrs. Williams, a graduate of Memorial Hospital School of Nursing here, is the former Miss Wanda Lee Steele, this city.

Two Building Permits Are Granted Here

William Simpson, 449 Willow Brook Road, yesterday was granted a permit to construct a one-room addition to the rear of his home. The addition is to be eight by 10 feet, and will be of frame with a concrete block foundation and composition roof.

Work will be done by the owner at an estimated cost of $100.

Oney K. Otto received a permit Thursday to construct an open porch at his residence, 1018 Kent Avenue. The structure is to be eight by 14 feet, and will be constructed of concrete, with composition shingles.

Units From Three States March In Firemen's Parade At LaVale

'Miss Maryland' Leads Anniversary Display

The largest street parade ever held in LaVale was sponsored last night by the LaVale Volunteer Fire Company on the occasion of their anniversary week celebration.

Led by Miss Juanita Lookabaugh, "Miss Maryland of 1948," who lives at Narrows Park, a part of the LaVale area, the marchers moved along U. S. Route 40 to the applause and cheers of several thousand spectators.

Corriganville Fire Company; Wiley Ford Fire Company; Arion Band, Frostburg; Frostburg Fire Company; Bowman's Addition Fire Company; Mt. Savage Fire Company; Barton Community Band, Fire Company and Auxiliary; Flintstone Fire Company; Meyersdale, Pa., Loyal Order of Moose; Vigilent Reel and Hose Company, and Auxiliary of Keyser, W. Va.; Bowling Green Fire Company; Farrady Post No. 24, American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps, Frostburg.

Midland Fire Company; Cresaptown Fire Company and Auxiliary; Borden Shaft Fire Company; Henry Hart Post No. 1411, Veterans of Foreign Wars Drum and Bugle Corps, this city; Fort Ashby Fire Company; Ridgeley, W. Va. Fire Company; Fulton Meyers American Legion Drum Corps; Ellerslie Fire Company; Bedford Road Fire Company; Westernport Fire Company; and Tri-Towns Firemen of Piedmont, W. Va.

Games and contests followed the festivity last night, and the celebration will end tonight with a final festival and public dance at LaVale Fire Hall.

Elks And Eagles Will Hold Annual Picnics Sunday

Both Will Meet Rain Or Shine

Two local lodges will hold their annual picnics Sunday rain or shine. Cumberland Lodge No. 63, B.P.O. Elks, and Aerie No. 245, Fraternal Order of Eagles, have planned horseshoe, running and softball contests for their members.

Under the sponsorship of the worthy board of trustees, Francis H. Schultz, chairman, the Eagles will go to Fairgo at 10 a. m. Three chartered buses will leave Cumberland every hour from 10 until 5 p. m. They will return every half hour from 10:30 until 6 p. m.

Any of the 3,700 members of Aerie 245 may attend the 46th annual picnic provided they show a paid-up dues receipt. The entertainment committee headed by William Appold, chairman, and William T. Damm and William Schupfer, co-chairmen, will have charge of the program which includes refreshments from 10 a. m. on, and an attendance prize.

There will be a recess from 2 until 3:30 p. m., the hours during which the funeral of the late James W. Wilson, 527 Henderson Avenue, who died Thursday, a member of Aerie 245, will be held.

The Elks will meet at noon at Smouse's Beach on Christie Road. The committee, headed by Harry S. Tracy, assisted by John J. Blough, Alvin Bergeron, Roy Whiteman and Clifton Hafer, has planned a softball game with the Frostburg Elks. Boxing matches also have been scheduled.

Prizes will be awarded to the winners of the various games and refreshments will be served all day.

In case of rain, the Elks outing will be moved to the clubrooms and the Eagles will take cover in the Fairgo grandstand.

Paper Pact May Be Reached Today

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6 (AP) — Company and union spokesmen said today agreement might be reached tomorrow on a new contract between the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company and its employees in three plants in Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania.

An official of the United Paper Workers of America, CIO, told a reporter he expected negotiations tomorrow to produce a tentative agreement.

Any agreement, he added, still would have to be approved by the workers, themselves.

A company spokesman also was optimistic. He declined to be quoted by name but predicted the conference so far indicated agreement.

The present contract covers approximately 4,000 employees in plants at Covington, Va., Williamsburg, Pa., and Luke, Md. It expires August 20.

Spokesman for the company is Raymond Crush, assistant mill manager at Covington. Representing the union are Harry E. Scott and Charles Bridgewater, area directors of the union; and the three union local presidents: Temple Kessinger, of Covington; Wayne Ritchie, of Luke; and Kenneth Fry, of Williamsburg.

Macaroni Meeting May Be Held Next Week

An official of the Cumberland Macaroni Company said yesterday there have been no significant developments in contract negotiations with Local 1132, United Macaroni Workers of America, CIO, this week.

The union's 30-day strike notice will expire today.

A company official said he believed a meeting would be arranged between the company and union next week and said James A. Holden, federal conciliator, may attend the session.

The 35 workers have rejected a company offer of five cents an hour increase and an additional holiday. Negotiations began on the basis of a 30 cent boost and three more paid holidays.

Ridgeley Legion's Bleachers Completed

Knobley Mountain Post No. 136, American Legion, Ridgeley, reported last night that bleachers constructed for the Legion baseball team on Carpenter Field will be ready for use Sunday when the Legion team meets the local Moose team.

Cmdr. Karl G. Brant announced that Frank Carpenter, owner of the lot, donated the services of five workmen to aid in constructing the bleachers, which will seat about 250 persons.

The newly-formed Ladies Auxiliary, which now has a membership of 35, will operate the refreshment booth at all games. Mrs. Homer Borror is chairman of the refreshment committee.

Service Officers Assist Veterans

Benefits totaling $33,593.12 were granted to Maryland veterans and their dependents during July with the assistance of the Maryland Veterans Commission, Thomas F. Conlon, local service officer, reported yesterday.

Back pay totaling $10,303.32 was secured, including $248 for Spanish-American War veterans, $3,367.16 for World War I and $6,688.16 for World War II veterans.

Pensions totaled $16,228.80, with $1,152 going to Spanish-American, $7,200 for World War I and $7,876.80 for World War II veterans and their dependents.

Other work included 56 pension claims filed, 183 powers of attorney, 88 hospital and domiciliary care, 253 affidavits and notary public 253, appeals and reviews 91, housing 101 and contacts 4,239.

District Officer Visits Cumberland Navy Center

Lt. Cmdr. J. H. Balch, USNR, of the Fifth Naval District Office of Director of Training, inspected the local Naval Reserve Training Center now under construction recently. He was accompanied by Lt. Cmdr. C. B. Gray, officer-in-charge of the local Naval Reserve office.

Lt. Cmdr. Balch is also inspecting the Naval Reserve Electronic installations in Frostburg and Keyser, W. Va.

Navy Fleet Reservists Needed As Instructors

Members of the Navy Fleet Reserve are asked to offer their services as voluntary instructors for organized and volunteer units in Reserve Training, Lt. Cmdr. C. B. Gray, officer-in-charge of the local center has announced.

He added that many Fleet Reservists in the Cumberland area are qualified for teaching in the local center. Anyone wishing more information may call at the Naval Reserve Office in the Postoffice building.

Radio Club Will Hold Corn Roast

The Mountain Radio Club will hold a corn roast at Constitution Park Friday, August 13, at 7:30 p. m.

The club, composed of amateur radio fans of the Cumberland area, said the meeting will be a family outing and that no regular business will be transacted.

Decrees Granted

Two divorce decrees were signed in Circuit Court yesterday by Chief Judge William A. Huster. Bessie M. Hornbrook, Baltimore Avenue, was divorced from James F. Hornbrook, Washington, D. C. and was given the right to resume her maiden name, Bessie M. Oldaker.

Mary Catherine Bridges, Virginia Avenue, was divorced from Vincent Harold Bridges, also of this city.

Equity Suits Filed

Drive Nets 55 Tons

An estimated 55 tons of wastepaper were collected in the past week's drive. Eight tons of that amount came from the section south of Oldtown Road yesterday.

Viscose Workers Accept Proposal

FRONT ROYAL, Va., Aug. 6 (AP)—Textile union workers at the Front Royal plant of the American Viscose Corporation have voted almost unanimously to accept wage and contract proposals made by the company, a union spokesman revealed tonight.

Members of Local 371, Textile Workers Union of America, voted tonight on the proposal, which calls for a 15-cent across-the-board increase, retroactive to June 27, 1948.

Some 1,100 workers attended tonight's meeting, which was addressed by C. E. Leadman, business manager of the Front Royal plant.

Union employes at the Viscose Corporation plant at Roanoke, Va., were still voting on the company offer tonight. Union officials said the voting was going on in shifts and no result would be known until tomorrow.

DEATHS

WHITE BURIAL

James H. White, 61, 519 Conrad Avenue, who died Tuesday at his home, was buried yesterday in Rose Hill Cemetery after a funeral service at the Hafer Funeral Home with Rev. Norman H. Maring, pastor of First Baptist Church, officiating.

State 4-H All Stars Take 5 Of This Area

Five area leaders in 4-H Club work were initiated last night at College Park into the Maryland Chapter of the 4-H All Stars.

Forty-nine 4-H boys and girls were taken into the group which is composed of those who have exceptional records in club work and who have excelled in "leadership, character and service."

From Allegany County were Regina Ferguson, William Heavener, Rose Wilison and Floyd Ryan. Mary Naylor, Garrett County, was also an initiate.

Textile Workers Predict Victory In Security Poll

Over 90 Per Cent Voted, Union Says

Union officials here last night jubilantly predicted that Celanese Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, won an "overwhelming victory" in the union security election held here this week and estimated over 90 per cent of eligible voters cast ballots in the election.

The union officials, in predicting that more than 90 per cent of the eligible voters had cast ballots when the polls closed last night at 11:30 o'clock, pointed out that the figure was gained through unofficial observations.

The officials, however, predicted that the count will show an overwhelming victory for Local 1874.

Over 8,000 Eligible

Some 8,044 hourly rated workers at the Amcelle plant here were eligible to vote yes or no on the question, "Do you wish to authorize the union which is your present bargaining representative to enter into an agreement with your employer which requires membership in such union as a condition of continued employment."

If the union secures more than 51 per cent of the eligible vote, it will have the right under the Taft-Hartley Law to negotiate for a maintenance of membership clause in its new contract or for a union shop.

The local has had maintenance of membership at the plant for a number of years and has requested a union shop clause in current contract demands, the union said.

To Count Ballots

The National Labor Relations Board crew headed by Miss Marie A. Pierce, NLRB field representative, was slated to begin counting ballots as soon as the polls closed. They will continue until returns are complete.

The Celanese Corporation of America had asked the NLRB to rule on the legality of such an election in Maryland but the company request for a ruling prior to the election was denied without prejudice.

James A. Blackwell, TWUA representative, said more than 500 similar elections have been held by the Fifth Region of the NLRB and that the Celanese firm is the first to question the legality of holding such an election in Maryland.

Pittsburgh Couple Injured In Crash

A Pittsburgh motorist and his wife were admitted yesterday to Allegany Hospital for injuries sustained when their car left Route 40 in front of the LaVale barracks of the State Police at about 1:50 p. m. and struck a power pole.

Hospital attaches reported that Edward Leindecker, 65, was admitted in a semi-conscious condition and was suffering from a deep laceration of the nose. Other injuries had not been determined, pending X-rays.

Leindecker's wife, Mrs. Mary Leindecker, 24, sustained lacerations of the chin and forehead and an abrasion of the left knee. She was admitted for X-rays.

State Police said the occupants of the car apparently fell asleep. The car crossed the highway, left the road, and struck the pole, breaking it off and knocking a transformer to the ground. The LaVale area was without power for four hours.

The Weather

Thursday night's low of 50 rose to 76 yesterday making it possible to go without coats again. There was no rain and the thermometer read 64 late last night. The weatherman says that today should be fair and a little warmer.

Jaffee Upholds Celanese Stand On Two Cases

Union Modifies Demand At Hearing

The Celanese Corporation of America's position in disputes concerning the "fast ripening process" and the inclusion of leaves of absence in the section of the contract covering vacations has been upheld in arbitration awards handed down Thursday by Samuel H. Jaffee, Washington, D. C.

The "fast ripening process" case arose from technological changes in the Cellulose Acetate department which eliminated many operations previously used.

C. A. laboratory assistants were used to perform all work in the process known as the second floor operation in Department 6, eliminating the older process of stabilizing as used in Department 2.

The union contested the action of the Celanese firm in using these men to do work other than laboratory work, contending the work should be done by men from Department 2.

Modifies Demand

At the hearing, the union in effect modified its demand by claiming only that certain adjusters' helpers' jobs in the new department 6 should be filled from men from Department 2.

Jaffee pointed out that in the present dispute the company and union were relying on Paragraph 3 of a July 20, 1946, agreement concerning the effect of technological changes on employes, but said both differed on the application of the second sentence of that paragraph.

The union contended the function of the new process was the same as or similar in the full process as operations previously performed in Department 2 and that that department is entitled to at least the helpers' jobs.

The union further said it was "strictly a question of giving job rights to people whose jobs are being taken over whether or not they are identical or similar jobs."

Upholds Company

The company's position was that the function of the new process is the same or similar to the function of the old Department 8 and thus that disputed helpers' jobs were properly assigned to employes in that department.

The firm also said the efficiency of the process would be improved by placing Department 8 employes on the job due to experience, whereas Department 2 men would have to be trained and that it was impractical to select men from Department 2 as adjusters' helpers since they could never become adjusters since the contract prohibits crossing seniority lines.

The issue, the company said, is not the placing of eliminated men on new jobs, but rather the selection for new jobs of men whose old jobs were most similar to the new on

Jaffee declared the evidence "clearly establishes that, as between Department 2 and Department 8, the operations of the latter department are more nearly similar to the Fast Ripening Process and denied the union's demand in the dispute.

"Vacations" Award

In the "Vacations" award, also in favor of the company, Jaffee said:

The word "Furloughs" in Section 8 (d) of the contract between the parties, made as of June 26, 1947, must be interpreted to include leave of absence."

The union, the statement of issue pointed out, claimed that an employe absent because of leave of absence in excess of nine months during the 12 months preceding May 1 is not disqualified under paragraph (d).

The union contention was that the paragraph "does not apply to employes . . . absent . . . for any other reason than on furlough" and such employes are therefore eligible for a percentage of wage earned during the period.

More specifically, the union claimed that employes absent because of leave of absence in excess of nine months during the 12 months preceding May 1 is not disqualified under paragraph (d).

The company, on the other hand, contended the meaning and intention of that paragraph, when considered along with all other provisions of the section and past practice in the plant plainly showed that employes on leave are included in the classifications of the paragraph and are not entitled to such vacation benefits.

The issue, Jaffee said, is this: Does the first word of paragraph (d) include those on leave of absence? The union says no; the Company says yes.

Examines Records

Jaffee said an examination of records of meetings of the company and union show the parties did not in Section 8 (d) intend to restrict the word furlough to the narrower concept here contended for. The minutes make evident, he said, that for vacation purposes, furlough includes leave of absence.

The broader interpretation, he added, has from the beginning been applied by the company without any objection from the union

Bedford Fair's 75th Anniversary Exhibition Gets Started Monday

BEDFORD, Pa.—In one of the state's most ideal settings for an outdoor spectacle, the grounds of the Bedford Fair today were taking on the semblance of a vast stage for the week-long show which will comprise the Bedford Fair Association's 75th anniversary exhibition, starting Monday.

Against the picturesque background of Wills Mountain, the acres of the fair site were beginning to fill with the first arrivals of men, women and equipment which will form the "players" and the "props" for the exciting and colorful Diamond Jubilee to extend through Saturday, August 14.

Exhibits of farm machinery were being set up well in advance of the opening day; space was being cleared and arranged in the exhibition buildings; booths were under construction, and concessionaires already were on hand to supervise the erection of their stands in the Midway area and throughout the rest of the grounds.

The horse barns were filling rapidly with animals comprising both entries for the horse show to be held on Tuesday and pacers and trotters which will vie in the Central Circuit harness racing events on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons.

Three contingents which were expected to join the vanguard over the weekend—they will be among the earliest to begin operations — are the forces of the Endy Brothers show and carnival, which will be the Midway attraction; the driving daredevils of the Joie Chitwood Auto Thrill Show, who will also perform for Life magazine cameras Monday night, and the cast of the big musical revue, "Grandstand Follies of 1948," whose performances begin Tuesday evening.

More Cresaptown Families Endorse Plan For Civic Improvement Group

A total of 261 families in the Cresaptown area has paid a membership fee in the Cresaptown Improvement Association, and another meeting to further the program is scheduled for August 19, officers of the Association said last night.

The group was formed Thursday night, with a second meeting held yesterday morning for those unable to attend the night session. More than 400 persons, representing 217 families, attended the night meeting and about 100 representing an additional 44 families were present yesterday.

The organization, formed as a means of obtaining a better water supply for the community and eventually working toward other civic improvements, will consider the type of organization best suited to accomplish the desired purpose.

In recent weeks, residents declare their present water supply had dwindled "to a mere trickle of water so muddy it is not even fit for bathing."

Spokesmen for the townspeople explain the community has been supplied by a privately owned water system for years, but the town and adjacent area has grown so rapidly the source is no longer adequate. Officials of the water company say they are taking steps to remedy the situation, and have been quite frank about the condition. They recommended sometime ago that residents using the water boil it for thier own protection, despite the fact that it is heavily chlorinated.

Cresaptown has in the past made an effort to incorporate or to form some kind of workable improvement group, but factional feuds and disputes have developed with nothing constructive accomplished, it was reported. At both meetings this

Say Pageant Criticism Result Of Hasty Action

The Board of Directors of the Frostburg Junior Association of Commerce met last night and issued a statement apologizing for what they term "hasty" action in their criticism of the Miss Maryland Beauty Pageant and individuals connected with it.

Their complete statement follows:

"In connection with the previously published statement regarding the Miss Maryland Pageant held in Cumberland August 2, it was considered by the Board of Directors of the Frostburg Junior Chamber of Commerce at a meeting Friday night, August 6, advisable to make the following statement:

"Our only purpose in our original statement concerning the Beauty Pageant was a result of comments received to make a statement as to how we felt about the show. Since the published statements, it has been learned that there have been errors by both parties, some serious. We are sorry for ours, which were largely a result of haste, and-or the lack of complete information. Nevertheless we feel there were irregularities.

Didn't Seek Second Contest

"Concerning the statement about contesting the pageant to be held a second time was misleading, because we as a group never had any such intention, nor is it true that we have said that we would not participate in any further contests IF HELD IN CUMBERLAND.

"Because of the aforementioned reasons we are not only sorry but apologize for our errors, which are known by either party or person to be untrue, and we wish to retract the statements concerning Mr. and Mrs. Jack F. Moore as being relatives of one of the judges and the words used to express same; and that Miss Cumberland had dinner with one of the judges.

"We are sorry for these errors and certainly did not wish to cause any disrespect for any of the contestants because we feel that they are all fine, upright girls and come from good homes. The sad part about such controversies is that there are adways innocent victims involved and this is no exception. Furthermore it was not said that Miss Cumberland received alcoholics at the party; nor any other contestant.

Individual Not Responsible

"Remember too, this and the previous statement were endorsed by the Frostburg Jaycees as a group and no one individual is responsible for the statements. Therefore, if it is felt, that any statements can be proven erroneous, the persons concerned may appear before our Jaycees and our apology will be given at the time of appearance, if we are in error."

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Aug. 6 (AP)—Fred Thompson, director of the Miss Hagertsown beauty pageant, said today the Hagerstown Junior Chamber of Commerce will not protest awarding of the "Miss Maryland" title to Jaunita Lookabaugh of Cumberland.

The state elimination was staged in Cumberland and sponsors from several other communities, notably Frostburg, protested that the contest was unfair:

Thompson said:

"It is true that some contestants were favored during rehearsals and some national rules were violated, but it would not be fair to take the title away because of the errors."

Lewis Gets 30 Days In Petty Larceny Case

Bond Set At $1,500 On Other Charges

Thomas Lewis, 23, formerly of 219 Carroll Street, was sentenced yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court by Magistrate Frank A. Perdew to 30 days in County Jail for petty larceny.

Lewis is also being held under $1,500 bond on two counts for action of the October term of Grand Jury.

Lewis entered a plea of guilty to the larceny charge, admitting that on June 26 he had taken the purse of Mrs. Laura Crissinger, Sand Patch, Pa., from a chair in the Garibaldi Club, rear of 10 Baltimore Street. The purse contained $4, Mrs. Crissinger charged.

The youth was apprehended in Baltimore Tuesday on the larceny charge, and when returned to this city was questioned by Detectives Thomas J. See and Ernest M. Powell.

The officers said Lewis admitted breaking and entering the home of Mrs. Arthur W. West, 507 Baltimore Avenue, on the night of July 24, and stealing about $20 from a purse belonging to Miss Lida M. Henton, a visitor.

Police said he admitted that earlier the same night he jumped on the running board of a truck operated by Oscar Ault, Star Route 2, Everett, Pa. However, he had denied threatening Ault, or attempting to rob him.

Lewis was charged with breaking and entering in the former case, and bond was set at $1,000. In the other case, he was charged with assault with intent to rob, and bond was set at $500.

Magistrate Perdew fixed bond after Lewis waived preliminary hearing on both counts. Lewis was represented by Earl E. Manges, and Assistant State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher was prosecutor.

Hit-Run Driver Hits Keyser Child

West Virginia State Police last night were searching for the driver of a truck which struck and ran over a five-year-old Keyser, W. Va., boy yesterday afternoon.

The boy, Richard Miller, son of Mrs. Edna V. Miller, Chestnut Street, Extended, was found lying on Newton Street, South Keyser, near his home, and was rushed to Potomac Valley Hospital by his mother.

He was admitted to the hospital for abdominal injuries and possible chest injuries. His condition late last night was reported as "good."

Hospital attaches expressed the belief that the truck passed over Richard's body, and that it was a very large truck. They based their opinion on marks on his body, they said.

State Police said the driver may not have known he had struck the boy, as Newton Street is roughly-paved and the driver may not have noticed any bump on striking the boy.

No eye-witnesses to the accident could be found last night, as the street was almost deserted at the time of the mishap.

Naval Reservists Return From Cruise

Six Naval Reservists returned recently from a two-week training cruise to Bermuda on the USS Fresno, Cmdr. E. R. Edwards, commander of the local division announced. They are:

Thomas E. Brodie, seaman advanced, Midland; Charles D. Bujac, seaman advanced, 232 Cecelia Street, Cumberland; William D. Corrick, quartermaster, 39 Oak Street, this city; George A. Herring, seaman recruit, Frostburg; Donald Sensabaugh, seaman advanced, 708 Brookfield Avenue, this city, and William D. Yates, seaman recruit, Frostburg.

Two Building Permits Are Granted Here

William Simpson, 449 Willow Brook Road, yesterday was granted a permit to construct a one-room addition to the rear of his home. The addition is to be eight by 10 feet, and will be of frame with a concrete block foundation and composition roof.

Work will be done by the owner at an estimated cost of $100.

Oney K. Otto received a permit Thursday to construct an open porch at his residence, 1018 Kent Avenue. The structure is to be eight by 14 feet, and will be constructed of concrete, with composition shingles.

Work will be done by the owner at an estimated cost of $100.

Three Area Men Enlist In Navy

Three area men have been accepted for duty with the United States Navy, Edgar L. Schrader, recruiter in charge, has announced.

Joseph E. Ressig, 18, 815 Shawnee Avenue, Cumberland, has gone to Great Lakes Naval Training Base, Ill., under the one-year plan.

Enlisting for three years were Thomas F. Footen, Frostburg, seaman recruit, and Henry E. Gardner, Jr., Route 6, this city, electrician's mate, fireman recruit. Both will go to Great Lakes.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Ringer, Kitzmiller, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Miller, 522 Eastern Avenue, a son.

Paper Pact May Be Reached Today

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6 (AP) — Company and union spokesmen said today agreement might be reached tomorrow on a new contract between the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company and its employees in three plants in Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania.

An official of the United Paper Workers of America, CIO, told a reporter he expected negotiations tomorrow to produce a tentative agreement.

Any agreement, he added, still would have to be approved by the workers, themselves.

A company spokesman also was optimistic. He declined to be quoted by name but predicted the conference so far indicated agreement.

The present contract covers approximately 4,000 employees in plants at Covington, Va., Williamsburg, Pa., and Luke, Md. It expires August 20.

Spokesman for the company is Raymond Crush, assistant mill manager at Covington. Representing the union are Harry E. Scott and Charles Bridgewater, area directors of the union; and the three union local presidents: Temple Kessinger, of Covington; Wayne Ritchie, of Luke; and Kenneth Fry, of Williamsburg.

Macaroni Meeting May Be Held Next Week

An official of the Cumberland Macaroni Company said yesterday there have been no significant developments in contract negotiations with Local 1132, United Macaroni Workers of America, CIO, this week.

The union's 30-day strike notice will expire today.

A company official said he believed a meeting would be arranged between the company and union next week and said James A. Holden, federal conciliator, may attend the session.

The 35 workers have rejected a company offer of five cents an hour increase and an additional holiday. Negotiations began on the basis of a 30 cent boost and three more paid holidays.

The union last night voted to continue work during negotiations.

Ridgeley Legion's Bleachers Completed

Knobley Mountain Post No. 136, American Legion, Ridgeley, reported last night that bleachers constructed for the Legion baseball team on Carpenter Field will be ready for use Sunday when the Legion team meets the local Moose team.

Cmdr. Karl G. Brant announced that Frank Carpenter, owner of the lot, donated the services of five workmen to aid in constructing the bleachers, which will seat about 250 persons.

The newly-formed Ladies Auxiliary, which now has a membership of 35, will operate the refreshment booth at all games. Mrs. Homer Borror is chairman of the refreshment committee.

Service Officers Assist Veterans

Benefits totaling $33,593.12 were granted to Maryland veterans and their dependents during July with the assistance of the Maryland Veterans Commission, Thomas F. Conlon, local service officer, reported yesterday.

Back pay totaling $10,303.32 was secured, including $248 for Spanish-American War veterans, $3,367.16 for World War I and $6,688.16 for World War II veterans.

Pensions totaled $16,228.80, with $1,152 going to Spanish-American, $7,200 for World War I and $7,876.80 for World War II veterans and their dependents.

Burial allowances totaled $900 and insurance $6,161.

Other work included 56 pension claims filed, 183 powers of attorney, 88 hospital and domicilary care, 253 affidavits and notary public 253, appeals and reviews 91, housing 101 and contacts 4,239.

Lt. Cmdr. Balch is also inspecting the Naval Reserve Electronic installations in Frostburg and Keyser, W. Va.

Units From Three States March In Firemen's Parade At LaVale

'Miss Maryland' Leads Anniversary Display

The largest street parade ever held in LaVale was sponsored last night by the LaVale Volunteer Fire Company on the occasion of their anniversary week celebration.

Led by Miss Juanita Lookabaugh, "Miss Maryland of 1948," who lives at Narrows Park, a part of the LaVale area, the marchers moved along U. S. Route 40 to the applause and cheers of several thousand spectators.

Immediately behind the convertible automobile in which Miss Lookabaugh rode with her chaperone, came the Grantsville Band, followed by the Grantsville Fire Company. The parade color guard, which headed the procession was composed of members of the LaVale Fire Company.

Corriganville Fire Company; Wiley Ford Fire Company; Arion Band, Frostburg; Frostburg Fire Company; Bowman's Addition Fire Company; Mt. Savage Fire Company; Barton Community Band, Fire Company and Auxiliary; Flintstone Fire Company; Meyersdale, Pa., Loyal Order of Moose; Vigilent Reel and Hose Company, and Auxiliary of Keyser, W. Va.; Bowling Green Fire Company; Farrady Post No. 24, American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps, Frostburg.

Midland Fire Company; Cresaptown Fire Company and Auxiliary; Borden Shaft Fire Company; Henry Hart Post No. 1411, Veterans of Foreign Wars Drum and Bugle Corps, this city; Fort Ashby Fire Company; Ridgeley, W. Va. Fire Company; Fulton Meyers American Legion Drum Corps; Ellerslie Fire Company; Bedford Road Fire Company; Westernport Fire Company; and Tri-Towns Firemen of Piedmont, W. Va.

Games and contests followed the festivity last night, and the celebration will end tonight with a final festival and public dance at LaVale Fire Hall.

Navy Fleet Reservists Needed As Instructors

Members of the Navy Fleet Reserve are asked to offer their services as voluntary instructors for organized and volunteer units in Reserve Training, Lt. Cmdr. C. B. Gray, officer-in-charge of the local center has announced.

He added that many Fleet Reservists in the Cumberland area are qualified for teaching in the local center. Anyone wishing more information may call at the Naval Reserve Office in the Postoffice building.

Radio Club Will Hold Corn Roast

The Mountain Radio Club will hold a corn roast at Constitution Park Friday, August 13, at 7:30 p. m.

The club, composed of amateur radio fans of the Cumberland area, said the meeting will be a family outing and that no regular business will be transacted.

Elks And Eagles Will Hold Annual Picnics Sunday

Both Will Meet Rain Or Shine

Two local lodges will hold their annual picnics Sunday rain or shine. Cumberland Lodge No. 63, B.P.O. Elks, and Aerie No. 245, Fraternal Order of Eagles, have planned horseshoe, running and softball contests for their members.

Under the sponsorship of the worthy board of trustees, Francis H. Schultz, chairman, the Eagles will go to Fairgo at 10 a. m. Three chartered buses will leave Cumberland every hour from 10 until 5 p. m. They will return every half hour from 10:30 until 6 p. m.

Any of the 3,700 members of Aerie 245 may attend the 46th annual picnic provided they show a paid-up dues receipt. The entertainment committee headed by William Appold, chairman, and William T. Damm and William Schupfer, co-chairmen, will have charge of the program which includes refreshments from 10 a. m. on, and an attendance prize.

There will be a recess from 2 until 3:30 p. m., the hours during which the funeral of the late James W. Wilson, 527 Henderson Avenue, who died Thursday, a member of Aerie 245, will be held.

The Elks will meet at noon at Smouse's Beach on Christie Road. The committee, headed by Harry S. Tracy, assisted by John J. Blough, Alvin Bergeron, Roy Whiteman and Clifton Hafer, has planned a softball game with the Frostburg Elks. Boxing matches also have been scheduled.

Prizes will be awarded to the winners of the various games and refreshments will be served all day.

In case of rain, the Elks outing will be moved to the clubrooms and the Eagles will take cover in the Fairgo grandstand.

Viscose Workers Accept Proposal

FRONT ROYAL, Va., Aug. 6 (AP)—Textile union workers at the Front Royal plant of the American Viscose Corporation have voted almost unanimously to accept wage and contract proposals made by the company, a union spokesman revealed tonight.

Members of Local 371, Textile Workers Union of America, voted tonight on the proposal, which calls for a 15-cent across-the-board increase, retroactive to June 27, 1948.

Some 1,100 workers attended tonight's meeting, which was addressed by C. E. Leadman, business manager of the Front Royal plant.

Union employes at the Viscose Corporation plant at Roanoke, Va., were still voting on the company offer tonight. Union officials said the voting was going on in shifts and no result would be known until tomorrow.

State 4-H All Stars Take 5 Of This Area

Five area leaders in 4-H Club work were initiated last night at College Park into the Maryland Chapter of the 4-H All Stars.

Forty-nine 4-H boys and girls were taken into the group which is composed of those who have exceptional records in club work and who have excelled in "leadership, character and service."

From Allegany County were Regina Ferguson, William Heavener, Rose Wilison and Floyd Ryan. Mary Naylor, Garrett County, was also an initiate.

Textile Workers Predict Victory In Security Poll

Over 90 Per Cent Voted, Union Says

Union officials here last night jubilantly predicted that Celanese Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, won an "overwhelming victory" in the union security election held here this week and estimated over 90 per cent of eligible voters cast ballots in the election.

The union officials, in predicting that more than 90 per cent of the eligible voters had cast ballots when the polls closed last night at 11:30 o'clock, pointed out that the figure was gained through unofficial observations.

The officials, however, predicted that the count will show an overwhelming victory for Local 1874.

Over 8,000 Eligible

Some 8,044 hourly rated workers at the Amcelle plant here were eligible to vote yes or no on the question, "Do you wish to authorize the union which is your present bargaining representative to enter into an agreement with your employer which requires membership in such union as a condition of continued employment."

If the union secures more than 51 per cent of the eligible vote, it will have the right under the Taft-Hartley Law to negotiate for a maintenance of membership clause in its new contract or for a union shop.

The local has had maintenance of membership at the plant for a number of years and has requested a union shop clause in current contract demands, the union said.

To Count Ballots

The National Labor Relations Board crew headed by Miss Marie A. Pierce, NLRB field representative, was slated to begin counting ballots as soon as the polls closed. They will continue until returns are complete.

The Celanese Corporation of America had asked the NLRB to rule on the legality of such an election in Maryland but the company request for a ruling prior to the election was denied without prejudice.

James A. Blackwell, TWUA representative, said more than 500 similar elections have been held by the Fifth Region of the NLRB and that the Celanese firm is the first to question the legality of holding such an election in Maryland.

Pittsburgh Couple Injured In Crash

A Pittsburgh motorist and his wife were admitted yesterday to Allegany Hospital for injuries sustained when their car left Route 40 in front of the LaVale barracks of the State Police at about 1:50 p. m. and struck a power pole.

Hospital attaches reported that Edward Leindecker, 65, was admitted in a semi-conscious condition and was suffering from a deep laceration of the nose. Other injuries had not been determined, pending X-rays.

Leindecker's wife, Mrs. Mary Leindecker, 24, sustained lacerations of the chin and forehead and an abrasion of the left knee. She was admitted for X-rays.

State Police said the occupants of the car apparently fell asleep. The car crossed the highway, left the road, and struck the pole, breaking it off and knocking a transformer to the ground. The LaVale area was without power for four hours.

Police described the car as being beyond repair.

Trooper Thomas Barton investigated. Police said no charges have been preferred pending completion of the investigation.

The Weather

Thursday night's low of 50 rose to 76 yesterday making it possible to go without coats again. There was no rain and the thermometer read 64 late last night. The weatherman says that today should be fair and a little warmer.

Jaffee Upholds Celanese Stand On Two Cases

Union Modifies Demand At Hearing

The Celanese Corporation of America's position in disputes concerning the "fast ripening process" and the inclusion of leaves of absence in the section of the contract covering vacations has been upheld in arbitration awards handed down Thursday by Samuel H. Jaffee, Washington, D. C.

The "fast ripening process" case arose from technological changes in the Cellulose Acetate department which eliminated many operations previously used.

C. A. laboratory assistants were used to perform all work in the process known as the second floor operation in Department 6, eliminating the older process of stabilizing as used in Department 2.

The union contested the action of the Celanese firm in using these men to do work other than laboratory work, contending the work should be done by men from Department 2.

Modifies Demand

At the hearing, the union in effect modified its demand by claiming only that certain adjusters' helpers' jobs in the new department 6 should be filled from men from Department 2.

Jaffee pointed out that in the present dispute the company and union were relying on Paragraph 3 of a July 20, 1946, agreement concerning the effect of technological changes on employes, but said both differed on the application of the second sentence of that paragraph.

The union contended the function of the new process was the same as or similar in the full process as operations previously performed in Department 2 and that that department is entitled to at least the helpers' jobs.

The union further said it was "strictly a question of giving job rights to people whose jobs are being taken over whether or not they are identical or similar jobs."

Upholds Company

The company's position was that the function of the new process is the same or similar to the function of the old Department 8 and thus that disputed helpers' jobs were properly assigned to employes in that department.

The firm also said the efficiency of the process would be improved by placing Department 8 employes on the job due to experience, whereas Department 2 men would have to be trained and that it was impractical to select men from Department 2 as adjusters' helpers since they could never become adjusters since the contract prohibits crossing seniority lines.

The issue, the company said, is not the placing of eliminated men on new jobs, but rather the selection for new jobs of men whose old jobs were most similar to the new one.

Jaffee declared the evidence "clearly establishes that, as between Department 2 and Department 8, the operations of the latter department are more nearly similar to the Fast Ripening Process and denied the union's demand in the dispute.

"Vacations" Award

In the "Vacations" award, also in favor of the company, Jaffee said:

The word "Furloughs" in Section 8 (d) of the contract between the parties, made as of June 26, 1947, must be interpreted to include leave of absence."

The union, the statement of issue pointed out, claimed that an employe absent because of leave of absence in excess of nine months during the 12 months preceding May 1 is not disqualified under paragraph (d).

The union contention was that the paragraph "does not apply to employes . . . absent . . . for any other reason than on furlough" and such employes are therefore eligible for a percentage of wage earned during the period.

More specifically, the union claimed that employes absent because of leave of absence in excess of nine months during the 12 months preceding May 1 is not disqualified under paragraph (d).

The company, on the other hand, contended the meaning and intention of that paragraph, when considered along with all other provisions of the section and past practice in the plant plainly showed that employes on leave are included in the classifications of the paragraph and are not entitled to such vacation benefits.

The issue, Jaffee said, is this: Does the first word of paragraph (d) include those on leave of absence? The union says no; the Company says yes.

Examines Records

Jaffee said an examination of records of meetings of the company and union show the parties did not in Section 8 (d) intend to restrict the word furlough to the narrower concept here contended for. The minutes make evident, he said, that for vacation purposes, furlough includes leave of absence.

The broader interpretation, he added, has from the beginning been applied by the company without any objection from the union

Bedford Fair's 75th Anniversary Exhibition Gets Started Monday

BEDFORD, Pa.—In one of the state's most ideal settings for an outdoor spectacle, the grounds of the Bedford Fair today were taking on the semblance of a vast stage for the week-long show which will comprise the Bedford Fair Association's 75th anniversary exhibition, starting Monday.

Against the picturesque background of Wills Mountain, the acres of the fair site were beginning to fill with the first arrivals of men, women and equipment which will form the "players" and the "props" for the exciting and colorful Diamond Jubilee to extend through Saturday, August 14.

Exhibits of farm machinery were being set up well in advance of the opening day; space was being cleared and arranged in the exhibition buildings; booths were under construction, and concessionaires already were on hand to supervise the erection of their stands in the Midway area and throughout the rest of the grounds.

The horse barns were filling rapidly with animals comprising both entries for the horse show to be held on Tuesday and pacers and trotters which will vie in the Central Circuit harness racing events on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons.

Three contingents which were expected to join the vanguard over the weekend—they will be among the earliest to begin operations — are the forces of the Endy Brothers show and carnival, which will be the Midway attraction; the driving daredevils of the Joie Chitwood Auto Thrill Show, who will also perform for Life magazine cameras Monday night, and the cast of the big musical revue, "Grandstand Follies of 1948," whose performances begin Tuesday evening.

SMASHUP SCENE-- State Police Clerk Glenn Rizer (left) is shown inspecting the car of Edward Leindecker, 65, Pittsburgh, which struck a utility pole in front of the State Police barracks at LaVale, breaking the pole and knocking a transformer to the ground. Both occupants of the car were admitted to Allegany Hospital for treatment of injuries sustained in the accident. Police described the car as being beyond repair.

More Cresaptown Families Endorse Plan For Civic Improvement Group

A total of 261 families in the Cresaptown area has paid a membership fee in the Cresaptown Improvement Association, and another meeting to further the program is scheduled for August 19, officers of the Association said last night.

The group was formed Thursday night, with a second meeting held yesterday morning for those unable to attend the night session. More than 400 persons, representing 217 families, attended the night meeting and about 100 representing an additional 44 families were present yesterday.

The organization, formed as a means of obtaining a better water supply for the community and eventually working toward other civic improvements, will consider the type of organization best suited to accomplish the desired purpose.

In recent weeks, residents declare their present water supply had dwindled "to a mere trickle of water so muddy it is not even fit for bathing."

Spokesmen for the townspeople explain the community has been supplied by a privately owned water system for years, but the town and adjacent area has grown so rapidly the source is no longer adequate. Officials of the water company say they are taking steps to remedy the situation, and have been quite frank about the condition. They recommended sometime ago that residents using the water boil it for thier own protection, despite the fact that it is heavily chlorinated.

Cresaptown has in the past made an effort to incorporate or to form some kind of workable improvement group, but factional feuds and disputes have developed with nothing constructive accomplished, it was reported. At both meetings this
